

Queen Elizabeth, Duke En Route To Home and Children

Lisbon, Portugal — (U.P.) — Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh ended a state visit to their country's oldest ally today and flew home to their people and their children. They left at 10:45 a.m. for London, stopping en route at Porto, the head of Portugal's wine-producing area, for a two and one-half hour visit.

Report Honeymoon
Their combined state visit and "second honeymoon" have produced a report that the queen and her prince consort were on poor terms.

Appearing before tens of thousands of enthusiastic Portuguese citizens during the last five days they have given every appearance of a happily married couple.

For the Duke of Edinburgh, the first time he has seen his children, six-year-old Princess Ann and eight-year-old Prince Charles, since he left Britain last November on a world tour in the royal yacht Britannia.

Wheat Group Appoints Executive Committee

Portland — (U.P.) — An executive committee to carry out its studies was created yesterday at the end of a two-day Wheat Industry Conference here.

The conference, the first of its kind since 1926, voted to form an executive committee comprised of the chairman of the conference and four committee heads.

The four committees are to study production and land use, income and costs, government programs and marketing problems.

Russia's 'Mystery Patient' Succumbs

Moscow — (U.P.) — Vyacheslav A. Malyshev, 55, deputy chairman of the State Economic Commission of the Soviet Union and one of the country's top industrial experts, died Wednesday night of leukemia. Malyshev was the "mystery patient" treated early this month by a West German blood specialist.

Vaccine Urged for Pregnant Women

New York — (U.P.) — A new scientific study of polio-and-the-pregnant-woman is going to make medical science even more eager for all women of child-bearing age to have the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

The study was made by Dr. Milis E. Rindge, epidemiologist of the Connecticut State Department of Health. Its most important finding was that pregnant women are even more susceptible than had been thought. It showed also that after the age of 15, females are more susceptible than males. From 1951 through 1955, 2,167 polio cases were reported to the department. Of that number, 456 were females over 15 and 79 per cent of them—17.3 per cent of the total number of cases—were pregnant.

Since in the general population, according to accepted statistics, only seven per cent of females between 20 and 40 are pregnant at any given time, 17.3 per cent is an eloquent percentage. It shows the pregnant woman is much more susceptible than the woman who isn't.

Chancellor Denies Adventist Students Ordered Expelled

Eugene — (U.P.) — Chancellor John R. Richards of the State Board of Higher Education said today that there have been no expulsions of Seventh Day Adventists enrolled at the University of Oregon dental school.

The statement was made in answer to a news release from the Seventh Day Adventist Oregon Conference executive committee which asserted that "Adventist students now will not be admitted to the school unless they first sign a statement giving up their faith by attending classes on Saturday, their Sabbath."

The release said Adventist students had been expelled from the dental school because of their religious beliefs.

Special Classes Offered
Dr. Richards said that in the 1955-56 school year seven Adventist students had been enrolled at the school and declined to attend Saturday classes. Following a hearing before the State Board of Higher Education, Dr. Richards said, special classes were offered to the Adventists so they would not have to attend school on their Sabbath.

The Chancellor said that later the seven students voluntarily transferred from the Oregon school to a California college that did not hold Saturday classes. He said there had "definitely not" been any expulsions. The dental school, Richards said, does not inquire about religious affiliations of applicants but that he believes there are now no Adventists enrolled on the Portland campus.
