Billy Graham May Narrate Easter Drama

Hollywood — (U.P.) — NBC-TV disclosed today it is negotiating to have evangelist Billy Graham narrate an Easter television drama.

Casting Producer Winston O'Keefe left Wednesday night for New York to meet Graham's representative there next week. The "NBC Matinee Theater" play will have an Easter theme.

Women Voters Set Public Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Ford of Eugene, state legislative chairman for the Oregon League of Women Voters, will be guest speaker at a public luncheon Saturday, March 2, at noon in the Rogue Valley Country club.

The Medford League of Women Voters is sponsoring the luncheon for members and others interested in current state legislation. Mrs. Ford will present a legislative report and will answer questions from those present. Reservations for the luncheon meeting may be made no later than Friday by calling Mrs. I. S. Thomas, Medford 3-5889.

Legislative topics to be discussed by Mrs. Ford will include the three main education bills, measures concerning county government, state meat inspection and a bill concerning qualifications for county coroner.

Mrs. Ford was among those who spoke at a hearing concerning education bills in Salem, Feb. 6. She stated the Oregon L.W.V. position favoring increase of state allocations from $80 to $120 per school census child. She said, "We are supporting increase of the basic school fund and supporting both bills (the increase and HB 163 providing for reorganization)." Opposition was voiced at the hearing by Tom Scanlon, representing the state labor council.

State Tree Fruit Crop Shows Decline in '56

Oregon tree fruit crops produced in 1956 amounted to 288,580 tons, 6 per cent below the 1955 tonnage of 305,550 tons, according to the United States department of agriculture.

The 1956 estimate is 5 per cent above the 1951-55 average. Despite lower overall production in 1956, prices for nearly all tree fruits were above last year, resulting in a higher overall total value of tree fruits, the department of agriculture said.

The total value for 1956 was $35,113,000, about 1 per cent above 1955 value at $34,775,000 and 9 per cent above the 1951-55 average. Fall and winter pears led in value of production in 1956 with a total of $14,515,000, followed by Bartlett pears, apples and sweet cherries. Plums and prunes ranked fifth in value of production with a total of $2,951,000.

Grange Notes

Roxy Ann Grange
Two officers were absent due to sickness at the last regular meeting of Roxy Ann Grange. Charles Whitcher gave an agriculture report stating that the price of beef is to go up and there is a shortage of beef stock. Broilers are up in price and there is 78 per cent more turkeys in storage.

Ken Shaw reported a good crowd at the last dance and the next regular dance will be held Saturday, March 2.

Willette Sims reported 22 members and 2 guests at the last HEC meeting held at Mrs. Myhre's home. Mrs. Ellis, co-hostess, showed some movies of trips they had taken and some of Disneyland. Mrs. Charles Whitcher and Mrs. Dennis Whitcher will be the next hostesses for HEC.

Marie Finister, sales slips chairman, asked members to save their sales slips and there were several new advertisers in the bulletin.

Mrs. Glen Rader told about the display table of Pack 14. The table was composed of centerpieces used for the Cub pack's Blue and Gold dinner held at the Grange.

A thank you note was read from Pack 14 for the use of the hall for their dinner.

Chaplain Mae Dalton reported that some members were sick but were getting along fine.

It was reported that Brother Howes of Gold Hill Grange had been ill but was home now.

The meeting was followed by a program put on by Lecturer Frances Moffatt. Live Valentines are presented with music, a roll call with members telling of their first heart throbs and Clarence Finister told of a recent vacation through several states to the south.

Orange Juice, Coffee Credited With Safe Landing of Airplane

Detroit — (U.P.) — A crippled airliner carrying 26 anxious persons circled wearily over two cities for hours Wednesday before its crew fixed a frozen nose wheel with orange juice and coffee and brought the big ship in for a perfect landing.

Capt. William Richey, 38, Minneapolis, set the Capital Airlines Constellation down at Willow Run Airport with a few slight bumps.

Emergency Equipment Ready
Ambulances and fire and police rescue squads, which waited tensely for the large plane to come in, sped out to the taxiing craft but were not needed. None of the 21 passengers and five crew members was injured. Many of the passengers came out of the plane smiling and were quickly hustled off to a lounge in the airport terminal. The crew remained aboard the ship to confer with Capital officials. Richey, a Capital pilot for 11 years, said the plane's nose wheel froze shortly after the four-engine ship took off from Gen. Mitchell Field at Milwaukee with 15 passengers bound for Detroit and the rest for Philadelphia.

Ralph Reid, Capital's director of engineering, blamed the trouble on a "hydraulic leak."

No Panic Aboard
Edward Langenfield, New Holstein, Wis., a passenger, said Richey told the passengers of the situation almost as soon as he learned of it.

Langenfield said there was no panic aboard the crippled plane although most of the passengers were "anxious."

Richey brought the plane in shortly after his ship rendezvoused with a Viscount airliner carrying a team of experts from Washington who radioed instructions to the stricken ship.

Reid, who was aboard the Viscount, said the experts told the crew of the crippled plane to pour orange juice, water, milk and all other available liquids into the hydraulic mechanism to force the nose wheel into position.

"We were sure that wheel was in position before the pilot attempted the landing," Reid said.

Contract Approved for Teen-Age Idol

Hollywood — (U.P.) — Sal Mineo, idol of the teen age set, held a court approved movie contract today, but only because he promised the judge that he would save his money.

For a time Wednesday it appeared that Superior Judge Clyde C. Triplett might not approve Mineo's contract with Philip A. Waxman Pictures Inc. The jurist was bothered because it appeared that Mineo would not have any money left after he had met such expenses as a $1,000 monthly payroll at a New York office and $100 a month to tip bodyguards who accompany him at personal appearances.

The youthful, curly haired actor satisfied the judge with a promise to buy government bonds with 15 per cent of the income of the Waxman contract and meet some of his expenses out of additional earnings.

Under terms of the new contract with Waxman, Mineo will receive $25,000 for one film, plus 2 1/2 per cent of the proceeds of the movie.

What's all this about high fidelity?

Listening to hi-fi after years of hearing music on ordinary phonographs (which can't truly capture all the instruments) is like taking off ear muffs.
