

ILLINOIS VALLEY Elks Award Girl $50 Bond

By HELEN BOTTLE
Cave Junction — Ronnie Rausch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rausch of Cave Junction won second place and a $50 savings bond in the Elks Scholarship contest, sponsored by the Grants Pass Lodge No. 1584.

Ronnie has consistently been at the top of her class scholastically, and often has received a straight A average on her report cards. She is also active in journalism and public speaking, and is junior past honored queen of Bethel No. 38.

Two Illinois Valley high school seniors, Ronnie and Judy Collman, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Collman, participated in the contest last Saturday in Grants Pass.

Six Boy Scouts from Illinois Valley will brave the ice and snow on Operation Icicle during spring vacation, March 13-17. They will be part of a group of Crater Lake Area Explorer Scouts who pack into the mountains above Medford each year for snow sports and winter camping credits.

Scoutmaster John Grubb, of O'Brien Troop 70, will be one of the leaders. Others going from his troop are Jack Campbell, Dennis Bottel and Joe Blanchard.

From Illinois Valley Troop 70, Bob Ellstrom, Leland Rosenberg and Carl (Trip) Hammer Jr. plan to make the trip.

This year the group is to camp at Abbott Butte above Union Creek, instead of the usual place at Camp McLaughlin. Snowshoes and toboggans are being readied, and the boys are checking their supply of heavy clothing and other outdoor gear.

A meeting of the Illinois Valley Federation of Republican Women has been called for Thursday, March 14, at the home of the president, Mrs. Frank Rauber in Cave Junction.

Matters of business, as well as plans for future meetings, will be discussed.

Visiting Mrs. Frank Rauber recently was Mrs. Jack Workman of San Francisco, a former owner of Silver Bar lodge near Crescent City.

At the Earl Boyd home this week, Mrs. Bertha Redmond, Boyd's sister from Forest Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Saffer spent last weekend at Roseburg where they visited Saffer's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson McCarter.

Spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Smith were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cotwin and children of Eugene.

Word has been received here of the death of William Borg, a former resident and owner of the Maple Court in Kerby. Borgman died February 22 at Glendale. He left the valley shortly before the first of the year.

The Cave Junction Great Decisions meeting, planned for last Friday, was postponed until Friday, March 15, and will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Martin on the Caves highway. Mr. Martin is to be the moderator on the subject "Are 'Neutrals' Against the United States?"

Postponement was made necessary because of the Sucker creek dam discussion meeting Friday at the vocational agriculture buildings.

Plans for the Democratic club's annual picnic were made Monday night at the regular meeting in the Legion hall.

Governor Robert Holmes has been invited as a special guest. Data for the picnic will be set to conform with his schedule.

The revised constitution, by-laws and statement of faith of the Cave Junction Community church were unanimously accepted Monday night at a church business meeting.

Dr. Elmer Wilder, acting pastor, read the document. Officers will be elected according to the new by-laws at the annual church meeting May 6.

Although the church has been in existence for over 15 years, a list of charter members has never been made, nor has there been any official record of church membership. Dr. Wilder announced Monday that the charter will be closed on June 4, and those wishing to be included on the roster should express their desire to join the church before that date.

Nearly 50 Illinois Valley landowners are adding apples and other fruit trees to their land this spring.

The young trees, all purchased from Stark Brothers nursery, will be used not only for backyard plantings but for commercial orchards as well.

Clyde Knight is putting in 300 dwarf apple trees on his land near Cave Junction, while William Baskin has started to plant 104 apple trees of the dwarf variety at his property in Takil.

Others who are planning large apple plantings are William Lovejoy, 50 trees; William Rains, 84 trees; and Bob Ford, 100 trees. Lovejoy and Rains are trying out the dwarf's while Ford as ordered all standard size trees.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Viosky gathered Monday night for a potluck dinner and evening of cards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brink.

The party honored the former Illinois Valley couple who left Tuesday after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartwell in Cave Junction.

Winners at cards were Mrs. Earl Boyd and Harry Hartwell, high, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hoskins, low.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herb Drews, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Body, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hoskins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartwell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Mike) Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Sams Bunch, Roy Brink, Mrs. Bertha Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spitz, and Mrs. Frank Rauber.

Leta James, of the James Boys Home at Bridgeview, is visiting at the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening in Grants Pass. She will remain there until after the birth of the newest little Terpening.

A special musical assembly under the direction of Ray Lewis, will be held Tuesday afternoon.

School will be closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

A girls volleyball team played Westside on March 7. The McLaughlin girls won 30 to 28. Members of the team were Charlene Highland, Peggy Keith, Peggy Keith, Barbara Tyler, Marjorie Good, Marie Anderson, Hazel Rawlings, Rita Johnson, Karen Simcox, Barbara Morton, Lorena Bennett, Carolyn Foust, Glenda Glenn, Jeannette Dahlstrom, Jessie Garner, Donna Dammer, Karen Sablin.

HEDRICK JUNIOR HIGH
By Mary Milne
Friday, March 1, the seventh grade had their first dance of the year. They had a "mystery silhouette" contest. The two silhouettes were of Kathleen Cuthill and Mike Florey. The winner of the contest was Norman Olson. The program consisted of Renny Vowell doing an imitation of Elvis Presley singing "Love Me Tender." The seventh grade pep band played "Young Love" and "I Want You, I Need You, I Love You." Cookies and cakes were sold.

Chaperones were Mrs. Mary Ann Athanas, Vincent Bevis and Bruce Nelson.

On Friday, March 8, the 20 contestants who attended the Linfield Forensic meet presented a speech assembly for the student body of Hedrick Junior High school.

Carolyn Mencke, who was a finalist in oration, gave her oration, "Love." John Lacy, who won second place in after dinner speaking, gave his winning speech entitled, "Debate." Darlene Hunt, who entered the finals in serious reading, gave her reading, "Lord Be Merciful."

Margo Preston gave a humorous reading, "The Walz," and Karen Carpenter gave a four-minute impromptu speech on the subject, "World Disarmament."

Plans were completed this week for the Hedrick Freshman party to be held May 18. The

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Yeargan will take their four-year old niece Valeria David home to Costa Mesa this week, and plan to stay for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John David.

Valerie has spent the past month with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Moore Sr., at Kerby.

Carl A. Speith Real Estate company has established a new office in Cave Junction, will Mrs. Harold Crowl in charge.

Mrs. Crowl formerly had the local office for Valley Finance company of Grants Pass.

Speith now has three offices in the Illinois Valley, one on south Highway 99, one in Cave Junction, and the third in Selma.

Tentative plans for a rock and hobby show were made by the Illinois Valley Mineral Hobbies club Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loy (Chief) Tucker in Selma. The show will be held in Cave Junction next fall.

Irene Skinner was awarded a prize by the host. A table of rocks were on display for identification by members.

Guests included Mrs. Loy Tucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. King of Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. John Pickle and Mrs. Barbara Tucker, all of Selma.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served by Mrs. Loy Tucker and Mrs. Dan Tucker.

A program of slides on rocks and minerals is planned for the April meeting to be held at the Frank Loosley home.

Flavorful canned cling peach slices and homogenized milk mixed to satin smoothness in an electric blender make a tasty drink to serve with a luncheon sandwich.

HORN BROOK Team Wins League Title

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN
Hornbrook — The basketball team of the Black Mountains Lumber co. of Hornbrook took the city basketball league championship Tuesday night by defeating Fort Jones 40-34 in a game played in the new gym at Yreka high school.

Fort Jones had won 11 straight city league games before losing to a determined Black Mountain squad in the title game. Members of the Black Mountain team are Carl Pickard, Al McCann, Wayne Bradbury, Larry DeRushia, Lou Robinson, Willis Jones, Burke Barham, Wayne Paulsen, and Rose from Hill.

High man for the evening was De Rushia with 18 points. The championship game was preceded by two preliminary games, with the proceeds from all three games being donated to the Heart fund.

The Hornbrook Grange will hold another in their series of card parties next Friday evening, March 15, at 8 p.m. in the Grange hall. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Everett Jeter spent last week end in Chico, Calif., where their son, Bill, is a student at Chico State college. They attended the Second Annual Motorama staged by Bill's fraternity. Bill was in charge of the ticket selling. They also visited their daughter and new son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Campbell.

A petition bearing the signatures of 54 Hornbrook residents pointed out that the former U.S. highway is still heavily traveled by numerous trucks and buses, particularly logging and lumber trucks, and that school children using the highway are in imminent danger of being killed, due to the lack of proper speed zones. At their meeting Wednesday morning in Yreka, the supervisors delayed approval of the petition pending a personal which she attended as a representative of the lodge. Upon the suggestion of Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Harry Quinn, who represents the Health unit, noble grand Mrs. Lester Parker appointed Mrs. Ruby Quackenbush as alternate representative to attend these meetings.

The attendance contest will end next meeting night, March 20. All Rebekahs are urged to attend that meeting. Mrs. Lester Thompson's side is leading with a total of 59 points, while Mrs. Clyde Kell's side has a count of 54 points at this time. Both groups are expected to have a program for that meeting.

Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served to 28 Rebekahs by Mrs. Paul Molloy, Mrs. Charles Bell, and Mrs. Jerry Herrington.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by two contest groups.

Mrs. Clarence Parsley has returned to her home following a two weeks vacation in California. Mrs. Parsley visited one day in San Jose with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Meier. The Meiers are former residents of southern Oregon. She also went to Calexico, where she spent a part of her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Phillips, then to Mexicali, Mexico for a day of shopping. Mrs. Parsley also visited relatives in San Diego.

The Parsleys are owners of the museum on Sardine creek road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Swindler and son, Gary Lee, who have been living on Fourth avenue, have bought a trailer home and are now living in Medford.

The next meeting of Amethyst Rebekah Friendship club will be held Monday, March 18 at 8 p.m. at the home of the new president, Mrs. Donald Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith and son, Delmer, who have lived for a number of years on Fifth avenue, moved to Sams Valley Thursday, March 7. They will live on the Howard Duggan property.

Next week will begin the annual spring vacation for the Gold Hill schools. The children will be out of school from March 11 through March 15.

GOLD HILL Smorgasbord Nets $238.25

Gold Hill—Mrs. Erwin Hoffman, who is chairman of group three of the Women's Society of the Community Methodist church has announced that the smorgasbord dinner given recently by this group netted $238.25 for the parsonage fund.

Mrs. Hoffman stated that over 300 people attended the dinner. A number came from as far as Eugene, Ore., and many from various parts of the valley.

Final plans were made to purchase two stoves and new stove pipe, at the last meeting of Amethyst Rebekah lodge, Wednesday evening, March 6. The stoves will replace the ones now used in the lodge room at the IOOF hall. The Odd Fellows will install them.

Two Forest Diseases Under Study in Expanded Program

Corvallis — Two of Oregon's dangerous forest diseases—root rot of conifers and needle blight of ponderosa pine—are under study at Oregon State college as part of an expanded regional forest disease research program.

Root rot is one of the most serious disease threats of the Douglas fir and Port Orford cedar lands of western Oregon and needle blight is one of the "first priority" diseases of eastern Oregon's pine regions.

Dr. Lewis F. Roth, forest plant pathologist, is leader of the disease research work for the college's forest experiment station.

To Keep Ahead
Expansion of the forest disease work is recognition, Roth said, of the tremendous toll taken each year by diseases in U.S. and Northwest forests and represents an attempt on the part of the college to "keep ahead" of some of the diseases.

Losses from forest diseases were emphasized by a 1952 study made by the U.S. forest service, Roth pointed out. That study showed that diseases killed three times as many trees as were destroyed by fire in 1952.

Insect losses were seven times greater than fire losses.

In terms of growth loss to trees, however, disease outranked both insects and fire by more than 2 to 1.

The Northwest fortunately has fewer serious disease problems than some other areas of the country, perhaps because it is still a relatively "new" region, Roth said. Northwest tabulations show that insects and weather are the two biggest killers of trees at present with disease ranking third.

The losses from disease are staggering, nevertheless. Some 1½ billion cubic feet of timber are lost annually in the Northwest to five disease problems—root rots, heart rots, blister rust, mistletoe and needle blight. Another 200 million cubic feet of growing stock and 1 billion board feet of saw timber are destroyed annually by unclassified diseases.

Disease research is especially important in the Northwest, however, because of the great disease "hazard" that exists in the uninterrupted tracts of Douglas fir and pine. Wherever there are big regions of the same type of plants, the chances for rapid spread of any diseases introduced into the area are great, Roth explained.
