

Three students in the cast of "Mrs. McThing," senior class play to be presented tonight and tomorrow night in Medford Senior High school auditorium, are shown here in an exciting scene. Discussing the "kidnapping" of Howay are Bob Bright, who plays the role of Nelson, Linda Robertson, cast as Sybil, and Charlotte Jensen, who plays Carrie. Curtain time both nights is 8:15 p.m., and tickets may be obtained at box office.

Cast Dedicates Senior Play to Robert Stedman

An extraordinary feature of this year's senior play is the dedication of the production to Robert Stedman, dramatics instructor of Medford High school who has been ill for several months. This feature is serving as a double incentive for the cast to make this the best senior play ever given, it is stated.

Mr. Stedman was taken to Rogue Valley hospital November 31. After two operations, one minor and one major, he was recently taken to a veteran's hospital in Portland where he is able to receive more attention.

Mrs. Lenore Zapell has taken over Mr. Stedman's classes and is directing the play. She is a homemaker teacher with a family of five children. Mrs. Zapell has appeared in many "Footlighter" plays, and is well known in the valley for her dramatic ability.

Hairdressers plan to take some of the bulk from the bouffante hairdos come spring. The National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association has decided that coiffures should be shorter and subdued. The association will promote the new "beautifantise" which is said to be more practical and wearable than its puffy predecessor.

Troop and Posse Members Attend Klamath Session

Miss Montana Emerson, captain of the Ladies Mounted troop, and Mrs. Mary H. Brown, a past captain, returned home Sunday evening after spending the week end in Klamath Falls. They made the trip to attend activities in connection with an annual winter meeting of the Oregon State Association of Mounted Possees. They also visited friends.

Events for the women included a breakfast, tea and banquet. Bill Jones, Vancouver, Wash., editor of the Lariat magazine, was master of ceremonies.

There to attend the business session and represent the Jackson County Mounted Sheriff's posse were Glenn Martin, captain, and John Heckert, secretary.

Miss Emerson and Mrs. Brown were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a troop member, is the former Miss Patricia Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson, Ashland.

Trail Riders

Medford Trail Riders have planned a potluck dinner and dance for Saturday, February 16, at Bigham hall. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. for members and guests.

Camp Fire Board Plans Square Dances; Change Schedule

Reports were given and coming events planned at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of Rogue council, Camp Fire Girls, held at the home of the council president, Mrs. Frank Christian.

Mrs. Wesley Baker presented the candy sale committee's report for Mrs. Elmo Stevenson, area program chairman. Distribution of sale profits to groups and council, awards and general problems arising from sales were discussed at an earlier meeting. Standards for the entire council were set up. The board voted to accept the recommendations presented and the committee of awards from all districts will follow through with final action on individual awards. The annual candy sale will be held April 3 through 18.

Plans for attending a Southern Oregon Horizon club conference in Klamath Falls March 30 were made. About 20 Horizon girls and adults will attend from the Rogue council. Conference will be conducted by the 5 Horizon clubs in Klamath Falls. Theme will be "Career Day." Morning sessions on selected careers, a luncheon and an afternoon program will complete the day. Anyone wishing to attend is to contact the Camp Fire Office by March 7.

A regional conference will be held in Walla Walla April 4-9 for regional representatives, volunteers and professionals. Plans for attendance are being completed by the council.

Mrs. Jack Suksdorf, area training chairman, reported on the recent committee meeting. An all district leaders and sponsors cafeteria workshop will be held Monday night, March 18, in room B at the Medford YMCA. This will be for both Blue Bird leaders and Camp Fire Guardians, new and experienced and also prospective leaders.

Henry Enders, chairman of the camping committee reported on the progress of the camp site committee. Several trips are being planned by the members in the spring. Mr. Enders was recently named "senior citizen" of Ashland for his many community interests in the past years.

Insurance coverage for leaders and registered members was discussed by Mrs. Merle McGraw, vice-president of the council. Ken Jones was appointed to gather more material on this subject for the next board meeting.

Two Clubs Plan Square Dances; Change Schedule

Two parties for square dances have been announced for this week end.

Waggin Wheelers Square Dance club announces that it has changed the schedule of dances to the first and third Saturdays of each month. A dance will be held Saturday, February 16, at Art Smith's barn on Griffin Creek road beginning at 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend and potluck refreshments will be served.

A public square dance will be held Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Roxy Ann Grange hall on Spring street. Gordon Kershaw and Kenneth Howe will call the squares. Potluck refreshments will be served.

Sams Valley Unit Changes Meeting

Sams Valley Extension unit will meet one day early this month. The meeting will be Monday, February 18, instead of Tuesday. This is for February only as some of the women are assisting with the polio shots, or have children receiving them on the usual meeting day.

The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Gladys Bigham, and the subject for the day is "Buying and Using Foam Rubber." Luncheon will be served at noon, and women are to take table service.

All women of Sams Valley, Beagle and surrounding communities are invited to attend these meetings.

Mrs. Bill Warren was appointed day camp chairman and will also handle publicity for the Ashland and Talent districts. Mrs. O. C. Barrett was appointed to the Talent committee of awards. Mrs. P. H. Newcomb, Talent; Mrs. James Dawson, Ashland; and Mrs. Rufus Younger, Medford, were appointed to the training committee.

Job descriptions were issued to all area chairmen by Mrs. Ruth Gerety, executive director. Mrs. Cleo Vanderburgh, council treasurer, gave the finance report.

Next board meeting will be held in Medford March 11 at the home of Mrs. J. P. Rowan, area group organizational chairman.

Car Colors Keyed to Clothing

By UNITED PRESS

The color of your new dress or of your living room draperies may determine the color of the next car the family buys.

One manufacturer (DeSoto) reports that the colors of its cars depends largely on trends in fashions and home furnishings . . . and on Lois Zolliker, Slim, pretty Miss Zolliker believes she is the only woman color designer in charge of an entire auto division. Her job is to keep ahead of color trends to decide which shades will be popular in the future. She at present is working on 1959 tones. She predicted that car colors, along with those for clothes and home furnishings, will be subtler, cooler, and, less flashy.

Look for various shades of yellow to show throughout spring fashions. Yellow was featured in the collections of designers who previewed their spring clothes during the semi-annual Fashion Press Week in New York. Herbert Sondheim, for example, showed a bold yellow chiffon formal. The coat manufacturing firm of Originala used the shade in both daytime and evening coats.

Children may be more complex, but their clothes certainly are simpler these days than they were 100 or 400 years ago. The Costume Institute of the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art recently staged an exhibition of children's styles for the past five centuries. The clothes of the past were made of elegant brocades, velvets, silks, taffetas, floral cottons and laces — stuff in which the child of today is seen rarely.

One of the earliest costumes in the display was a 16th century dress of lilac satin, embroidered in gold thread and colored silks, similar to a dress worn by Isabella Clara Eugenia, daughter of Philip II of Spain. The display showed that through the years, small girls' fashions have trailed those of their elders—complete with hoop skirts, bustles, fur muffs and high-button shoes.

Spring footwear goes floral. One shoe manufacturer (Delman) shows shoes made in printed silks, or in leathers dyed in garden shades such as geranium pink or hyacinth blue. One shoe of the collection, a dancing slipper, has a heel the shape of a rose stem; the back, made of full-blown petals of a huge, silk rose.

'AUTO'-MATIC SILENCE

Hollywood—U.P.—The word has gone out: "No one, repeat, no one will make jokes about cars" on Saturday's televised announcements of nominations for the "Emmy" awards of the Television Academy of Arts and Sciences. The NBC-TV program is sponsored by Oldsmobile. Performers will include Ed Sullivan (sponsored by Lincoln-Mercury) and Tennessee Ernie Ford (sponsored by Ford).
