

ILLINOIS VALLEY Roads Cause Three Crashes

by HELEN BOTTEL

Cave Junction—Wet and icy roads caused three automobile and truck accidents here last week.

Latest mishap came Tuesday night when a car driven by Evelyn Shaffer of Kerby skidded on Highway 199 between Cave Junction and Kerby and turned on its side in a ditch.

Passengers were Mrs. Shaffer's daughter, Rene, and Wilma Wilkie of Kerby. No serious injuries were reported.

An Asbury truck jack-knifed at the approach to the Westfork bridge near Cave Junction Monday. On the same day a car belonging to Art Drewes of Cave Junction skidded into a ditch near Selma.

As of late Tuesday, official rainfall at the Redwood Highway inspection station for March totaled 11.45 inches, 3.13 more than was recorded during March, 1956.

Jobs Owen, Al Boucher and Howard Beers were initiated into the Illinois Valley Lions Club Tuesday. Introduced as a guest was Ted Rogers, a new business man in Cave Junction.

A program of ventriloquism and magic tricks was presented by Olive Wilson of Cave Junction.

Plans for a Young Adult fellowship group for Immanuel Methodist church were made here Tuesday by several young married couples.

First meeting of the new organization is set for 8 p.m. Friday, March 22, at the church.

A special meeting has been called Saturday, March 23, by Belt Lodge No. 18, when the Master Mason degree will be conferred. Jobs Daughters of the Kerby Bethel will serve refreshments following the ceremony.

The Bridgeview Community church young people's group will be hosts to Selma Baptist church young people at a rally Sunday, March 17, at 6:30 p.m.

Each group will provide a program of songs and music. Eddie Pullen, president of the Bridgeview young people's organization will be master of ceremonies.

Because the Eagles unit in Brookings is giving up its charter, the Illinois Valley auxiliary now has several transparencies. They were originally given by the local unit to the Brookings group when it was granted a charter six years ago.

Remaining Brookings auxiliary members have requested membership in the Kerby lodge. Nomination of officers is planned for the March 31 Eagles and auxiliary meeting.

Guests at the Les Henrys over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Les Reagle of San Jose, Mrs. Henry's brother and sister-in-law, who visited them before going on to Salem to visit other relatives.

Senior boys Tuesday afternoon defeated the coach-loaded faculty team in a basketball game which ended, 35-31.

Student hoopers were Larry Preston, Mike Piller, Dennis Kennedy, Dennis Hogan, and Pat Simington. On the faculty team were Vernon Larson, Dick Eddy, Wes Peters, Gale Davis, Don Smith, and substitutes Don Brown and Georgia Adams.

Visiting relatives and friends here Thursday and Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Lindon Sowell of Eugene, former residents of the Illinois Valley.

Last week relatives gathered at the Richard Sowell home for a family reunion which brought together the four Sowell brothers, Lindon, Jack, Edward and Alton, their sister, Mildred Tyler, and their families for the first time in six years. Present to welcome Lindon and Margaret were Elizabeth Holland, Dick and Ethel Sowell, Alton and Edith Sowell and their children, Norman, Beverley, Dickey and Janie; Edward and Kay Sowell, their children, Diane, Jackie and Mike; Jack and Wanda Sowell and daughter, Sandra Lee; Mildred Tyler and children, Jan, Kathleen and Jack Ronald.

Three members of the Guardian Council of Jobs Daughters Bethel No. 36 were reelected Tuesday at the O'Brien home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Snider. They are Fay and Homer Snider, guardian and associate guardian, and Mrs. Alfred Campbell, guardian secretary.

New officers elected were Mrs. Ralph Burns, guardian of music and Mrs. Bob Steimer, guardian treasurer.

Tentative car pooling arrangements were made for Grand Session in Portland next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Hoff are in San Francisco arranging for passports for their European trip this summer. Staying at the Hoff ranch until they return Thursday are Mrs. Gilbert Clayton and Amanda Buckles of Woodland Echoes Motel.

Peggy Lorraine, six-pound four-ounce daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rosenberg, was born at Josephine General hospital Tuesday at 9:40 a.m.

The Rev. Merle Arenson, of Spokane, Wash., conducted church services at Bridgeview Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Arneson and children were guests at the Leonard Beard home last week before

HORNBROOK Officer Attends School

By MRS. H. H. CHAPMAN

Hornbrook — Mel Cozzallo, a deputy in the sheriff's office in Yreka, returned this week after completing a five-week course on basic law enforcement at St. Mary's college in Santa Clara, Calif.

More than 50 northern California police officers and deputy sheriffs were enrolled in the course. Most of them were young officers without too much working experience, according to Karl O. Drexel, director of East Contra Costa Junior college, which was one of the several agencies sponsoring the program.

Others were the State department of Justice, Contra Costa County sheriff's department, the State department of education, and the bureau of industrial education.

Experienced officers from Bay area police departments and sheriff's offices served as instructors for the 228 hour course. Objectives of the class, according to Drexel, were the teaching of police fundamentals, and use of equipment, elimination of hazards to peace officers, and the development of uniformity leaving for missionary work in Alamos, Mexico. Mrs. Arneson, the former Ruth Beard, taught Sunday school at the Bridgeview Community church 10 years ago.

Mrs. Howard Beers and Mrs. Ken Hamilton left Sunday for Boulder, Montana, where they will visit the Enterprise Uranium Mines as part of their 10-day trip.

Glen Franklin is the name of the newest boy in the William H. Woodbury family at O'Brien. The baby was born Saturday morning at Josephine General hospital.

About 125 people attended the second Illinois Valley Ministerial Association Singerspiration Sunday afternoon at Selma Baptist church, when specialty numbers were combined with group singing.

Veterans of World War I held a round table discussion at their meeting in the VFW hall Tuesday. Wives of the Veterans met in the auxiliary kitchen, and later joined the men for refreshments and a social hour.

Alice Vahrenwald, Daisy Nassen and Grayce Hudson gave a program on "The Church and Mental Health" at the Women's Society for Christian Service meeting Monday at Immanuel Methodist church.

President Blanche Robinson and several members plan to attend the Rogue subdistrict conference at Gold Hill Methodist church, March 27, and later Eugene district meeting at Dillard.

Mrs. Mel Cozzallo, an art instructor in Yreka high school, left Friday with a group of her students, for a trip to San Francisco, where they will make a tour of the de Young Museum and other points of interest to students of art.

Arthur Edward Chase, 59, of Ashland, was buried Friday morning in the Henley-Hornbrook cemetery following funeral services held at Litwiller's Mountain View Chapel in Ashland. Mr. Chase was a former resident of Hornbrook and among his survivors are two step-brothers, Mort Stryker of Hornbrook, and Charlie Stryker of Yreka.

Ed Smith was taken by Girdner's ambulance from the hospital in Yreka to a San Francisco hospital on Thursday for further examination and treatment.

Mrs. Smith, who teaches in the local grammar school, and daughter, Dorothy, a teacher in the Yreka grammar school, drove to Corning where they were joined by the Smiths' son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. Smith and son Mike. All continued together to San Francisco. Their other son, Robert, who is employed by Copco in Medford, was unable to accompany them, but plans to drive down later and bring them all home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nother of Salem, Ore., accompanied by their daughter, Miss Donna Nother, who is a teacher in the Portland public schools, arrived on Thursday for a few days' visit with Mrs. Nother's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walsh and daughter, Sharee.

On Wednesday Mrs. Bertha Bradley gave a dinner in honor of the birthday of her sister, Mrs. Will Rogers, of Klamath River. Other guests were Mr. Rogers, Mrs. Grace Quigley, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ohlund.

Mrs. Kay Kettelwell drove to Medford on Thursday and spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Rukovinn. Accompanying her were Mrs. Laura Swinnerton, and going as far as Ashland, was Mrs. Clara Howard, who remained to spend the week end with her son, Otto Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Haworth made a business trip to Redding on Thursday, and also visited friends there.

The Women's Missionary So-

Portland—O.P.—Edward Robinson, 23-year-old Port Arthur, Texas, merchant seaman, was pronounced dead at a Portland hospital Friday, apparently from an overdose of narcotics.

The home of Mrs. Harry Chapman was the location for the meeting of the Women's Society of the Hornbrook Community Methodist church on Thursday. Devotionals were led by the hostess, followed by the regular business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Clarence Gowing.

Election of officers was held with the following reelected for their second term: president, Mrs. Clarence Gowing; vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Adams; secretary, Mrs. Minnie Bloomingcamp; and treasurer, Mrs. Ardon Burns.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 28, at the church, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Those attending are asked to bring dishes for a potluck lunch to be served at noon, after which the meeting will be resumed for the afternoon.

Guidance Clinic to Present TV Program

A program concerning guidance services will be presented by the Southern Oregon Guidance clinic staff at 3:30 p.m. today on the College Hour on Station KBES-TV. The program is being presented in cooperation with Southern Oregon college.

Featured in the program will be typical scenes from a psychological test and a psychiatric interview. They are parts of a "get acquainted" tour of one of the clinic's local agencies.

Among those appearing on the program will be Dr. Harry K. Danielson, Medford psychiatrist who contributes one day a week to the clinic; Dr. Harold Dickman, clinical psychologist from the University of Oregon, who will demonstrate projective personality testing; Dick Corum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Corum, 30 Willamette st., Medford; Vincent Bevis, principal of Hedrick Junior High school; and Dr. Aubrey Hill, Ashland.
