Dr. Woodell Will be Meeting Moderator

Mrs. Leigh Gustison, Jackson county chairman of the state joint committee, has announced that Dr. Marshall Woodell, professor of political science of Southern Oregon college and chairman of the school board for the Ashland public schools, will be moderator at the public conference on current education legislation.

The conference will be held Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 8 p.m. in the county courthouse auditorium.

The state joint committee is composed of persons from the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers, Oregon Education association and the Oregon School Boards association.

The purpose of the conference is to bring to the attention of each community the problems which face public schools, to inform residents of items of legislation designed to alleviate the problems and to present all sides of the proposed legislation whenever there are varying points of view, Mrs. Gustison said.

All persons are invited to attend the meeting, according to Mrs. Gustison, and they are free to question panel members and speakers.

Bank Official Slated Speaker at Meeting
C. D. Putz, regional manager of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, will be principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Southern Oregon National Farm Loan association in the Gold Hill grange hall Thursday, Feb. 28.

This year marks the bank's 40th anniversary of service to agriculture in the 12th district. During the business session, two directors will be elected for three-year terms to succeed Oliver H. Roundtree of Williams and William C. Higinbotham of Central Point, whose terms expire this year.

subject of how to make good home made noodles came up during luncheon. Everyone agreed that the main reason for poor noodles is that they are not sufficiently dry before putting them in the broth. So Mrs. O. C. Krotz of Shady Cove made the interesting observation that her sister-in-law had gotten around this obstacle by hanging her noodles out on the line to dry after rolling them out. Anyone want to try it?

Edwin Strother Jr., of McMinville, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Strother Sr.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a Judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. T. H. — My daughter's friend far outshines her.
June H. — I have good times with Paula.

Mrs. T. H. — My 18-year-old daughter has a best girl friend with whom she has been chummy for the past three years, and I feel this relationship should be broken up.

My daughter is a nice looking girl in a quiet sort of way and she is very quiet in her manner. Her friend Paula is spectacularly pretty and very aggressive—much too bold, I think. I don't know why June clings to this girl as she does. All the other girls stay away from her because she takes away all their boy friends.

I can't understand why my daughter should choose a friend who so much outshines her. Paula always takes the best boys for herself and gives my daughter her castoffs. Shouldn't a girl have more pride than to take up with a girl like this?

June H. — I think my mother and the other girls are all wrong about Paula. She is not a mean girl and does not deliberately take anyone's boy friend. It's true she is extremely pretty and boys are attracted to her. She is friendly too not bold in the bad sense.

I have had very good times with Paula. She has often gotten dates for me when I might have been left out of things if it hadn't been for her.

I can't understand why my mother says I have no pride if I go with Paula. She doesn't do anything to humiliate me. Sometimes a boy likes her for a while and then he decides he likes me better but my mother then calls him "Paula's castoff." She doesn't believe anyone could like me for myself. I don't see why I should have to give up a friend who has never done me any harm.

The Council—June appears to have not only pride but a good deal of self-confidence and common sense—more than can be said for her mother.

Mrs. T. H.'s desperate fear that her daughter will be outshone appears to be a hangover from some youthful sense of inferiority of her own. June naturally accepts the fact that some girls will be outstandingly pretty, but evidently has no fear she must lose out in such company. As a matter of fact, June has probably been rather wise, in view of her "quiet" temperament, to select a friend who is somewhat of a magnet. Boys may be drawn to Paula in droves, but they recognize they cannot all have her and when they look around and spy her friend, they may find a girl who is really much more to their liking in many ways.

Mrs. T.H.'s fears and deep sense of rivalry lead her to think of these boys as "Paula's cast-offs," but fortunately June is too levelheaded to take such a view. It is likely to be the more aggressive boys who make out well with Paula and they are not necessarily the "best." Only a jealous woman would see things that way. A girl with June's self-confidence knows she can win nice boys, even when there is a prettier girl around.

They had never flown before. But early one morning Zdenek Machiner, 19, and Karel Kucera, 20, tied up a Czech guard and wobbled to the safety of West Germany in a stolen plane.

Neither could fly... but they soloed to freedom

These two escaped—but 70 million others remain captive behind the Iron Curtain. And these are the people at whom Radio Free Europe beams its daily broadcasts. Escape is not its aim. Radio Free Europe penetrates the Iron Curtain to spread truth... to strengthen hope and resistance.

Said the youths above, "It (Radio Free Europe) added courage and strength to strained nerves." "It offered us... a hope for a better future," said a young nurse who fled to the West.

"Everybody is listening—even the Communists," said an escaped Czech skating champion.

From 29 powerful transmitters, Radio Free Europe broadcasts up to 20 hours of truth a day to five key satellite countries—Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. And how the Communist bosses fear it!
