Miss Pauline Wanda Booth Is Bride of Fred Bennett

Miss Pauline Wanda Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Booth, 910 Grant avenue, Medford, became the bride of Fred Lee Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett, 820 Marshall avenue, Medford, in a ceremony held Friday, February 8, in the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. D. Kirkland West officiated at the double ring eight o'clock evening service, attended by 125 friends and relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace and tulle floor length gown styled with fitted bodice, long sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her veil fell from a headband made of lace and she wore a double strand of pearls and diamond earrings that were borrowed from her mother. She carried a white orchid encircled by a white hyacinth blossoms on a white Bible.

Mrs. James D. Armstrong attended her sister. She wore a ballerina length dress of pink tulle and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Miss Verna Mae Dudley was bridesmaid and wore a dress of blue lace with ballerina length blue net skirt over blue tulle. Her bouquet was of pink carnations. Three-year-old Billie Sue Felker was flower girl and was dressed as a miniature bride. Her flowers were also pink carnations. Ring bearer was Jerry Rasmussen.

Henry Robinson served as best man and Ivan Bryant was groomsmen. Charles Bennett Jr., brother of the bridegroom, and Charles Heavilin seated the guests.

The church was decorated with white stock, pink gladioli and white candles. Flower arrangements were by Mrs. J. A. Barrett, grandmother of the bride, made all of the gowns worn by members of the wedding party.

Miss Theresa Rasmussen and Dick Melum were soloists and Mrs. H. E. Marsh played the traditional organ wedding music.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Pioneer room of the Jackson hotel. Mrs. R. L. Janzen, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake assisted by Mrs. James Armstrong. Miss Verna Mae Dudley and Miss Naomi Durham poured the punch. Miss Demeris Glutch was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Booth wore a blue dress with white accessories and corsage of white carnations and hyacinth blossoms. Mrs. Bennett chose a cocoa brown wool dress with dark brown and gold accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations and hyacinth blossoms.

The bride wore a pink knit suit with white trim and the

Ceremony In Kentucky Weds Pair

Miss Carol Louise Williams became the bride of William Owen Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie O. Walker, 2241 Jacksonville highway, Medford, in a ceremony held in the Crestwood Methodist church, Crestwood, Ky., Friday, January 25.

The Rev. Phillip A. McAfee, pastor of the Crestwood church, and the Rev. William H. Poore, pastor of the Park Methodist church, Lexington, Ky., officiated at the double ring four o'clock afternoon wedding.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest B. Williams, Crestwood.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown styled with fitted bodice and flared skirt. The neckline was accented with velvet, net and pearls. Her fingertip length veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and feathered carnations.

Miss Rhoda Anne Gillispie, Corbin, Ky., was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss JoAnn Goodwin, Owensboro, Ky., with Mrs. Ernie Smith and Mrs. Robert Veerch as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of gold brocade satin and carried yellow roses with iris.

Donald Bossart, Latrobe, Penn., served as best man while Donald Mays, Henderson, Ky., Brian Smith, Crestwood, and Leslie McKown, Evansville, Ind., seated the guests.

The church was decorated with palms, white gladioli and lighted candles. Mrs. C. Melvin Boone, an aunt of the bride from New Jersey, was soloist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the 150 guests in the education building of the church. After the reception a dinner was held at the church for the families of the couple.

After a wedding trip to points in Kentucky, the newlyweds will make their home at 238 Saratoga, Providence, R.I.

The bride is a graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan college and Boston School of Theology. She has been on the staff of the Asbury Methodist church in Providence as director of religious education. Mr. Walker was graduated from Medford High school and the University of Oregon and is now a senior at the Boston School of Theology.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker traveled east to attend their son's wedding.

Methodist Church Scene Of Cave Junction Wedding

Cave Junction—A candlelight ceremony at Immanuel Methodist church, Cave Junction, wedded Miss Anna LaVerne Greenough and Chester Junior Gilliam Sunday at 2 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell E. Greenough, Seneca, Ore., and Mrs. Nettie Sowell of Cave Junction is the mother of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Robert Kingsbury read the double-ring ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Ferns and flowers decorated the church walls, while bouquets of carnations and white stock arranged with candelabra holding tapers formed the setting for the bridal party. These flowers also decorated the reception room.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace in front with fitted bodice. Her fingertip length veil was caught with a tiara of flowers and she carried a white prayer book, topped with a white orchid.

Caolyn DeMersman, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was maid-of-honor. She wore a pink dotted nylon afternoon frock with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Raymond Jones, wore a white eyelet embroidered gown with pink accessories and pink corsage.

Little Sandy Lee Sowell, flower girl, wore a lavender bouffant dress with lavender lace tiara. Jackie Allen and Jerry Lee Freitas were ring-bearers. All three are cousins of the bridegroom. Candlelighters were Max and Jerry Greenough, brothers of the bride.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was O. C. Bryant, Cave Junction, and Raymond Jones was usher.

Soloist for the wedding was Mrs. Phillip Clarke Jr., accompanied by Mrs. M. C. Beem.

Mrs. Greenough chose a tailored green dress for her daughter's wedding, and her corsage was white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit with a white carnation corsage.

More than 100 friends and relatives attended the reception which followed in the church. The newlyweds cut the wedding cake, and assisting at the serving table were Mrs. Walter Colpitts and Miss Bertha Champney. Miss Roxalie Winchester took charge of the guest book and the gift table.

The bride wore a white dress with white accessories and orchid corsage for traveling. After a short wedding trip the bridegroom, a metalsmith third class in the United States Navy, will leave for Norfolk, Va., where he boards a ship going around the Horn. Mrs. Gilliam will continue her work at the Valley Drug store until her husband's ship reaches Bremerton, Wash., where she will join him.

Prayer Day Planned By Women

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of Medford Council of Church Women, plans for the annual World Day of Prayer, slated for March 8, in the Church of the Nazarene sanctuary, were discussed and the program outlined. Mrs. William Ricken, of the Salvation Army corps, will be the leader for the afternoon. Mrs. Ricken was received into membership in the executive group replacing Mrs. George Johnstone who, with her family, is now serving the Spokane district for the Salvation Army.

The theme for this year's Day of Prayer is "Who shall separate us" and the service of worship was arranged by Mrs. Bela Vaszady of Hungary. Services each year are arranged by women of one of the countries which annually observe World Day of Prayer. At present there are 143 countries participating in the services for that day.

Spelker for the afternoon will be Brigadier James Fooko, of the Portland Salvation Army. Several ministers of the valley will assist during devotional periods and a choir, under the direction of Mrs. Joe Johnson, will lead in congregational singing. Choir members will be composed of women from the several churches of the city.

Mrs. Robert Daines who arranges a TV program each year, states that she plans to present a junior choir and other features on the day preceding the World Day of Prayer. This program is to be presented during the Ore-Cal Panorama hour on March 7.

Members of the Council taking part at the observance at the Nazarene church will include Mrs. Ricken, Mrs. Glenn Morrison, Mrs. George Moore and Mrs. Jessie Minear. Women of the Nazarene church will act as ushers.

During the period of business Mrs. James Morrow, president, announced that Mrs. W. Herman is the new head of the nominating committee to work with Mrs. Arthur G. McMillin, Mrs. Jessie Minear and Mrs. Wayne Troxell.

Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. Ricken were chosen to arrange for a display in one of the store windows depicting a family at prayer, to further emphasize World Day of Prayer observances around the world.

The annual day of chain prayer will again be held in the small chapel of the Episcopal church and further announcement for that March 7 observance will be given soon.
