Widows of Air Force Men Seek Damages
San Francisco — (U.P.) — The widows of two Air Force men killed in the explosion of a B52 bomber near Tracy on Feb. 16, 1956, filed damage suits in federal courts Monday.

Mrs. Ruth Stefanski of Merced and her son, Edward, 9, filed suit for $400,000 in San Francisco Federal Court. The suit charged that the accident that killed Maj. Edward L. Stefanski, her husband and the boy's father was due to negligence of the Boeing Aircraft Company and Thompson Products Inc. in assembling the plane.

Mrs. Virginia Brown of Merced asked $300,000 damages for herself and a son, Albert K. Brown Jr., 13, in a suit filed in Fresno Federal Court.

Her husband, Maj. Albert K. Brown, 39, was killed, along with Stefanski and two other men in the accident. Four other crewmen parachuted to safety.

Dead line Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday; 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; other days 3:30 previous day.

Bill To Authorize Bonds for Route 101 Work Before Senate

Salem — (U.P.) — With the blessing of Gov. Robert D. Holmes, two senators representing four Oregon coast counties today introduced a Senate Bill authorizing the issuance of $12,600,000 in highway bonds for the elimination of what they called "the coast highway's No. 1 bottleneck."

The bill is sponsored by Sens. R. F. Chapman, representing Coos and Curry counties, and Andrew J. Waterlin, representing Lincoln and Tillamook counties.

It would make possible the elimination of the 38 miles of curves now existing on U. S. 101 between Gold Beach and Brookings. The sponsors said it would benefit all four of Oregon's major industries—logging and lumbering, agriculture and dairying, tourists, and the seafood packing business.

The measure was introduced after a week end conference with Gov. Holmes.

U. S. 101, the governor was told, is the state's third most important highway, and the sum needed to eliminate the curves and realign this project cannot be met under normal allocation of highway funds from all five of the state's highway districts.

A spokesman said the proposal had the unqualified support of all seven Oregon coast counties including the county courts, cities, Chambers of Commerce and hundreds of individual wholesale and retail businesses along the 400 mile coast line.

Verne Ayers, manager of the Oregon Coast Association, said freeing the coast route "from this bottleneck would also make the building of the Astoria bridge a considerable more feasible undertaking, since it would create a traffic volume . . ."

An additional factor, he said, is the value of the Coast highway as a defense route. Any attack from an enemy nation, he observed, would come in attempted establishment of beachheads along the coast.

Four persons were injured in a two-car accident on Highway 62 about two miles north of Eagle Point about 7:27 p.m. yesterday, according to state police.

Mrs. Florence M. Beck, 26, of Prospect, a passenger in a car operated by Samuel Wayne Beck, 28, suffered cuts on her knees; Samuel James Beck, nine months, suffered a broken arm, and Susan Pauline Beck, 5, received possible back injuries, police said. All were passengers in the Beck vehicle. Two other children, Mary Ruth Beck, 4, and Lee Ann Jean Beck, 3, were not injured, police said.

Mrs. Hazel B. Wolfe, 56, of 322 Benson st., Medford, a passenger in a car operated by Donald Sherman Wolfe, 17, suffered back and neck injuries, police said.

Mrs. Wolfe was taken to the Rogue Valley hospital by Medford Ambulance service. Members of the Beck family injured were taken to Osteopathic hospital, police said.

Both cars were southbound on Highway 62, police said, and the Beck vehicle was attempting to pass the car operated by Wolfe. The Wolfe car started making a left turn into a private driveway when the accident occurred, police said.

Wolfe was cited for failure to signal and for having no operators' license on his person, police said.

Colorado River Water Case Recessed
San Francisco — (U.P.) — Trial of the Colorado river water case was in recess today until May 6 while Special Master Simon H. Rifkind recovers from a collapse.

Rifkind ordered the recess Monday from his hospital bed. He was taken to Mt. Zion Hospital Saturday a few hours after collapsing in his hotel room, either from exhaustion or from heart trouble.

Before ordering the recess, Rifkind ruled that California could introduce evidence aimed at upholding the principle of "prior rights." Arizona had contended this evidence was irrelevant.

Gil Henry Visits Radio Station Here
Gil Henry, disc jockey who is host of CBS' Regal Turntable, visited radio station KYJC yesterday in connection with the Regal tune title contest.

He made a personal appearance on KYJC's Turntable Terrace show with Montie Morris, program director, and Lee Tabor, and presented the CBS Regal personality award to Morris.

Henry is rated one of the top disc jockeys on the west coast. Regal Turntable is heard along the west coast and as far east as Denver.

Eddie Cantor's Wife Resting Comfortably
Miami Beach — (U.P.) — Ida Cantor, wife of comedian Eddie Cantor, was reported resting "very comfortably" today at the Miami Heart Institute.

Mrs. Cantor collapsed a few hours after her husband was honored Saturday night at an Israel bond dinner here. He celebrated his 65th birthday in conjunction with the affair. Cantor also has been having trouble with his heart recently and attended the bond dinner against the advice of his physician.

Pettit Has Scoring Lead In Pro Hoop

New York — (U.P.) — Paul Pettit, the St. Louis Hawks' injured star, maintained a sizeable lead in the National Basketball Association scoring race today but it may not be long before Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston of the Philadelphia Warriors offers a serious challenge.

Pettit, who went scoreless Sunday in his first game since suffering a broken bone in his left arm, has tallied 1,627 points in 58 games for a 28.1 average. He leads Arizin by 141 points and Johnston by 209.

Arizin ranks second with 1,486 points and a 25.2 average for 59 games while Johnston, Philadelphia's 6-foot-9 pivotman, has tallied 1,418 points for a 24-point average. Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals ranks fourth with 1,268 points for a 22.2 average, while Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics is fifth with 1,246 points and a 21.5 average.

Radiation Laboratory Director Succumbs
San Francisco — (U.P.) — Dr. Joseph G. Hamilton, director of the University of California's Crocker Radiation Laboratory and the 60-inch cyclotron, died in Children's hospital yesterday of leukemia. He was 49.

His colleagues suspected that Hamilton contracted leukemia as a result of his 20 years of courageous work with radioactive materials. His death was listed as an industrial accident.

Ironically, Hamilton was the first physician to treat leukemia with intravenous injections of radioactive sodium. He and Dr. Robert S. Stone made such an experiment on a patient in 1936.

He was among the first to use radioactive iodine in the treatment of thyroid disease. Patients drank the mixture, later popularized as an "atomic cocktail."
