Safety Department Says Busy Kitchen Is Dangerous Place

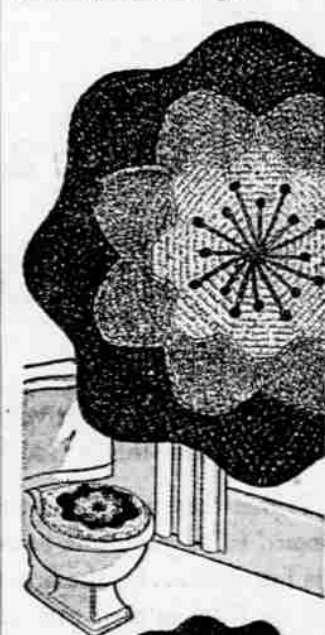

Urbana, Ill. — (U.P.) — The University of Illinois' safety department says a busy kitchen is a dangerous place.

"To avoid kitchen accidents the housewife must be safety conscious at all times," its experts advise.

Among suggestions offered: Plan and prepare as much of the meal as possible beforehand so there will be few last minute items to attend to; Don't hurry. Take the time to be careful, even if it does mean a burnt potato or two; Turn handles of cooking utensils to the back of the range so they cannot be knocked over accidentally; Don't leave knives and other potentially dangerous instruments within the reach of children; Use a safe, easily manageable step ladder to reach high places; Organize your small equipment for convenient use so that, for example, dish towels will not hang directly above an electric toaster; Make sure all electric cords, switches and plugs are in good condition.

"Invest a little time and money in safety," the experts advise. "The hospital bills you'll save will more than cover the cost."

Dr. Phyllis Plichta

SOC Professor Attends Session Of National Group

Ashland—Dr. Phyllis Plichta, professor of education at Southern Oregon college, returned recently from a three-day conference of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education in Chicago, where she served as the Oregon delegate to the meeting.

The conference, held at the Morrison hotel, consisted of a number of group meetings and general sessions aimed at improving teacher education programs throughout the country. According to Dr. Plichta, delegates to the conference felt a real need for a better understanding and knowledge of students who are going into the education field. In the urgency of producing enough teachers to fill the current shortage, she said, the needs of students as human beings are not being met. Miss Plichta felt that the AACTE conference helped demonstrate the need of "steering" individuals in education.

The Association for Student Teaching and the National Society of College Teachers of Education held joint meetings during the AACTE conference, and the three groups worked together in studying problems of mutual interest. Miss Plichta attended meetings of all three groups.

Dr. Plichta, who is vice-president of the Oregon Association for Student Teaching, will report on the conference during the state meeting in March. She also conducted a local organizational meeting of teachers interested in the AST February 27.

Gardener Explains Ways to Achieve Continuous Bloom

Mrs. Jack Campbell was in charge of the program for a meeting of the Howard Garden Club held February 26 at the home of Mrs. Don J. Elliot, 2671 Elliot avenue.

After showing colored slides of her own garden, Mrs. Campbell spoke on "Planting for Continuous Bloom." The best way to start a garden, she explained, is to decide on what you are willing to put into it in the way of materials, money, time and effort. She described different methods of achieving a garden that will provide color every month of the year and told how to combine shrubs and flowers for a colorful and pleasing display.

Mrs. L. C. McCay, chairman, conducted the business meeting. The club voted to buy two rosebushes to be planted on the grounds at the Camp White Dormitory. Many more are needed and it is hoped each garden club in the district will participate in this effort.

A lively discussion was held on how to combat "litterbugs," those thoughtless persons who throw trash and debris along streets and highways. It was noted that in some states a heavy fine is imposed on anyone who is apprehended in throwing litter from a car or in any other way marring the roadside beauty. The club members are vitally interested in this problem and plan to put forth a concerted effort to help solve it.

It was decided to hold a plant exchange at the March meeting. Mrs. Herb Lingren and Mrs. Ernest Gleason were hostesses for the dessert luncheon.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—SEVEN

PTA History Reviewed

A Founders' day meeting was held by the Oak Grove Parent-Teacher association in the school cafeteria Monday evening. Past presidents Mrs. William Knips, Mrs. Laurence Crocker, Mrs. Martin Clogston and Mrs. Hans Meier were honored and each was presented with a corsage.

Also a guest at the meeting was Mrs. Mathilda Knips Hall who was secretary-treasurer for the PTA in 1925 and 1926.

During the evening Mrs. Gerald Parsons, program chairman, gave the history of the Oak Grove PTA.

The group was first organized in 1913 as a social group, and was later reorganized in 1924 with Mrs. Joe Thornton as president; in 1926 the PTA first provided a Christmas treat and in 1927 a new school on the present location replaced the one room structure across the street.

An amusing incident was recalled when the husband of one of the members mistakenly primed the pump with the jello that had been made for a school dinner.

Among the early purchases by the PTA included screen doors and light protectors. In 1937 the school lunches cost three cents per dish and in 1941 the lunch room bill for groceries was $10.44 for one month. Parents were asked to donate butter to keep the bill down. During the war lunches were said to be a problem due to ration stamps and the higher cost of groceries.

It was in 1950, Mrs. Parsons said, that evening meetings were started by the group so both parents could attend the PTA.

A business meeting was held prior to the evening's program and a nominating committee was elected. Those on the committee include Mrs. Aubrey Wisdom, Mrs. Robert Buckler and Mrs. R. H. Gandee. Refreshments were served by the mothers of the fourth grade students.

Illinois Boasts of Own Grandma Moses

Magnolia, Ill. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Mary McCall, 86, who took up painting at 75, is known as the "Grandma Moses" of this Putnam County community.

Landscapes, particularly winter scenes and river valleys, are her favorite subjects. Painting and drawing, she said, always came easy, but she was too busy raising a family in earlier years to get started. She has three daughters and a son.

A set of oil paints received as a Christmas gift 11 years ago started her painting, and she's still at it.

Laurine's Carpet House is progressing with Medford. We are now in the rug and upholstery cleaning business and have found that selling and cleaning floorcovering go hand in hand like a beautiful Strauz Waltz. The fabric mills, such as Bigelow, Gulistan, Firth, Wunda Weve, Barwick, Lees & Mohawk, have put on the market hundreds of different weaves, fabrics and colors. For example there is good wool, cheap wool, rayon, nylon, dyrnel and acrilan. Now unfortunately the average person does not know the actual composition of their rug and it requires an expert's attention. THAT'S WHERE WE COME IN. We wish to thank the people of Jackson County for making our floorcovering business a success and in turn may we now help you preserve your Rugs and Upholstery?
