Seven PAL Boxers Capture Titles At Roseburg Tourney

Medford Police Athletic league in the Southern Oregon Golden boxers gained seven championships and two PAL pugilists were runners-up last week end in the Southern Oregon Golden Gloves tournament at Roseburg.

Dick Lopez, Loren Christean, Bob Apple, Orin Inlow, Larry Lewis, Doug Batten and Bill Akins took for PAL titles and Don Eskew and Rex Howe lost in finals. Jim Corwin, Medford, YMCA, was runner-up to Lopez.

Coaches Hugh Jennings, Jim Zack and Cliff Lacy, who took the potent Medford team to Roseburg, rated the tourney as "one of the best," including the Northwest Golden Gloves. They reported that numerous Medford fans were present Saturday.

Lopez took the heavyweight mantle from Corwin by technical knockout in the second round. Corwin was game but he suffered a knockdown. Corwin decided Dick Gilman Jr., Roseburg, in the 175 pound final. He had Gilman down for a nine count in the third. The bell kept the more experienced Roseburg fighter from being counted out. Christean has greater hand speed and hitting power.

Apple Beats Barrett
Apple, 165, won a onesided decision over Dick Barrett, Coos Bay, an area standout, accomplishing what few other of Barrett's foes in the northwest have been unable to do. He had Barrett down once in the third round. Inlow, 132, won by a TKO in the second round from Ron Diekey.

Lewis, one of the top-rated 119 pounders in the northwest, scored a sensational knockout over Don Wiser, Coos Bay, in the third round of an exciting mix. Batten, 90, won from Howe by TKO in the third round. Akins, 80, knocked out Jimmy Cummings, Roseburg.
