

IBC Found Guilty in Federal Antitrust Law Violation Suit

New York—(U.P.)—The International Boxing club of New York and its Chicago affiliate and others were found guilty of violating the antitrust laws today by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

The court held that the boxing clubs, Madison Square Garden, and James D. Norris and Arthur M. Wirtz engaged in a conspiracy which "as a result of their activities acquired power . . . to exclude competitors from the promotion of championship contests in the United States."

The antitrust action was filed by the government in March, 1952, and accused the defendants of conspiring to monopolize interstate and foreign commerce in the promotion of title bouts and the sale of radio, television and motion picture rights.

The defendants had moved to dismiss the complaint, claiming that the court here had no jurisdiction and that the government had failed to state a claim on which relief could be granted. 80 Per Cent

IBC and its codefendants were alleged to have taken part in the promotion of 80 per cent of all championship bouts in this country between Jan. 1, 1949, and May 15, 1953.

"The defendants, as promoters of such title fights, derive substantially all of their revenue from the sale of tickets of ad-

DeMoss Beaten In Florida Golf

St. Augustine, Fla. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, the upset star of the Florida East Coast women's golf championship, faced her toughest match today in the semi-finals.

The young Mason City, Iowa, housewife met Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., while Marjorie Burns of Greensboro, N.C., played 18-year-old Ann Middlemas of Panama City, Fla.

Mrs. Johnstone had to play 38 holes Thursday to get into the semi-finals. First she produced a one-up victory over co-medalist and defending champion Wanda Sanches of Baton Rouge, La., in a 19-hole morning match. Then Mrs. Johnstone had to go another 19 holes to win one-up over Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore.

Miss Burns gained the semi-finals by eliminating Kathy Newton of Cleveland, 4 and 3. Miss Newton had upset co-medalist and former champion Grace DeMoss of Corvallis, Ore., one-up in 19-holes in the morning round.

mission and the sale of radio, television and motion picture rights which are in the control of the promoters," the judge said.

Judge Ryan noted that the combine controlled the heavy-weight division since 1949, when Wirtz and Norris entered into an agreement with Joe Louis, then champion. At that time, the Joe Louis Enterprises, Inc., agreed to sign the four leading heavyweight contenders.

Louis was then to resign his title and assign the four exclusive contracts to a corporation to be formed by Wirtz and Norris. Under this agreement, Louis was to receive a salary of $15,000 a year; $150,000 in cash, and part of the stock in the newly formed company.

Republicans See Support in Move To Reduce Budget

Washington — (U.P.) — Republican economists in the House have hailed what they claimed was concrete evidence that the White House is backing Congress' drive to cut President Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget.

Some Democrats, however, were less optimistic.

The Republicans cited a statement by Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, made public Wednesday night, that the Budget Bureau is running a fresh check for possible government economies in hopes of cutting spending both this year and in fiscal 1958.

Brundage, in his testimony last Friday before an appropriations subcommittee, said he hoped "in a couple of weeks" to have some preliminary figures on what could be done. He indicated he would lay his recommendations before the President's cabinet.

Democratic sources viewed Brundage's statement with caution. They noted he had not specifically promised any reductions and, furthermore, had declined to commit himself to send his economy proposals—if any—to Congress.

They pointed out that elsewhere in his testimony Brundage had not appeared too hopeful of any significant downturn in government spending. He estimated the budget for fiscal 1959 at between $70 and $72 billion.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THIRTEEN

Blonde Gets Term As Cattle Rustler

Tunica, Mass. — (U.P.) — An attractive blonde today planned to appeal her conviction and sentence to three years in the state penitentiary on cattle-rustling charges.

An all-male jury deliberated one hour Wednesday, then found Alice Mills, 30, guilty of rustling cattle from a plantation where she worked.

Miss Mills was the only one of nine persons accused of operating a cattle theft ring to be brought to trial. Seven others pleaded guilty and will be sentenced later and one is still at large.

Hille Coleman, director of the Livestock Theft Bureau of the Mississippi Highway patrol, said Miss Mills and the others stole

Irrigation Sprinkler Heads Said Stolen

Eighteen irrigation sprinkler heads, two fireplace liners and a metal pipe have been reported stolen in the last few days, according to the sheriff's office.

Dan Haas, 1006 Niantic st., Medford, reported theft of the fireplace liners and pipe from a house belonging to him at Sams Valley. Reports indicated the items had been sold to a local scrap metal dealer.

Robert D. Pech, route 2, box 259, Medford, reported theft of the sprinkler heads from his residence. They were valued at $135, Pech told sheriff's deputies.

50 to 100 head of cattle from the Abbey - Leatherman plantation, where they worked.

Pilot Whale Gets Burned Dorsal Fin

Palos Verdes Estates, Calif. — (U.P.) — Marineland's three-quarter ton female pilot whale nursed a sunburned dorsal fin and favored larger quarters today.

The still unnamed mammal, the world's only captive whale, was moved from a shallow training tank to the 500,000-gallon oval pool Wednesday where she will have 21 feet of water in which to cavort.

The smaller tank, where the whale was placed following her capture off Catalina Island Feb. 28, was too tiny to cover her dorsal fin.

Divers went into the pool and covered the sore fin with zinc oxide to keep the blubber from cracking, and then transferred the 18-foot creature to the big
