

Glendale vs. Phoenix Quint; Eagle Point vs. Brookings in 6 A-2 Tourney Here Tonight

With the experience of 2½ months of league play behind them and with their league play counting only for the season they've gained, four of six teams in the area open the southern Glendale scrap will meet Illinois Valley at 7 p.m. Friday. Henley will be foe in the Friday nightcap of the Brookings-Eagle Point victor.

Finals in the tourney will be on Saturday after consolation and third place games.

Phoenix tied with IV for second spot in the Rogue league while Glendale, a nevertheless improving club, was fifth and also was in fourth behind Glide, Myrtle Creek and Douglas in the tough Umpqua circuit.

Eagle Point, is the Rogue champion and has been rated sixth in state polls, the only rated club in the tourney. Brookings finished fourth in the league but holds one win in four close games with the Eagles.

For Phoenix tonight starters could be Jim James, Gary Simmonds, Doug Witte, Jim Heath and Jim Stout. But there's a chance that Don Wallace or Lester Schleigh could have a starting post. For Glendale it could be Young, Ray Munyon, Musta, Billy Hale and Gary Miller.

Eagle Point's usual five is expected to have first call: Jack Greb, Wayne Christian, Gary Foran, Ron Veach and Dennis Boren. Brookings possibilities are Ron Bullock, Bill Worthinger, Jerry Anderson and Ron Griebler. A Brookings regular, Norm Bullock, suffered a broken collarbone in the last EP series, and Galambos, Fox, Western or Lane could be in his place.

Sports Broadcasts

Radio station KYJC will broadcast the Phoenix-Glendale high game at 7 p.m. today and the Eagle Point-Brookings tussle at 8:30 p.m. in the southern subdistrict 6 A-2 basketball tournament here. The station will air five tourney games.

A division tourney of District 6 A-2 this evening at the Hedrick Junior high gymnasium in Medford.

The three-day tourney will decide which of the six quintets will go on next week and encounter the strong Glide club in the play-off for the overall District 6 championship.

Phoenix and Glendale, two prep crews nicknamed Pirates, begin tourney action at 7 p.m. Eagle Point and Brookings follow. Winner of the Phoenix-

Stilt Aims At Scoring Leadership

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Chet Forte fired and fell back, and now Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain opens his homestretch bid for the national basketball scoring championship — probably needing 38 point per game to do it.

Forte, the 5-9 Columbia star, failed in his effort to overtake front running Grace Wallace of South Carolina Wednesday night when he tallied only 24 points in a 72-57 loss to Yale. The little Lion then dropped from second to third in the hot five-man race.

Wallace now leads with 30.41 points per game, followed by Joe Gibbon of Mississippi at 29.38, Forte at 29.26, Elgin Baylor of Seattle at 29.13, and Chamberlain at 29.00.

Wilt Needs 56 Points
The seven-foot Chamberlain, going against Oklahoma A&M, will be the only contender in action tonight — opening a drive to regain the No. 1 spot that he held season-long until the last two weeks. It's almost impossible for him to catch Wallace to night — he needs 56 points — and the Oklahoma Aggies, the nation's best defensive team, keep whole teams from scoring that many points.

Forte went into Wednesday night's game at New Haven, Conn., needing 46 points to catch Wallace and didn't come close, although his 24 points took game scoring honors. Yale, leading all the way after zipping to a 16-6 lead after five minutes, took a tighter grip on first place in the Ivy League race as George Thompson led the way with 19 points.

Another piece was fitted into the tournament jigsaw Wednesday night with the announcement that Manhattan (13-5) has been picked up for the National Invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden. The Jaspers, winners of the Holiday Festival Tournament, were the sixth NIT team chosen, following Seattle, Memphis State, Cincinnati, Dayton, and St. Bonaventure.

Saxton-Basilio Encounter To Draw 11,000 or More

By JACK CUDDY

Cleveland — (U.P.) — Friday night's gate for the Carmen Basilio-Johnny Saxton welterweight title "rubber match" will range between $110,000 and $150,000, the biggest fight gate here in 26 years.

"It will be the biggest since Max Schmeling defended his heavyweight title against Young Stribling here in 1931," promoter Larry Atkins predicted. "Schmeling and Stribling, fighting outdoors, drew 37,390 fans and $349,415."

Champion Basilio and ex-champ Saxton of New York are tangling indoors for the third time. The crowd will range between 11,000 and a capacity 12,700 at the Cleveland Arena, the promoter said. Ticket prices range from $5 to $20.

Atkins has been pleasantly surprised by the heavy sale for this scheduled 15-round, nationally televised and broadcast bout. It was originally slated for Jan. 18, but was postponed five weeks because the champion suffered a bruised right hand in training. A postponement usually cuts down the gate.

Cleveland had several previous TV-radio bouts, but this is the first time it ever had a local blackout. Despite it, the TV-radio money is $60,000.

Basilio of Chittenango, N. Y., is favored at 13-5 to register his second victory over streamlined Saxton in their series of three title fights, despite the fact he has been training with a tender hand.

Saxton recaptured the 147-pound crown from Carmen on a questionable decision, at Chicago, last March 14. But Basilio won it back from Johnny on a ninth-round TKO at Syracuse, N. Y., last Sept. 12.

Houston Golf Test Opens

Houston, Tex. — (U.P.) — Golf's touring pros teed off today in the $36,000 Houston Open, with the experts cocking a wary eye at three-time British Open winner Peter Thomson.

Thomson, a youngish Australian with a solid game, led a rash of foreign gold seekers including Australian Open champion Bruce Crampton — in the field of 160 pros and amateurs.

Jim Aiken at Good Samaritan

Portland — (U.P.) — Former Oregon football coach Jim Aiken has been transferred to Good Samaritan hospital here for treatment of a heart condition.

Aiken, who in 1948 led the Ducks to the Cotton Bowl, is now in the lumber business in Roseburg. He has suffered two mild heart attacks in recent months.

WILD BILL SAVAGE Meets Macera Again

Macera Takes On Savage Again in GP Ring Scrape

Grants Pass — A capacity crowd was on hand last Friday at the Grants Pass Arena to see the wrestling midgets. It more than got their money's worth because the main event between popular Luigi Macera and Wild Bill Savage erupted into a free swinging brawl in which both men suffered eye cuts.

The referee was unable to stop it and had to call on sheriff's deputies and other wrestlers. After tempers cooled off a little Macera and Savage were signed for a "winner take all" match for this Friday night at the Grants Pass Fairgrounds arena.

Savage drew the ire of the fans and the commission when he picked up a ringside stool and hit Macera over the head with it. He was warned that a fine would result from any such future actions.

Both men would like to get a win in this one for the future prestige as well as the added money. Macera is the same hot tempered Italian he used to be and his added experience down in Texas makes him a hard guy to handle. Luigi speaks four different languages and likes to play golf as a hobby.

Savage, the ex navy champ from Joliet, is a rough guy. Savage touched off a couple of riots while wrestling in North Bay, Ont., last summer and seems to have no fear of anything. The one hour prelim will match Perre De Glane, smooth working Canadian, against the rugged ex-boxer, Alex Perez. Plenty of action is expected in this one.

DONALD HO He Spells Trouble

Surf Riders Place Hopes In Donald Ho

Donald Ho, 19-year-old center and guard with the Honolulu Surf Riders, promises to provide the Harlem Globetrotters plenty of trouble when the two teams meet at Crater high school gym in Central Point on Friday night, March 1. Game time is 8 o'clock and gym doors will open at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets for the game and six-act halftime variety show are on sale at Lamport's sporting goods store in Medford and Crater Department store in Central Point.

In his third year with the Surf Riders, Ho, of Chinese extraction, prepped at Kaimuka high school in Honolulu and was chosen Interscholastic All-Star guard during his senior year. He led the conference in scoring and ended the season with an average of 17 points a game.

Coach Arthur Kim uses Ho's height of six feet three inches to advantage in the pivot spot, where he is a good right handed hook and jump shot.

Portland Boat Show Will Open At PI on Friday

Portland — The Portland Boat show will open at the Pacific International Livestock exposition buildings on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, with a special "Washington Day" in which people residing in the state of Washington are especially invited.

Second day of the show, Saturday, will be "inboard cruiser day", when the big power boat owners will find displays of special interest to them. Then will come "first mates day", when the river loving ladies of Portland area will have first attention.

The boat show management has set Monday, Feb. 25, as "build-a-boat day", when a kit boat will be built in one of the displays and materials and equipment for boats will be featured all over the show.

Million's Worth
Tuesday will be "water sports day", Wednesday, "Northwest waterways day", Thursday, "navigation day", Friday, "fishing day", Saturday, "little sailor's day" and the final Sunday, March 3, will be "outboard cruising day."

Approximately $1,000,000 worth of boats, equipment and special displays have been lined up for showing during the ten-day show, the biggest yet for Portland.

Special exhibits will include typical Rogue river and McKenzie river boats, for running fast water, a Vancouver island dug-out sailing canoe, several racing outboards and sail boats and similar craft, as well as the host of inboard and outboard power boats to be displayed by dealers.

Dark Gains Links Crown

Lake Worth, Fla. — (U.P.) — Alvin Dark of the St. Louis Cardinals may be nearing the end of his major league career, but from the way he has been shooting golf of late he might have little trouble making the transition from the baseball diamond to the golf links.

The slender shortstop, who may lose his job as a regular with the Cardinals because of wear and advanced age, fired a four-over-par 74 Wednesday to win the 54-hole Cavalcade of Champions golf tournament with a 218—seven strokes better than his nearest rival.

Pitcher Lou Kretlow of the Kansas City Athletics finished second to Dark with a 225 total. He fired a 73 in the final round, as only 12 major leaguers turned out.

DWYER ACCEPTS
Chicago — (U.P.) — Fred Dwyer, ex-Villanova distance runner, accepted an invitation today to compete in the Bankers Mile feature of the Chicago Daily News relay March 16. Dwyer will run against Laszlo Tabori, Hungarian, four-minute miler, and Ted Wheeler, University of Iowa law student and defending Bankers Mile champion.

Hunting and Fishing Southern Oregon

By MEL REES

Reports from the fishing wars this past week end seemed to indicate that there was a distinct separation between the men and the boys, or the knowers from the guessers — at any rate in between gripes about no fish there were glowing tales of "the best fishing I ever seen!" After one of the best, if not the best, seasons seen on the Rogue for several years, the last couple of days found it muddy and very few fish taken. Usually during muddy water it is only the extremely lucky that happen to drop into some deep hole where the fish are keged up and manage to fill the bag—most anglers feel that a period like this is a good time to fix the leak in the garage roof.

The Applegate this past week has paid off with steady limits to the boys who know where to find them, but the success ratio has been low due to the swarms of fishermen who have fished it. It is low and clear and light lines and lighter leaders are the answer.

Turned 15 Loose
Small Spin n Glo or small clusters seem to do the trick although the story drifts in that a fellow fishing single eggs landed a beauty the other day right in front of an early-rising luckless angler and asked the envious one if he wanted it. When his generosity was refused he gently released the hook with the comment that he had turned 15 of 'em loose already.

One authentic report from the Illinois river stated that there were only two fish caught in a long area last Sunday while another said that in his section he never saw so many and they not only limited the whole party but lost twice that many. These two spots are only about one mile apart — so it can be seen that the fish are there if one is lucky enough to pick the right area.

Fishing the Smith river Sunday this writer landed three — 6-8-13 pounders. The water was in excellent condition but there was almost a total absence of fishermen. The fish were extremely well scattered and it was necessary to fish a long section of the stream in order to limit.

Work Out Pockets
When the river is low and clear and a definite run is not coming through it seems best to fish as much different water as possible in order to work out the small pockets which they use to hole up during the day. The fish are very fresh and bright but fishing is definitely on the slow side.

The Chetco has been the best coast producer for the past two weeks. The last rain only made it unfishable for a couple of days and put some more fish through the mouth. Along with custer eggs, Spin n Glo, Oakie Drifters, some good fish have been taken on flash baits such as the Wobblerte.

Goods news to the exponents of the "steelhead is a trout that joined the navy" theory should be this report that some highly successful anglers have been using nightcrawlers to do the job. While this may sound odd to most of us, an oldtimer the other day said, "Shecks! All I ever used!"

A short perusal of the Game Commission bulletin for February shows that in 1956 there were NO steelhead planted in either Josephine or Jackson counties. It is also interesting to note the figures of trout plantings in these counties as compared to those in which game department regional offices are located.

Talent High Jacksonville In B Final

Jacksonville and Talent highs collide tonight in their finals of the Jackson County B league tournament.

The game will be about 8:15 p.m. on the Rogue River court after a third place game between St. Mary's of Medford and Prospect.

Winner of tonight's game will play Butte Falls on Saturday night and the victor in that game will meet the champ of Klamath-Lake county next week for the District 5B top and a state tournament spot.

Butte Falls was eliminated by St. Mary's in the opening round of the county tourney but was the champion for the regular conference schedule and thereby was entitled for another shot at the subdistrict honors.

The U.S. bird population has been estimated at about five billion.

Bill Pelsler President of Sportsmen

Bill Pelsler, Medford, has been elected president of the Oregon Sportsmen Club of Jackson county.

Other officers are Russell DeForrest, Medford, vice-president; Bruce Griebler, treasurer, and Paul Doe, Prospect, secretary.

Named directors were Frank Dolenshek, Trail, Archie McKillop, Prospect, and George Sherman and Lee Wilfitts, Medford. Members of the non-profit club, for which articles of incorporation were filed recently, seek a one-year halt to deer doe and cow elk seasons. At their meeting here Tuesday, the Sportsmen decided to place the deer and elk proposals on separate petitions which will be in circulation in the next day or so.

The halt in the hunting of does and cows is sought while a study of herd control is being made. Sportsmen believe there is no need for killing the animals in some areas of Oregon.

It was reported that there are 100 club members in the Prospect, Trail and Butte Falls area who may take the club's second charter.

Gary Goble Hurts Ankle

Corvallis — (U.P.) — Gary Goble, big sophomore center, suffered a sprained ankle in practice and may miss Oregon State's opening game against Idaho Friday night, Coach Slat's Gill said today.

Potgieter Will Face Bruce Olson

Portland — (U.P.) — Ewart Potgieter, giant South African heavyweight, will make his Portland debut in the Armory ring March 2.

Promoter Tommy Moyer said today that he had signed the 7-2, 320-pound Potgieter to meet Eugene's Bruce Olson, a 266-pounder, in the scheduled 10-rounder.

Applegate, Illinois Fish Moving Rapidly

Portland — (U.P.) — The weekly report on fishing conditions prepared by the State Game Commission:

Southwest: Umpqua river area improved for steelhead with new fish in the streams; Tenmile lakes outlet only fair; Coquille river fair in main stem but upper forks should be fair to good.

Applegate and Illinois river were good but fish moving rapidly; Rogue below Grants Pass closed but still open from Marial on downstream.

Preparations For A-1 Hoop Meet Begun

Eugene — (Special) — Preparations for the 39th annual Class A-1 high school basketball tournament were well underway this week as more than 10,000 ticket applications for the prep cage classic went in the mail.

The 16 top A-1 teams go into action here March 12 and the champion will be crowned on Saturday night, March 16, after 12 sessions which include 26 games. Franklin of Portland was the 1956 champion, but the Quakers have run into tough going this season and apparently are eliminated from contention this year.

There have been no changes in the ticket prices for the 1957 classic, with adult reserved seats priced at $10 and student tournament tickets again selling for $4. The adult reserved seats for the tournament are currently on sale and ticket office officials have announced all fans who decide the same seats they have held in the past will have an opportunity to order until Feb. 23. After that time the tournament tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis and all tickets ordered in advance will be mailed to fans on March 5.

Club Plans Activities

The Active club of Eugene, which has been a co-sponsor of the tournament along with the Oregon School Activities association, will again plan many of the activities for the students attending the tournament and handling housing for visitors here. The 1957 Active Club chairman is Ted Mohr and the tournament headquarters for the club have been set up in the Eugene Hotel.

The bulk of the 16-team field will not qualify for the tournament until another two or three weeks, but the field seems certain to include many of the top teams in the state at this time.

RETIRING AS HEAD COACH at University of California, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf (left), is welcomed by Vic Morabito, co-owner of San Francisco 49ers as personnel director of professional football team.

DO YOU KNOW THIS MAN?
(Maybe he's you)

We're looking for a young man who has that little something extra on the ball.

For one thing, he has an unusually pleasant personality—and likes to meet and talk to people.

Also, he's unusually bright and eager—willing to work for what he wants.

Most of all, he's unusually ambitious—wants to get started right now on his big job—and the big money.

We figure he's somewhere between 21 and 45—and his present job is selling—selling vacuum cleaners, or books, or milk, or insurance—but selling something.

When we find him, we want to offer this unusual young man a most unusual job . . .

A job as new-car salesman with Skinner's Garage—even though he's never sold automobiles before . . .

A job that's challenging and rewarding—selling an exciting product that is highly salable, and that comes out in a brand-new model every year . . .

A job that allows you to build a solid clientele that will stay with you year after year . . .

A job that will give you free training, the free use of a new Buick, and free access to some excellent leads.

Take a good look in the mirror. Do you see what we mean?

If so, contact our Sales Manager.
