

Benefit Event
Raises Money
For Heart Fund

The sum of $142 was raised for the Heart fund campaign at a benefit party given last Saturday evening at Camp White. Three duplicate bridge clubs, the Medford, Camp White and Riverside clubs.

The benefit event is given yearly by the three clubs as part of a national plan sponsored by the American Contract Bridge League. Various agencies have been benefited by the parties in the past.

Don Reverman, general chairman, was assisted by Mrs. W. W. Stevenson, Mrs. Roy Pruitt, Mrs. Jack Mitchell, Mrs. Clifford Howard and Jack Love.

In addition to rubber bridge, canasta and other games, 13 tables of duplicate bridge were played.

North-south winners were Mrs. George Rode and Mrs. Al Gilhousen, first, 167 1/2 points; Mrs. Frank Baker and Mr. Rode, second, 158 1/2 points; Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. Paul McDuffee, third, 157; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Randall, fourth, 153 1/2.

East-west winners were Walter Grow and Asa Kimball, first, 163 points; Mrs. William Isaacs and Mrs. Jack Loves, third, 148 1/2; Mrs. Roy Pruitt and Mrs. E. L. Miller, fourth, 142 points.

Master points were awarded. A number of prizes were awarded for other games, and at the close of the party, refreshments were served.

"Danger Zones"
Topic for Club

Archduke Otto of Austria, who is to speak Monday, March 4, for Rogue Valley Knife and Fork club, will present his idea on how democracy can be preserved. "World Danger Zones" is the topic of his address.

Just before coming to the United States this winter, the archduke attended a conference of parliamentary and press leaders in Santander, Spain. The group discussed the movement for a United States of Europe.

Reservations for the dinner meeting are to be sent to the club secretary, Mrs. J. S. Heathington, 12 Black Oak drive, no later than Saturday, March 2.

Work Day Planned
By Upper Rogue HEC

Work day in preparation for a rummage sale is being planned by members of Upper Rogue Home Economics club for Friday, March 1, at 11 a.m. at the Grange hall. Members are asked to take a sack lunch; coffee and a salad will be furnished.

Rummage is to be taken to the hall to be sorted and priced. A potluck supper will be held at the Grange hall Thursday, March 7, at 7 p.m. Members are asked to take two dishes of food.

Rates are up but Allstate still offers

savings on auto insurance

Allstate's rates are lower than those of most other companies! These savings are made possible by Allstate's lower selling costs, up-to-the-minute office methods and a modern system for rating use of cars.

Allstate's protection is finest! Allstate has an outstanding reputation for reliable protection, dependable service and fast, fair claim settlements. Last year Allstate paid over $125,000,000 in claims to protect its policyholders. Proof that, whatever happens, you're in good hands with Allstate!

See how much you can save the Allstate way! Phone or visit your Allstate Agent today.

DOUGLAS W. HINESLY and JOHN J. FRANTZ
40 South Central, Medford, Oregon Phone 3-4722

You're in good hands with...
ALLSTATE
INSURANCE COMPANY
STOCK COMPANY PROTECTION
Founded by Sears, Roebuck and Co. Home Office: Skokie, Illinois.

Society

(Continued from Page 2)

Smart Sun-Styled!

9223
SIZES
10-18
by Marian Martin

You're so smart to sew these new fashions now—for sunny summer days! Carefree T-shirt with a clever convertible neckline—slim, trim shorts below. Perfect in gay striped denim, poplin, pique—or use no-iron seersucker for shortie pajama versions!

Pattern 9223: Misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Size 16 shirt, 2 1/2 yards 35-inch; shorts, 1 1/2 yards. This easy-to-use pattern gives perfect fit. Complete, illustrated sew chart shows you every step.

Send thirty-five cents in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to Marian Martin, care of Medford Mail Tribune, Pattern Dept., 232 West 18th st., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS, SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

Coffee Announced
By Gold Hill PTA

Gold Hill—Gold Hill Parent-Teacher association will sponsor a coffee to raise funds for this year's budget. The coffee will be held Friday, March 1 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Paul Molloy on Second avenue in Gold Hill. Everyone is welcome.

The merits of good window displays during Birthday week were discussed, and plans were made to set up displays in local business windows.

Anyone interested in taking the leaders training course, or girls wishing to have information about the Horizon club conference may call Mrs. Merle McGraw VA 6-3714.

Relatives Leave
After Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Whipple of Victoria, B. C., left for their home yesterday after having been guests here of Mr. Whipple's cousin, Mrs. B. L. Sanderson, and Mr. Sanderson, 940 South Grape street.

The Whipples spent the past two months in southern California and traveling in Mexico. While in California they made colored pictures of relatives and their homes, and these were shown at a gathering of Oregon members of the family Sunday at the Sandersons.

Attending were Mrs. Sanderson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor York and sons, Victor Jr., and a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold, Butte Falls.

Women Students Give One-Act Play

Miss Marcia Houghton and Miss Nancy Jennings were among six Southern Oregon college students who presented a one-act play for Bellview grange last week. The play, entitled "Stuffed Owls" is a satire on women's club activities.

The six women in the cast are all members of Sigma Tau and SOC players at the college. Miss Houghton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Houghton, 512 Dakota avenue, is a senior in elementary education. Miss Jennings, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George C. Jennings, 218 Saginaw drive, is also a senior in education.

Dance at Y

A square dance will be held at the Medford YMCA Thursday, February 28, from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Doug Fosbury and Kenneth Hood will be callers.

Women attending are asked to take potluck refreshments. Guests are welcome.

Camp Fire
To Observe Birthday

Eagle Point — Plans were completed at the February meeting of Eagle Point Camp Fire Leaders-Sponsors association, for the annual Camp Fire birthday anniversary observance. The month of March commemorates the founding of the organization 47 years ago.

"Together We Make Tomorrow" is the Camp Fire Girls birthday project for the year, and around this theme the program has been planned.

The Bluebird girls in groups, led by Mrs. Arnold Arenas, Mrs. Elbert Heffley, Mrs. Gordon Stanley, Mrs. Walter Lee and Mrs. Glenn Burrill, will depict ways of the past. Mrs. Dale Ackerman's Camp Fire Girls will present the program of the present time, and the Camp Fire Girls from Mrs. LeRoy Bedingfield's group will portray a page from the future.

Mrs. Ed Gray, of the district program committee, suggested that girls interested in the Horizon club could make name tags for guests attending the Birthday program. It will be held March 1, Friday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Eagle Point school cafeteria. All adults connected with the Camp Fire organization, sponsors, leaders, parents, and immediate families of registered girls are invited.

Mrs. Frank Christian, Talent, president of the Rogue council of Camp Fire Girls, was a guest and gave report on the Horizon club conference to be held March 30 in Klamath Falls. Horizon club is coordinated to the interests of girls high school age. The conference will cover a variety of career workshops and the day will end with a mixed party.

Mrs. Ruthe Gerety, executive director for the Rogue area council, gave Bluebird leaders instructions for making hand puppets and showed a sample that her group had made. She noted the unlimited possibilities for imaginative play in puppetry.

Samples of rhythm band instruments were shown which could be made from simple things found around the home. Some instruments were left as models for leaders to work from.

Mrs. Christian announced a leaders workshop would be held at the YMCA in Medford, March 18 at 7:30 p.m. Leaders from throughout the council will attend. A great variety of crafts, projects and ideas will be displayed and demonstrated.

A sample of the canned salted peanuts which will be sold as well as candy during the April sale, was shown. All leaders were instructed to remind their girls that unless they have paid their annual dues and are registered, they cannot take part in the sale.

The Council: Connie may appear to be selfish, ungrateful and spoiled, but she is really not getting an even break. Her parents who "don't know what to do for her," are trying to do too much and not giving her the chance to learn how to achieve the things she wants.

It is not sufficient to explain to Connie that there is not money enough to get everything she wants. Connie should learn that within certain limitations, she can improve her lot.

Most girls resent wearing cast-offs. But has it ever occurred to Connie or her mother that a girl can have nice clothes inexpensively by learning to sew? With this skill, Connie may even be able to alter her cousins' dresses to a style that suits her.

Mr. and Mrs. T.L. thought they were doing a great deal for Connie when they fixed up a separate room for her without her knowledge. But Connie should have been taken in on the plans. She may have had other ideas. If they had encouraged her to think in terms of planning a room for herself and making her own curtains or painting her own furniture, she may have developed an enthusiasm for turning her "cell" into a gay little room.

Connie is old enough to have her own pocket money. If her parents cannot supply her with a small allowance, she should be told that she will have to earn this money herself. Baby sitters are much in demand and Connie, because of her experience with younger sisters and brothers, would make a good one.

For example, my sister every year sends Connie a wonderful box of clothing, only slightly worn by her daughters. The dresses are much more beautiful than anything we can buy her, but Connie refuses to wear any of them and once tore up a dress in a temper tantrum.

Another thing—Connie wanted her own room because she said she can't study with the children bothering her. We partitioned one of the rooms so she could have some privacy, but she complains now that it is just a "cell." We really don't know what to do for her.

Connie L.—Everything is miserable at our house. Some of my friends are no richer than we are, yet they have nice rooms and homes and are able to wear their own clothes, not castoffs. They also have pocket money for little personal things. My parents don't give me any allowance. They just say, "Tell us what you want and we'll try to get it for you."

My mother thinks I'm lucky" to be able to get expensive dresses from my cousins, but they aren't the kind of dresses I like. Nobody in my school wears stuff like that.

I didn't ask my parents to partition a room for me. I came home from school one day and found this "surprise." There is hardly enough room to turn around. My parents call me selfish and ungrateful, but I don't think I ask for so much. They just don't understand.

The Council: Connie may appear to be selfish, ungrateful and spoiled, but she is really not getting an even break. Her parents who "don't know what to do for her," are trying to do too much and not giving her the chance to learn how to achieve the things she wants.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. T. L.—We don't know what to do for Connie.

Connie L.—Everything is miserable at our house.

Mrs. T. L.—I am the mother of a 16-year-old girl and am having quite a hard time with her. We have three younger children and are not very well off, so we can't do all the things we would like for Connie. I feel Connie is old enough to understand this, but she doesn't seem able to accept it.

For example, my sister every year sends Connie a wonderful box of clothing, only slightly worn by her daughters. The dresses are much more beautiful than anything we can buy her, but Connie refuses to wear any of them and once tore up a dress in a temper tantrum.

Another thing—Connie wanted her own room because she said she can't study with the children bothering her. We partitioned one of the rooms so she could have some privacy, but she complains now that it is just a "cell." We really don't know what to do for her.

Connie L.—Everything is miserable at our house. Some of my friends are no richer than we are, yet they have nice rooms and homes and are able to wear their own clothes, not castoffs. They also have pocket money for little personal things. My parents don't give me any allowance. They just say, "Tell us what you want and we'll try to get it for you."

My mother thinks I'm lucky" to be able to get expensive dresses from my cousins, but they aren't the kind of dresses I like. Nobody in my school wears stuff like that.

I didn't ask my parents to partition a room for me. I came home from school one day and found this "surprise." There is hardly enough room to turn around. My parents call me selfish and ungrateful, but I don't think I ask for so much. They just don't understand.

The Council: Connie may appear to be selfish, ungrateful and spoiled, but she is really not getting an even break. Her parents who "don't know what to do for her," are trying to do too much and not giving her the chance to learn how to achieve the things she wants.

It is not sufficient to explain to Connie that there is not money enough to get everything she wants. Connie should learn that within certain limitations, she can improve her lot.

Most girls resent wearing cast-offs. But has it ever occurred to Connie or her mother that a girl can have nice clothes inexpensively by learning to sew? With this skill, Connie may even be able to alter her cousins' dresses to a style that suits her.

Mr. and Mrs. T.L. thought they were doing a great deal for Connie when they fixed up a separate room for her without her knowledge. But Connie should have been taken in on the plans. She may have had other ideas. If they had encouraged her to think in terms of planning a room for herself and making her own curtains or painting her own furniture, she may have developed an enthusiasm for turning her "cell" into a gay little room.

Connie is old enough to have her own pocket money. If her parents cannot supply her with a small allowance, she should be told that she will have to earn this money herself. Baby sitters are much in demand and Connie, because of her experience with younger sisters and brothers, would make a good one.

For example, my sister every year sends Connie a wonderful box of clothing, only slightly worn by her daughters. The dresses are much more beautiful than anything we can buy her, but Connie refuses to wear any of them and once tore up a dress in a temper tantrum.

Another thing—Connie wanted her own room because she said she can't study with the children bothering her. We partitioned one of the rooms so she could have some privacy, but she complains now that it is just a "cell." We really don't know what to do for her.

Connie L.—Everything is miserable at our house. Some of my friends are no richer than we are, yet they have nice rooms and homes and are able to wear their own clothes, not castoffs. They also have pocket money for little personal things. My parents don't give me any allowance. They just say, "Tell us what you want and we'll try to get it for you."

My mother thinks I'm lucky" to be able to get expensive dresses from my cousins, but they aren't the kind of dresses I like. Nobody in my school wears stuff like that.

I didn't ask my parents to partition a room for me. I came home from school one day and found this "surprise." There is hardly enough room to turn around. My parents call me selfish and ungrateful, but I don't think I ask for so much. They just don't understand.

The Council: Connie may appear to be selfish, ungrateful and spoiled, but she is really not getting an even break. Her parents who "don't know what to do for her," are trying to do too much and not giving her the chance to learn how to achieve the things she wants.

It is not sufficient to explain to Connie that there is not money enough to get everything she wants. Connie should learn that within certain limitations, she can improve her lot.

Most girls resent wearing cast-offs. But has it ever occurred to Connie or her mother that a girl can have nice clothes inexpensively by learning to sew? With this skill, Connie may even be able to alter her cousins' dresses to a style that suits her.

Connie is old enough to have her own pocket money. If her parents cannot supply her with a small allowance, she should be told that she will have to earn this money herself. Baby sitters are much in demand and Connie, because of her experience with younger sisters and brothers, would make a good one.

For example, my sister every year sends Connie a wonderful box of clothing, only slightly worn by her daughters. The dresses are much more beautiful than anything we can buy her, but Connie refuses to wear any of them and once tore up a dress in a temper tantrum.

Another thing—Connie wanted her own room because she said she can't study with the children bothering her. We partitioned one of the rooms so she could have some privacy, but she complains now that it is just a "cell." We really don't know what to do for her.

Connie L.—Everything is miserable at our house. Some of my friends are no richer than we are, yet they have nice rooms and homes and are able to wear their own clothes, not castoffs. They also have pocket money for little personal things. My parents don't give me any allowance. They just say, "Tell us what you want and we'll try to get it for you."

My mother thinks I'm lucky" to be able to get expensive dresses from my cousins, but they aren't the kind of dresses I like. Nobody in my school wears stuff like that.

I didn't ask my parents to partition a room for me. I came home from school one day and found this "surprise." There is hardly enough room to turn around. My parents call me selfish and ungrateful, but I don't think I ask for so much. They just don't understand.

The Council: Connie may appear to be selfish, ungrateful and spoiled, but she is really not getting an even break. Her parents who "don't know what to do for her," are trying to do too much and not giving her the chance to learn how to achieve the things she wants.

It is not sufficient to explain to Connie that there is not money enough to get everything she wants. Connie should learn that within certain limitations, she can improve her lot.

Most girls resent wearing cast-offs. But has it ever occurred to Connie or her mother that a girl can have nice clothes inexpensively by learning to sew? With this skill, Connie may even be able to alter her cousins' dresses to a style that suits her.

Mr. and Mrs. T.L. thought they were doing a great deal for Connie when they fixed up a separate room for her without her knowledge. But Connie should have been taken in on the plans. She may have had other ideas. If they had encouraged her to think in terms of planning a room for herself and making her own curtains or painting her own furniture, she may have developed an enthusiasm for turning her "cell" into a gay little room.

Connie is old enough to have her own pocket money. If her parents cannot supply her with a small allowance, she should be told that she will have to earn this money herself. Baby sitters are much in demand and Connie, because of her experience with younger sisters and brothers, would make a good one.

For example, my sister every year sends Connie a wonderful box of clothing, only slightly worn by her daughters. The dresses are much more beautiful than anything we can buy her, but Connie refuses to wear any of them and once tore up a dress in a temper tantrum.

Another thing—Connie wanted her own room because she said she can't study with the children bothering her. We partitioned one of the rooms so she could have some privacy, but she complains now that it is just a "cell." We really don't know what to do for her.

Connie L.—Everything is miserable at our house. Some of my friends are no richer than we are, yet they have nice rooms and homes and are able to wear their own clothes, not castoffs. They also have pocket money for little personal things. My parents don't give me any allowance. They just say, "Tell us what you want and we'll try to get it for you."

My mother thinks I'm lucky" to be able to get expensive dresses from my cousins, but they aren't the kind of dresses I like. Nobody in my school wears stuff like that.

I didn't ask my parents to partition a room for me. I came home from school one day and found this "surprise." There is hardly enough room to turn around. My parents call me selfish and ungrateful, but I don't think I ask for so much. They just don't understand.

The Council: Connie may appear to be selfish, ungrateful and spoiled, but she is really not getting an even break. Her parents who "don't know what to do for her," are trying to do too much and not giving her the chance to learn how to achieve the things she wants.

It is not sufficient to explain to Connie that there is not money enough to get everything she wants. Connie should learn that within certain limitations, she can improve her lot.

Most girls resent wearing cast-offs. But has it ever occurred to Connie or her mother that a girl can have nice clothes inexpensively by learning to sew? With this skill, Connie may even be able to alter her cousins' dresses to a style that suits her.

With this skill, Connie may even be able to alter her cousins' dresses to a style that suits her.

MHS Senior Class
Tops Collections
In TAP Fund Drive

The senior class of Medford high school collected $463.02 in the Teens Against Polio drive to lead the three classes at the school, it has been announced by Nancy Adams, county TAP chairman. The drive was a portion of the county-wide March of Dimes campaign in January.

The junior class collected $370.96 and the sophomore class, last year's winner, reported $64.41. The Medford high school total was $949.43.

The senior class is winner of the Harry Chipman award, which goes annually to the class reporting the most revenue.

Seven projects were used by the seniors to raise money. They were a bottle drive, car wash, shoeshine, "lick polio" sucker sale, record raffle, faculty men vs. senior boys basketball game, and a faculty women vs. senior girls volleyball game.

The juniors raised their money by a car wash, baked food sale, toll road and a "peanuts for polio" sale. The sophomores used a car wash and shoe shine as their projects.

The Latin club raised $23.27 with a raffle and the Order of the M conducted a coin throw at a basketball game which took in $27.77.

The student council sponsored an all-school queen contest with each class selecting a candidate. The candidate bringing in the most money was named as queen. She was Suzan Hubbard of the junior class who was crowned "Miss Teens Against Polio" at an after-garden dance.

Her princesses were Linda Harnsburge, sophomore, and Lois Elkins, senior. Money raised in the queen contest was credited to the class which the girl represented.

HORSE AND TAILS

Hollywood—(U.P.)—The Wyatt Earp of TV will not go completely soft when he sings on a television show next fall. Hugh O'Brian, who plays the television part, will wear white tie and tails for his singing debut but he will go on stage on a horse to pacify his western fans.

Boy Scouts

Pack 8, Cub Scouts, will hold its annual Blue and Gold Dinner Thursday, Feb. 28, at 6:30 p.m. in the Jackson school gymnasium.

"My Boss wears the WHITEST Shirts of all"

...they're done at the laundry!

It's true. More and more men who value their appearance are conveniently sending their shirts to our laundry. Let us finish your shirts crisp, clean and wrinkle-free... with collars and cuffs the way you like them.

FREE!
1 SUIT
Cleaned
6 SHIRTS
Laundered
If We Miss a Button

PHONE 2-6165 for FREE Pickup
and Delivery Service

DUMAS DOMESTIC LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANERS
"YOUR APPEARANCE IS OUR BUSINESS"
30 North Riverside Ave. Medford

WOOLWORTH'S

LOOK Spring Savings!

REMNANTS
Just received 1000 yards of BIG VALUE Remnants—PERCALE —POPLIN—BROADCLOTH—PLISSE—DENIM YD. 39¢
A Real Woolworth Value

Boudoir
Lamp & Shade
Milk Glass or Plastic Bases with decorated Parchment Shades. $1.47
Reg. $1.98 Value

Ladies'
NYLONS
First quality seamless and full fashioned styles. Sizes 8 1/2 to 11. 2 P R S 87¢
Limit 2 pr. to a customer

Rectangular
DISH PANS
Made of unbreakable Polyethylene in Red, White, Yellow, Turquoise & Pink. Regular $1.98 Value. Sale Price 97¢

DuPont Cellulose SPONGES
IDEAL FOR HOUSE-CLEANING CHORES
A BIG VALUE 10¢
16" x 28" Cannon

Hand Towels
A special lot consisting of solid colors and fancy patterns. Values up to 79¢ each.
3 for 97¢
12" x 12" Cannon

Wash Cloths
Large assortment of better value wash cloths. Values up to 49¢. Sale Price
2 for 29¢
Electric
SKILLET
Fully automatic. Large size capacity. Complete with General Electric cord. A Special Value $7.88

Rose Bushes
A Big Value package of two only No. 2 Rose Bushes in popular varieties. Guaranteed to grow.
FOR ONLY $1.00 PKG.

LISTEN TO THE WOOLWORTH HOUR
Every Sunday 1 to 2 P.M. — STATION KYJC

F W WOOLWORTH CO
39 NORTH CENTRAL AVENUE MEDFORD, OREGON

Didn't Cough ALL NIGHT

CREOMULSION BRINGS SPECTACULAR RELIEF

Special Formula Creomulsion Cough Syrup for Children relieves coughs due to colds right now, without narcotics or antihistamines, stops tickle—promotes sleep—tastes good too. Get—

CREOMULSION FOR CHILDREN