Crater, Grants Pass Mix In 50 Loop Cage Series

Central Point — The Crater high Comets, out of the championship race but still aiming to be a spoiler in effort to get out of the cellar, and the Grants Pass Cavemen, still barely in the running for loop laurels, clash in a Southern Oregon conference series this week end.

Friday's game will be at Central Point and Saturday's at Grants Pass.

The Cavemen, as the situation stands at the moment, must win all their remaining tussles to be in the running for the loop diadem. However, one more victory by either Klamath Falls or Medford, will shove Grants Pass out of contention for either first or second place. Klamath vies at Ashland Friday and Saturday in an effort to sew up a state tour-

Royce Lint To Retire

Portland — (U.P.) — Veteran Portland Beaver pitcher Royce Lint informed club officials yesterday that he is retiring from baseball and will not be a member of the club this season.

The reliable left hander said he planned to continue as a Portland longshoreman rather than try for another season with the Pacific Coast league team.

Another member of the 1956 Beaver team, Lloyd Merriman, also was reported to be retiring from baseball. Beaver General Manager Joe Ziegler said he had received no word from Merriman.

UCLA Rival For Oregon This Week

University of Oregon, Eugene — Oregon will play its third straight conference series at McArthur court this week end and Coach Steve Belko rates the invading UCLA Bruins as "the best balanced team we have played this season."

Coach John Wooden's club has lost only one conference game in the last 36 and is currently involved in a red-hot three-way race with Washington and California for the PCC championship. "They have wonderful shooting from their top seven or eight men," Belko added, "and also have fine speed and rebounding strength."

The Duck coach said the Bruins would present a different defensive problem than Washington, pointing out UCLA is dependent on speed and balanced shooting for the strength of its attack. "They don't have a Bruno Boin or a Doug Smart," Belko continued, "but any one of their top men can have a hot night and beat you."

In reviewing the series with Washington, Belko said he thought his Webfoots played their best game of the season against the Huskies on Saturday night. He praised the work of Paul Tuchardt, the reserve center, and said the Oakridge junior was improving more rapidly than any other member of the squad.

Belko also was pleased with the work of Eli Morgan, the 6-6 sophomore forward from Portland. "Tippy Dye told me Morgan did the best defensive job of the season against Boin," Belko reported, "and I would certainly agree that Morgan has come along very nicely, particularly on defense."

Phil McHugh and Charlie Franklin also played well against the Huskies, Belko added, and he rated McHugh as one of the finest team players he has coached. "McHugh's attitude is great and is typical of the entire squad. We've lost a lot of games and not once have they shown any signs of quitting," Belko pointed out.

Oregon's unbeaten freshman team plays the Oregon State Rocks and Surroz Motors of Salem in the preliminaries this week end and Belko said he thought there were several fine prospects on the Duckling team.

Dorothy Kyne Track Manager
San Mateo, Calif. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Dorothy Kyne has been elected general manager and treasurer of Bay Meadows Race track, succeeding her husband, William P. Kyne, who died last Saturday.

Joe Cohen, vice president of the jockey club, was first nominated for the top job Wednesday during a meeting of track directors, but declined in favor of Kyne's widow.

There were no other changes in the track administration, with Cohen and Robert Gunderson remaining as vice president and manager of operations, respectively.

The track opens its 55-day meeting Friday.

Campenella Center of Attention

By UNITED PRESS

Catcher Roy Campanella was to be the center of attraction today when Manager Walt Alston formally opened the National league champion Brooklyn Dodgers' Vro Beach, Fla., training camp.

"If Campanella's sound again, he'll solve a lot of our problems," conceded Alston, who lists the veteran catcher and Navy-returned Johnny Podres as the Dodgers' two "big ifs" of 1957. Campanella, bothered by bad hands, hit only 219 last season but has been insisting all winter that he's sound again.

Only pitchers and catchers are actually due for today's workout but Alston was pleased to learn that veteran outfielder Carl Furillo and rookies first-baseman Jim Gentile also will be present. Gentile led the Dodgers in hitting on their post-world series tour of Japan.

At Tucson, Ariz., meanwhile, General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians revealed that pitcher Bob Lemon has agreed to terms. Lemon, a 20-game winner for the seventh time in his career last year, is believed to have settled for about $45,000. The Indians still have 12 players unsigned.

The Philadelphia Phillies announced that former infielder Gran Hamner, who is trying his arm at pitching this year, has signed. Hamner was forced to the top place because of an injury to his left shoulder which hobbled his play at both shortstop and second base. The Phillies are hopeful that a knuckler and good control can make him a surprise winner on the mound.

Outfielder Hank Bauer and third baseman Andy Carey signed with the world champion New York Yankees, who now have 29 players under contract. Bauer hit only 241 but drove in 84 runs and walloped 26 homers last season. Carey, a .237-hitter in 1956, will have to fight to retain his job this year.

The New York Giants reported "all signed" when rookie pitcher Curtis Barclay, 15-11 at Minneapolis last season, came to terms. The Giants are the first of the three New York teams to sign up their full roster.

The Pittsburgh Pirates reported the signing of righthander Bob Garber, who compiled an 11-6 mark at Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League last season. Catcher Jack Shepard and outfielder Lee Walls remained as the only Buccs who have not yet inked contracts.

ACCUSED of knocking down police captain's sister with car while driving from bar after several drinks, Don Sherwood, San Francisco radio and TV star, is awaiting trial. (International)

Ashland — A program organized by the Israel Student Group of Los Angeles composed of musicians, dancers, singers and a speaker will be presented at Southern Oregon college at 1 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 28, the assembly has announced.

North Dakota is the nation's leader in flax seed and hard wheat.

Verdict Goes To Pastrano

Louisville, Ky. — (U.P.) — Willie Pastrano, a satin-smooth swiftie inside the ring, said today he intends to "make haste slowly" in a long-range bid to challenge heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"I'm just gonna keep fightin' for groceries and let the other guys challenge Patterson for a while," said the fourth-ranked contender after Wednesday night's unanimous 10-round decision over Johnny Holman of Chicago. "I want to reach the top but I'm in no hurry to get there."

"That's right," chimed in trainer Angelo Dundee. "When we think it's time for Patterson, we'll challenge . . . but not before."

The 22-year-old Pastrano said "things went about as I expected" as he reduced Holman to a plodding, one-eyed fighter and extended his unbeaten string to 21 straight bouts. Willie puffed up Holman's left eye in the sixth round, closed it in the seventh and played cat-and-mouse with his heavier opponent the remainder of the way.

Lucas Temporary Chairman of OLCC

Salem — (U.P.) — The Oregon Liquor Control commission said today that Barney Lucas, a member of the commission, will take over the post of administrator tomorrow until a successor to William H. Baillie is appointed.

Baillie, whose resignation was requested by the new commission appointed by Gov. Robert D. Holmes, will leave his post today.

Hugh Kirkpatrick, chairman, said the commission is interviewing candidates for the administrator post but it does not expect to make a decision for several days.

A colorful character in the early territorial history of New Mexico was Lucien B. Maxwell, a hunter and trapper who became the sole owner of 1,714-765 acres of land near Taos. In 1870, he organized a bank in Santa Fe and issued stock certificates bearing a picture of himself smoking a large cigar.
