Gold Hill—Past presidents were honored at a meeting of Gold Hill Parent-Teacher association Thursday, February 14, in observance of Founders' day, with the president, Mrs. Floyd Taylor, officiating.

Mrs. Taylor introduced the past presidents, who were presented with commemorative corsages by Mrs. Arthur Boye. Those present included Mrs. Floyd Taylor, who was the first president of the local PTA, when it was organized in 1946. Mrs. Taylor told the group of her project, which was canned fruit for the school lunches. This was accomplished with the help of mothers, who turn preparing the fruit in the cafeteria after school hours.

Mrs. Lester Parker, who also had canned fruit for her project, was the second president. Mrs. Norman Gail, fourth president, whose project was two portable radios for the school. Mrs. Melford Hood was sixth president. Mrs. Hood's project was decoration of the teachers lounge, and Mrs. Fred Lester, the fifth president, whose project was the salad maker for the cafeteria.

The PTA will sponsor an essay contest as a part of this year's project, to promote creative writing among the students of the Gold Hill school. It was decided that the theme will be chosen by the teachers.

A portion of the program included skits portraying memories of 1897 when the national unit was founded by Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst. Mrs. Ida Von Buskirk, teacher at Hanby school, appeared dressed as a Gay Nineties belle, led the group in singing a song of that era, "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

Mrs. Maden Kellogg, dressed in the fashions of the "flapper" years reminisced on what Gold Hill was doing in 1922, when hot lunches were introduced into many schools. Mrs. Kellogg's skit was concluded with a song of the twenties.

An informal discussion on questions suggested by the teachers of the Hanby and Patrick schools was held.

Miss Mary Klockner's first and second grade room was the room count for this meeting.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Clark Miller, who are newcomers to the community, were introduced by Gilbert Mack, principal of the Gold Hill school. Also introduced were Supt. and Mrs. H. P. Jewett from Central Point.

Refreshments were served by the fourth grade mothers.

Mrs. Arthur Boye was in charge of all decorations for the evening including the corsages.

The past presidents were seated during the refreshment hour at a reserved table decorated in the Valentine motif. Mrs. Boye presented each a heart shaped cake, which she had made.

Mrs. Boye had arranged centerpieces of actual heart shaped cakes, in colors of red and white, on white covered tables for the parents and teachers, who were served by the mothers of the fourth grade students.

School Bill Hearing Held With Record Attendance

By FRANCES LITRELL

On Tuesday, February 12th, Governor Holmes, five of the seven Oregon Supreme Court justices, and the other two members of the Board of Control, Mark Hatfield and Sig Unander—Governor Holmes is also a member of the Board of Control—met in joint session with the Senate and the House of Representatives to commemorate Abraham Lincoln's birthday. The House of Representatives being the larger, joint sessions are always held in the House.

We are now having longer morning sessions, partly due to the fact that some freshmen members are talkative and are on their feet at the least provocation. Seems they feel they should test their voices, and also the new speaker system. As yet, no P.M. sessions in the House. This is to give the members more time in their respective committees, because the real work is done in the committees and by the time a bill gets to the floor, there are few if any members who have not made up their mind how they are going to vote, so the long talks on the floor are mostly for the benefit of the visitors in the gallery.

Hearings Held

There have been some long and heated public hearings, too. Perhaps the most controversial and misunderstood bill that has been introduced this session is Senate Bill 64, the "Key District School Bill." Thursday evening the Senate Education committee held almost a three-hour hearing with what was reported an all time high in attendance for a public hearing. There was heated, intelligent and laughable argument for and against the bill. One witness broke the tension by saying, "This wasn't designed for those of us at the lower end of the I-Q scale."

Mr. Gene Vandenevne whom we affectionately call "Oregon's official greeter" and who conducts the visitors about the Capitol, gave us an arm chair tour of the Capitol this week. He now has a colored film of the whole tour, complete with narration, and it's available to granges and clubs; let us know if you are interested.

Governor Holmes still has not made known his tax program. However, in his inaugural speech, he requested an estimated additional $104,665,000 to Ex-Governor Smith's budget. To name a few of the major items, he has requested:

I Basic school fund increase from $80 to $120—a total of some $38,680,000.

II Higher education salary cut reinstated, $1,300,000.

III Higher education capital program cut reinstated, $4,022,000.

IV Repeal of relative responsibility, $5,000,000.

V Centennial celebration, $100,000.

And there's more, to complete the $104,665,000. However, the few ways and means bills that have come to the floor and have been passed by the House indicate a few minor cuts have been made.

Members Quarantined

Representative John D. Mosser (R) of Portland has joined his five children in quarantine with the chicken pox, so the House of Representatives and their wives and secretaries may be in quarantine before the week passes, as we have all been well exposed.

Mrs. Holmes' Tuesday afternoon teas for the public have been well attended. Most of the legislators' wives were there for her first tea.

The house the Holmes have taken for the session is located on Alvarado Drive. It is rather unique. It has a panoramic view of the Willamette valley. One wall of the living room has a water fall seemingly coming from the ceiling and it tumbles into the back of a huge planter near the floor. Mrs. Holmes is a gracious hostess and like Mrs. Patterson, she likes people to call her by her first name—Marie—which most of us do.

Many parties

The social whirl is whirling, with the legislative group in the center. There have been many teas, coffees, luncheons, etc. The largest tea last week was given by the Medical Society auxiliary. It was held at Dr. and Mrs. Vern Miller's on Fairmont Hill. They too have a panoramic view of the valley. Jean (Mrs. William) McAllister was one of the justice's wives who presided at the beautifully valentine decorated tea table. Jean has been asked to pour at Mrs. Holmes' tea on Tuesday of this week, too.

The speaker's wife, Mrs. Dooley, and Mrs. Robert Stewart, (whose husband has been appointed the new director of agriculture, entertained the wives of the Representatives at Meier and Franks' tea room with a coffee and a style show.

Wednesday at 9 a.m., St. Arnes guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church gave a "kidnap breakfast," a "come as you are party," because a group of women are delegated to pick you up and you go as you are. Some were dressed in outlandish attire for the occasion. About 65 of us were "kidnaped," including Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Elmo Smith.

On St. Valentine's day, the House of Representatives looked like a flower shop. Almost every desk had a potted plant or vase of flowers. The men sported flowers in their lapels and the girls corsages.

State 98 Years Old

It was called to our attention that the State of Oregon was 98 years old on Valentine's day. Also, that House Bill 351, reinstating the provision of a three-day waiting period for a marriage license, is unfair to Mr. Cupid.

Visitors from Jackson county have been included. Mrs. Bereth Hopkins here appearing before the elections committee and Orrin Brown here on the meat inspection bill of last session. This session, it will appear in two different bills, S.B. 117 and H.B. 420, one for the Act and one for the appropriation of the money for the administration of the program.

Carlos Morris was here to work on the proposed corner bill that is now being drafted. Jackson County Assessor Ray Schumacher and Mrs. Schumacher were here for the Senate tax hearing. Leonard Mayfield was here for the school hearings. Both Mr. Mayfield and Al feel we have a chance of getting the "Key district" school support bill through this time. The City of Portland seems to be the only strong opposition this far.

Seems the new baby crop is being named after Mark Hatfield. I met one that has just received a gold elephant bank from the secretary of state for bearing his name.

Musical Director Dimitri Mitropoulos will return to the podium of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, and pianist Jean Casadesus will be soloist on the KYJC-CBS Radio broadcast of Sunday, February 24 at 11:30-AM-1:00, PST.

Mr. Casadesus will perform the Beethoven "Third Piano Concerto in C Minor, Opus 37." Maestro Mitropoulos will open the broadcast program with the "Overture to the Creole Faust" by one of Argentina's most celebrated composers, Alberto Ginastera, now a professor of composition at the National Conservatory in Buenos Aires.

It is played as a salute from the people of New York City to the people of Buenos Aires and will be broadcast in Argentina through the facilities of the Voice of America. Composed in 1943, the work is based on a poem concerning an Argentine gaucho who goes to a performance of Gounod's "Faust" in Buenos Aires. It depicts the performance of the gaucho to the perfection and contains several quotations from Gounod's score.

Schubert's "Symphony No. 5 in B Flat Major" will also be played on the broadcast program.
