He said, however, that state executive and administrative offices were required to obey laws unless clearly in conflict with the Oregon constitution and also when there was doubt until the laws were declared invalid by the courts.

Reforestation of O&C Lands for 56-57 Year Has Been Completed

The Medford district office of the bureau of land management has announced the completion of its reforestation program for the 1956-57 season which began last September.

According to District Forester E. K. Peterson a total of 295 acres was planted with nursery grown stock, while 388 acres were seeded directly, either through aircraft distribution, broadcast with a hand cyclone seeder, or placed in seed spots in the ground. A rodent repellent, endrin, was used on all the tree seed used for direct seeding.

Additional Seeding Additional Douglas fir seeding was completed on 73 acres by the Robert Dollar Lumber company in the vicinity of Green Mountain and 58 acres by the A. C. Smith Lumber company in Cow creek drainage, both in Southern Douglas county. In addition, 17 acres was seeded to Douglas fir by the Brown Brothers company in the Williams creek area.

Commencing in July, 1957, the 18 O&C counties have recommended that Congress appropriate $1,000,000 from moneys to which the counties are entitled under the distribution formula of O&C timber sale receipts. The money is to be made available to the bureau for an expanded reforestation program.

Under the proposed expanded program plans are presently being made to artificially reforest within 10 years, either by planting or seeding, all those good timber-producing bureau lands which are not now fully stocked with trees.

In additional artificial reforestation will be prescribed for those timber sale areas where experience has demonstrated that prompt and complete natural reforestation to desired tree species cannot be depended upon, Peterson said.

Direct seeding of 200 acres of sugar pine was accomplished by the Bate Lumber company in the Peavine area west of Galice in Josephine county.
