

Audrey Swoape Gains Third All-Events Mantle in Oregon Ladies' Pin Tourney

Three championships were determined yesterday in closing day contention but an unprecedented third crown in all-events by Medford's Audrey Swoape and the record-shattering effort of a Prineville doubles duo remained the highlights of the final week end in the Oregon Women's Bowling association's 15th annual tournament at Medford Bowling lanes.

Carolyn Hildreth, 17-year-old North Salem high student, with a 573 in Class B singles, Marilyn Barthel and Ruth Howlett, Eugene, with a 1065, in Class B doubles, and Evelyn Kobow, Lebanon, with 1500 in Class C all-events, wrapped up titles in the Sunday competition. The Lebanon woman rolled in the late shift Sunday.

In all, six championships were decided over the concluding week end of the six weeks tourney which opened on Feb. 2.

Secret Behind Assault

Mrs. Swoape, a 160-ounce contender, rolled 542 in doubles and 538 in singles on Friday night and with a 557 a week ago for Trail Creek Lumber company had a 1637 in Class A all-events. The score withstood Saturday and Sunday assault to earn for her again the laurels which she had claimed in 1946 and 1947. Virginia Parisi, Portland, 1941 and 1942 winner, is the only other keeper to take the OSWBA all-events more than once.

Artice Wilson and Carol Duzan, Prineville, on Saturday exceeded the class record by 37 pins and the all-time high by 15 in rolling into top spot in A doubles with 1148. The other mantle to be claimed over the week end was in Class C teams. Bjork's Dairy, Seaside, took the top with a 2224, equal to the record established in 1956 by Club Yachts from the Oregon coast.

Champs Listed

Ten leaders from the five previous sessions on the Medford alleys withstood challenge during the final three days. Champs in those 10 categories are:

Teams — Class A, Lucca Lounge, Klamath Falls, 2513; Class B, Starlite Lounge, Portland, 2338; Class D, Pacific Loggettes, Grants Pass, 1991. Doubles, Class C, Judy Johnson and Edith Redfield, Medford, 1043 (new record); Class D, Virginia Finch and Irene Doty, Roseburg, 840. Singles — Class A, Helen Rozman, Eugene, 607; Class C, Robbie Flak, Portland, 534. Class B, Marie Pletchmy, Waldport, 499. All-events—Class B, Edith Redfield, Medford, 1508; Class D, Lillian Olson, Rockaway, 1291.

Starlite's score held up all the way after the Portland club rolled on the opening week end of the tournament.

Two Class A defending champs made unsuccessful bids for second straight titles during the last two days. Timber Structures, Portland, team winner in 1956, managed eighth spot with a 2397 this time. Dorothy Niday, Vancouver, who won all-events last year, finished in a tie for third yesterday with 1613. She was ninth in singles with 576.

Class A doubles action yesterday saw Gloria Johnson and Dottie Coudare, Albany, better the old record by one pin with 1112 for second place. In Class B doubles the leadership switched hands three times during the last week end. Sis Beck and Helen Culy, Medford, rolled 1025 on Friday and Bernie Barthel and Lillian Moreland, Redmond, 1035 on Saturday before the Sunday 1065 by the Barthel-Howlett combination.

The 1043 carded by Judy Johnson, McMinnville, and Edith Redfield, Medford, on Feb. 23 in Class C doubles, was the first record to fall in the tourney. Helen Rozman's 607 for the A singles banner was her first 600 game.

Women's Golf

Awards for winter golf play were presented last Thursday at the Rogue Valley Women's Golf association luncheon. Winter play trophy went to Mrs. H. E. Nulton. Mrs. Richard Finch placed second with third and fourth places, respectively, going to Mrs. Warren Lesseg and Mrs. T. H. Culbertson.

November-December Ringer awards (for low net in each group) were won by Mrs. H. E. Nulton in "A" group, Mrs. W. L. Stark in "B" group, and Mrs. Ward Samuelson for "C" and "D" groups, January-February Ringer winners were: "A" group, Mrs. Noble Vincent, "B" group, Mrs. Warren Lesseg and "C" and "D" groups, Mrs. Fred Conrad and Mrs. L. T. Anderson (tie).

Low Net Play

Day's play for Thursday, March 7, was for low net. Mrs. William Schel won in "A" with a net 43. There was a tie between Mrs. E. E. Radzweit and Mrs. Ken Teeter in "B" group with a net 41. Mrs. Fred Conrad was the winner of "C" with a net 47 and Mrs. Frank A. Benesh won "D" honors with a net 43.

There will be a board meeting at the country club at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, March 12, pairings are listed for Thursday, March 14 when the play will be "speccs."

They were made up of those ladies who signified their desire to be paired at last Thursday's luncheon. Other members desiring to be paired in the regular Thursday play are requested to telephone Mrs. F. L. Flink (3-1536). The lady's name appearing first in the pairings is to call the other two to arrange playing times.

Medfordites Rank High

Joy Fletcher, Portland, held A all-events lead with 1606, going into the final week end of the tourney but was bettered by five ladies.

Along with the championship performances by Mrs. Swoape and Mrs. Redfield, there were a number of other Medford women among the leaders in various categories in the final standings.

In the high average group, Class A, Hawkinston Tire Tread was seventh place team with 2406. Dell Christianson, who bowled with Pearl McDonald, Madras, had a share of ninth in doubles with 1037. Anna Dale Bohannon was third in singles with 596. Mable Clark sixth with 582 and Vera Cummings 10th with 575 and Mrs. Christianson was fifth in all events with 1607.

Mrs. Christianson also had high series recorded in the tournament with a 626 in team contention. Mrs. Beck collected high game laurels with her 264 in doubles.

NC Tar Heels Face Tough Court Task

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

North Carolina, knowing that it faces the toughest job ever handed to the nation's No. 1 team, was squarely on the spot today as "four-ring circus" known as "tournament time" opened in college basketball.

The top-ranked, unbeaten Tar Heels earned a berth in the NCAA tournament Saturday night when they won the Atlantic Coast conference tourney, but Coach Frank McGuire's squad now stands less than halfway along the road to proving its No. 1 national standing.

Never before in history has a team called the "nation's best" been asked to win as many post-season games in a row as the Tar Heels.

Three Five More

The total is eight games—three in the ACC Tourney, and then five more in the NCAA. By contrast, second-ranked Kansas will need to win only four games (all in the NCAA) to win the crown and so will third-ranked Kentucky and fourth-ranked Southern Methodist.

The Tar Heels wrapped up the ACC title with a 95-75 romp over South Carolina in the finals as their Lennie Rosenbush outscored Grady Wallace, 36-28, in a duel of all-Americans.

West Virginia nailed down the last berth in the NCAA tourney Saturday when it captured the Southern conference championship with a 67-52 victory over Washington and Lee.

UO Ducks Tip Oregon State

Eugene — (UP) — Oregon ended a dismal basketball season on a joyful note Saturday night by edging Oregon State 65-61.

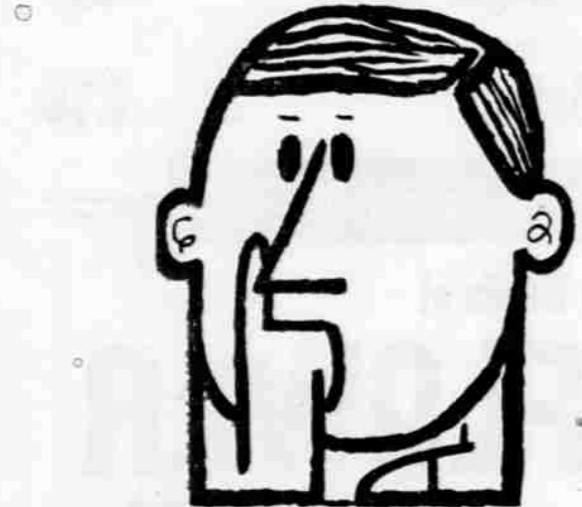

Two players who will be back next season, Charlie Franklin and Hal Duffy, led Oregon's attack with 21 and 16 points respectively. Ed Bingham, the senior from Medford, added 13 points.

Dave Gambee, Oregon State's third highest all-time scorer, was "held" to 15 points but won the PCC scoring title over Doug Smart of Washington.

Best Job

Oregon finished its first season under Steve Belko in last place with a 2-14 record. But Athletic Director Leo Harris told the crowd before Saturday's game that Belko had done "the best coaching job in the Pacific Coast Conference this season."

Oregon State, by losing, missed a chance to the Stanford for fifth place. The Beavers wound up sixth with a 6-10 mark.

Findlay Nabs Coast Toga

Eugene — (UP) — Oregon State won the third straight Pacific Coast Wrestling championship Saturday by racking up 78 points. Two other Oregon teams followed at their heels, Oregon with 65 and Portland State with 41.

Individual champions were: 115-Pound, UCLC; 123-Noel Neuschwander, OSC; 130-Lee Allen, OU; 137-Wilbur Bauer, Portland State; 147-Larry Wright, OSC; 157-Lou Taucher, OSC; 167-Tom Findlay, Southern Oregon; 191-John Dustin, OSC, and Heavyweight-Mike Clock, Lewis & Clark.

Is That So?

Whenever an outdoorsman paces off his campsite, a salt water fisherman spreads his arms to give the measure of a big fish; or a trencherman orders a steak by the distance between his thumb and fingers, each harkens back to age-old measurements.

Measure is so much a part of our everyday living that we hardly stop to think about it. But our food, our clothes, our clocks, the floor we walk on, everything from atom to star, including the type of this column — how wide, how high, how widely spaced between lines is all measured.

Without measurements, our very civilization would collapse: we could not bridge a river, build an automobile, or a telephone, bake a loaf of bread or build a skyscraper (wonderful word, that).

Measure begins as far back as the old stone age and it begins with man's own bare foot and a little stick he picked off the ground.

In most countries, the length of a man's bare foot became a standard of measure. So firmly fixed that there is a word for "foot" as a measure in every European language, ancient and modern.

Because men's feet varied in length, the standard varied; in ancient Wales, it was nine inches — reckoned in today's length; in Rome, 11½ inches; in Greece, 12½ inches; in both Egypt and early Germany, 13 inches.

The Greeks divided their foot into 12 thumbnail breadths. This 12-unit foot passed into use in Rome; thence the Romans took it to Britain along with the Latin name, "uncia" which means a 12th part. This the Anglo-Saxons called an "ynce," and today we say inch.

Standard Inch Declared
King Edward II of England in 1324, decreed that three barley-corns "round and dry" laid end to end should be the standard inch. But only the cobblers still go along with this measure—and so our shoes are still measured by this "barley measure."

A "hand" is either three or four inches, the width of the human hand depending on whether you include the thumb or not. The hand with the thumb, four inches, is still used to measure horses.

The distance a man can stretch out his two arms in a straight line is a "fathom," taken from the Anglo-Saxon word "faethm," meaning chiefly in mariners' or nautical measure for sounding ocean depths. (And by fisherman who want to show the length of the fish that got away.)

A "pace" is the length of a man's stride from the heel of one foot to the heel of the other. Usually, this is considered 2½ feet—but when a man paces off a distance for measure, he ex-

Kalapus on NW All-Star

Portland — (UP) — Two players each from co-champions Linfield and Pacific were picked on the all Northwest Conference basketball team selected by the coaches.

Bill Machamer and Jackie Riley of Linfield and Ron Barendse and Tom Bourgeois of Pacific made the team along with Bob Becker of Whitman.

On the second team were Don Hoy and Ed Grossenbacher of Willamette, Jerry Kalapus of Pacific, Duane Brady of Lewis and Clark, and Max Johnson of Whitman.

Wall Victor At Pensacola

Pensacola, Fla. — (UP) — Art Wall, always a steady wage-earner on golf's tourney trail but seldom the big prize winner, guaranteed his 1957 success today with a $2,000 check for winning the Pensacola Open tournament.

Wall, of Pocono Manor, Pa., had to come from behind to turn the trick on the final 18 holes Sunday — overtaking Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, on the eighth green with an eagle and remaining in front the rest of the way with a masterful six-under par 66.

The Pennsylvanian's total for the 72 holes was 273, 15 strokes under par, and two strokes ahead of Thomson who picked up $1,500 with a 70-275.

Linfield Beaten By LA Staters

Los Angeles — (UP) — Linfield dropped its NCAA small college basketball playoff to Los Angeles State 85-74 here Saturday night.

Coach Roy Helsler's Wildcats trailed 40-32 at the half and were unable to catch the host school in the second half.

Jackie Riley of the Oregon school salvaged scoring honors with 26 points while Bill Machamer hit 19.

Barbara Romack First To Win 3 Major Titles

St. Augustine, Fla. — (UP) — Barbara Romack, who says her mind is more on romance than on golf, Saturday became the first woman to take three major winter circuit golf titles since the late Babe Zaharias' amateur days.

The Sacramento, Calif., amateur used her new-found "relaxed" putting skill to defeat 16-year-old Ann Middlemas of Panama City, Fla., 5 and 4, in the tournament finals over the Ponce De Leon course here.

Columbian Mile Won by Delany

By UNITED PRESS

Ron Delany, rapidly becoming one of the most unpopular mile champions in indoor track history, leads the talent-rich Villanova University squad to Chicago this Saturday for the Daily News Meet, leaving two Eastern meets with colorful but less important cards.

Delany became the first man in history to sweep all Madison Square Garden miles two straight years Saturday when he won the Columbian Mile in the Knights of Columbus Meet that wound up the Garden season.

King Edward II of England in 1324, decreed that three barley-corns "round and dry" laid end to end should be the standard inch. But only the cobblers still go along with this measure—and so our shoes are still measured by this "barley measure."

A "hand" is either three or four inches, the width of the human hand depending on whether you include the thumb or not. The hand with the thumb, four inches, is still used to measure horses.

The distance a man can stretch out his two arms in a straight line is a "fathom," taken from the Anglo-Saxon word "faethm," meaning chiefly in mariners' or nautical measure for sounding ocean depths. (And by fisherman who want to show the length of the fish that got away.)

A "pace" is the length of a man's stride from the heel of one foot to the heel of the other. Usually, this is considered 2½ feet—but when a man paces off a distance for measure, he ex-

MERCURY / 57

The fresh look in styling

Unmistakably new is the fresh, fleet look of Mercury/57. Devoid of meaningless ornamentation, it speaks an invitation to the open road with its low, sweeping lines, its appearance of power and grace. This impression is confirmed in your first drive—as you feel the instant response of its great new engine, its ease of handling, the deep comfort afforded by its larger body. See Mercury '57.
