Car Crashes Over Oregon Mountain

Cave Junction — A search party organized to find the occupant of a wrecked car at Broken Kettle Creek disbanded here about 9 p.m. Friday when word was received that the man, Floyd Parshall, of Brookings, had been taken to the Grants Pass hospital by private car. Parshall's car apparently went out of control about 6 p.m. on Oregon mountain near the California-Oregon state line. It crashed several hundred yards down the steep hillside into the canyon. The wreck was reported first at the Redwood highway inspection station. When Cave Junction Deputy Sheriff Lester Tythcott arrived with the ambulance, only a bloody trail leading from the wrecked car could be found. California Highway Patrolmen and a search party from Cave Junction combed the area until a call came from the sheriff's office in Crescent City stating Parshall flagged down a passing motorist. His condition was reported as good at Josephine General hospital Saturday morning.

Eugene Girl Named 'Queen of Rockies'

Banff, Alta. — (U.P.) — Marilyn Harrang, 21, of Eugene, Ore., was named "Queen of the Canadian Rockies" Saturday at the windup of the 39th annual Banff winter festival. It was her first time in several years that the title had gone to an American. Miss Harrang's crowning ended a four-day carnival attended by several thousand persons at this Rock mountain resort.

Two Drivers, Passenger Injured in Car Accident

Two drivers and one passenger were injured at 9:55 p.m. Saturday in a three-vehicle accident on Highway 62, two miles south of the Eagle Point junction, according to state police. Reported in "fair" condition at Sacred Heart hospital are John R. Pennington, 36, of 518 South Oakdale ave., Medford, Bernard V. Schieber, 24, of 113 North Second st., Talent, and Charles Spears, 32, Talent Apartments, Talent.

According to police, Pennington was operating a pick-up truck south on the wrong side of the highway when it met the second vehicle, operated by Schieber. Officers said the two vehicles sideswiped and the pick-up was turned upside down. It skidded 136 feet on its top before stopping in the center of the highway. The third vehicle, operated by Orville O'Dell Brown, 55, of 703 1/2 West 11th st., Medford, struck the pick-up and turned it half way around. Brown's vehicle then backed into a ditch.

Pennington, Schieber and Spears were taken to the hospital by Medford Ambulance service. Pennington sustained head cuts and bruises; Schieber received fractures of both arms, a broken toe and cuts; and Spears received cuts and bruises. No one was injured in Brown's vehicle. Left sides were torn from Pennington's pick-up truck and Schieber's vehicle. Damage to Brown's car was not reported extensive.

Labor Racketeering Investigation Due

Washington — (U.P.) — "Call girls," vice lords, garbage collectors and city officials will figure in the Senate's investigation into labor racketeering. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said Sunday they will be called before the special committee he heads when it begins public hearings. He said he expects the hearings to get underway Feb. 26. McClellan also revealed he has received some anonymous letters stating "implied threats" to his personal safety since the investigation began. But he said there "have been no direct threats made against me yet."

2 Astoria Children Injured in Accident

Portland — (U.P.) — Two small Astoria children remained in serious condition at a Portland hospital today from injuries they received in a one-car crash yesterday on the Sunset highway, 25 miles west of here.

James Long Jr., 8, and Jolene Long, 14 months, were passengers in a car driven by their mother, Mrs. James Long. She and two other children escaped with minor injuries. Police said the car overturned three times after skidding on a frost covered section of the highway.

Grange Notes

Shady Cove Grange — The Shady Cove Grange met Wednesday evening in the band room of the Shady Cove school. A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. Reed McKay, who are visiting McKay's brother in Phoenix, Ariz. A letter was also received from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Deister. The Grange voted to enter the Pomona contest announced recently. The new school bills under legislation were discussed. Ed Houston spoke on the local 4-H live stock club. Other reports were given by members on agriculture, community service, HEC, fire hall and safety.

Mrs. Agnes Brown as chairman of education, gave a short history of Lincoln and read the Gettysburg address. Mrs. T. M. Littlefield was elected to the lecturers chair recently vacated by Edgar Vanderlip. During the lecturers hour all members took part in reading articles pertaining to Lincoln. Then each was given paper and requested to make a valentine. Mrs. Thelma Reining's valentine was judged best.

Mrs. John Minor was reported as being in the Sacred Heart hospital and a card was sent to her. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kee served refreshments of cherry and pineapple pie and coffee. Table decorations were in red and white. The next Grange meeting will be a polluck supper Feb. 27 in the Shady Cove dining room.

There were about 102.7 males to every 100 females in Australia as of March 1936, according to census estimates.
