New York —(U.P.)—You can use fancier words, but from this corner the greatest man in baseball is Don Zimmer of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Four years ago he almost lost his life when struck by a pitched ball. Last season he was threatened with blindness after being hit by a pitch. In the latest episode, he was sent into the dirt by a knuckdown pitch—and got up to hit a home run on the next delivery.

O "Little Zip," who hails from Cincinnati, needed six years even to get a look in the majors. Up there he was as a shortstop "Zip" behind the eight ball. Still, he stayed with it despite

Don Quintet Not Nervous Over Kansas

San Francisco —(U.P.)—The University of San Francisco basketball squad leaves tonight for Kansas City in quest of its third straight national NCAA title.

It will be an unprecedented feat if the Dons can pull it off. This time, however, they're not in the least bit nervous about facing the Kansas Jayhawks and Wilt Chamberlain.

The Dons have impressed friends and foes alike with their poise—a quality they learned in facing big crowds all over the country in winning their two previous NCAA titles.

It was this poise that helped them to a 50-46 victory over University of California in the NCAA quarter-finals last week end.

The Dons have also another quality—they can play basketball, as a 20-6 season record will attest.

Coach Doesn't Doubt Coach Phil Woolpert had no doubt about the outcome of the game.

"We can beat Kansas. We'll need shooting from everybody. We'll have to maintain our defensive record and we'll have to put pressure on Chamberlain. But we can do it because we have the height."

"We have Mike Farmer, who's 7-7; Art Day, who's 6-9; and Mike Rousseau, who's 6-5. And Gene Brown is only 6-2 1/2, but he jumps like 6-6."

"Al Dumar is our little guy—5-11—but he's coming along as our playmaker."

Asked how he proposed to stop the 7-2 Chamberlain, Woolpert said:

"We may use five men against him, or we may ignore him. We learned from films we have seen that Chamberlain is practically uncatchable."

the near-fatal injury at St. Paul in 1953. On that occasion, a burly fast ball pitcher named Jim Kirk fired one high and inside and Zimmer was told later he ducked into it.

For 13 days he was unconscious. When he awakened, after an operation, Zimmer couldn't talk. Trying a comeback at year's end, he admittedly was so weak that he "couldn't hit the ball out of the infield."

In the spring of 1954 I was strong again but I didn't know whether I'd be plate shy," he says. "But I found out soon enough. In the first four game series, against Toledo, the pitchers knocked me down seven times. But I didn't mind. I knew after that I was going to be just like I was before."

So much for that, at the end of the season, he was up with Brooklyn and has been there ever since.

Not painlessly, however. Playing in the winter leagues in late 1955 he suffered an arm fracture and an appendicitis attack. But by spring, Zimmer was "zipping" again.

In July, he was beaned again. Zimmer's left cheek was fractured this time and for a time it was feared he might lose the sight of his left eye. But in late September he was back.

So this week, down in the Dodger training camp in Florida, a six-foot, three-inch Detroit pitcher named Jim Bunning fired a fast ball which was zooming toward Zimmer's head when "Little Zip" escaped by taking a dive into the dirt.

And, on Bunning's next pitch, the undismayed Zimmer teed off for the three-run homer which won the exhibition game.

Reese, who still stands between Zimmer and that long-coveted shortstop berth, shook his head admiringly.

Dick Stuart Shines For Pittsburgh Nine

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer The Pittsburgh Pirates are becoming convinced that rookie outfielder Dick Stuart is almost as good as he says he is.

A 24-year-old native of San Francisco who walloped 66 home runs for Lincoln, Neb., last season and says he might do as well in the majors, Stuart hit a pair of 400-foot round-trippers Tuesday as the Pirates beat the Chicago White Sox, 9-3. It was the eighth win in 11 games for the Pirates and the fifth loss in 10 games for the White Sox.

It's been all or nothing at all for the big fellow, however, because he now has hit five homers and struck out eight times in four games. He fanned all three times he failed to hit the ball out of the park Tuesday.

Manager Bobby Bragan has not decided whether he has a new Mickey Mantle or a new Pat Seery on his hands, but he's sure of one thing: When Stuart connects, it doesn't make any difference who the pitcher is. The rookie's homers have come off five different pitchers with widely varying styles—knuckleballer Granny Hamner, hard-throwing Art Fowler, sidewheeler Tom Acker, southpaw 20-game winner Billy Pierce and Gerry Staley, who mixes low breaking curves with a knuckler.

Brooks Robinson, a 19-year-old rookie who is making a strong bid to take George Kell's third-base job, hit a homer and a triple to lead the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Mickey Mantle's fourth homer of the spring marked the New York Yankees' 6-5 win over the Milwaukee Braves. The world champions, who have won four straight games and seven of 11, scored two runs in the ninth inning with doubles by Marv Throneberry and Gil McDougald the key blows.

Jimmy Piersall slammed a grand-slam homer off Sam Jones as the Boston Red Sox whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-6. Bob Lemon and rookie catcher Bob Schmidt homered to lead the New York Giants to a 9-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Rookie outfielder Niel Christley's two-run homer in the ninth inning enabled the Washington Senators to beat the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-4. Gus Bell, Bobby Henrich and George Crowe homered for the Redlegs.

Johnny Groth blasted a homer to lead off the 10th inning and provide the Kansas City Athletics with a 6-5 verdict over the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Philadelphia Phillies handed the Detroit Tigers their eighth loss in 10 exhibition games when Joe Lonnett's homer and singles by Fred Van Dusen, Ed Bouchee and Bob Bowman produced an 11th-inning, 6-5 triumph. Harry Anderson and Van Dusen also homered for the Phillies while Harvey Kuenn and Charley Maxwell hit round-trippers for the Tigers.

Sned Knots In Seminole Palm Beach, Fla.—(U.P.)—Sam Sned was involved in a three-way tie for first place going into the second and final round of the Seminole golf tournament today.

Sned looked mighty sharp Tuesday in carving out a three-under-par 69 against a brisk offshore wind.

Lloyd Mangrum and Bud Holscher, both of Apple Valley, Calif., matched Sned's score, while Jimmy Demaret of Kiamnesia Lake, N.Y., was right at the leaders' heels with a 70.

Joey Giambra Halts Andrews Oakland, Calif.—(U.P.)—Joey Giambra, sporting a new-found knockout punch, eyed a bout today with the veteran Kid Gavilan, but said he wouldn't mind meeting Gene Fullmer for the world middleweight crown if the bout could be arranged.

The soft spoken Buffalo, N.Y., boxer, now campaigning out of San Francisco, registered a total of five knockdowns Tuesday night while hammering out a six round technical knockout over Al Andrews, of St. Paul, Minn.

The fight actually was halted between the sixth and seventh rounds when commission doctor Louis Kameny ruled that Andrews could not continue because of a cut eye.

Golden Glovers In Video Bout Chicago—(U.P.)—Golden Gloves fighters from New York and Chicago tangled tonight in the 30th annual inter-city bouts, but television fans won't know the names of the battlers until the gong sounds.

New York —(U.P.)—Living room fight fans can look ahead to watching the Wednesday night television bouts for at least another two years.

The American Broadcasting Co., which televises the weekly fights announced Tuesday it has entered into an agreement with the International Boxing club to extend their present series through June 1, 1959.

ON WEST SQUAD New York —(U.P.)— Maurice King of Kansas and Mel Wright of Oklahoma A&M have been named to the 10-man West squad which will meet the East in the New York Herald Tribune's annual all-star college basketball game in Madison Square Garden, March 30. Their selections completed the West squad.

Pasadena, Calif.—(U.P.)—The Vancouver Mounties snappd a three-game losing streak by defeating the Sacramento Solon baseball club 7 to 2 Tuesday.

Temple, Bradley Cop NIT Quarter-Finals

By JOHN GRIFFIN New York —(U.P.)—Guy (The New Cousy) Rodgers of Temple stood out today as the top individual star seen so far in the National Invitation tournament, but even Temple Coach Harry Litwack had to admit, "I've never seen anything like that Bradley team."

Rodgers really did look like he might become as great some day as Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics, scoring 26 points to lead Temple to a 77-66 victory over Dayton in the NIT quarter-finals Tuesday night.

But Bradley stunned the 10,543 fans with its 116-81 triumph over Xavier of Ohio—coming from 21 points behind to win easily and, in the bargain, smash three Madison Square Garden scoring records. Despite Rodgers' individual brilliance, second into the role of title favorite.

"Press" Does It The Braves from Peoria, Ill. went into an all-court press after falling behind Xavier, 38-17, in the first 11 1/2 minutes. The maneuver turned the game upside down. Xavier suddenly could do nothing right and Bradley could do little wrong.

Historians could recall no NIT game in history that changed color so completely. Bradley whittled away 13 points of the three minutes of the second half and then romped home to set a Garden record for points in one game, points in one half, 72 in the second, and total free throws—42.

Bradley will meet Temple in one semi-final Thursday night. St. Bonaventure will oppose Memphis State in the other and the winners will clash in the nationally-televised finale Saturday at 2 p.m. (EST).

Tuesday night's results both could be regarded as upsets, although the winners were the teams that had been given bytes into the quarter-finals. Broadway odds-makers had favored Xavier and Dayton, and now have guessed wrong on seven of the eight games in the tourney.

Hollywood Tops Portland 11-2 Glendale, Calif.—(U.P.)—The Portland Beavers returned to practice today to try to whip themselves back into winning shape.

The Beavers boasted a 2-0 exhibition record until Tuesday, when the Hollywood Stars rolled over them, 11-2.

Hartford, Conn.—(U.P.)—Judge Joseph J. Pauliso told a defendant accused of stealing a sack of coal: "You were caught holding the bag."

Some New Faces At Rifle Shoot Some new faces appeared on the scene at the weekly rifle shoot of the Phoenix Rifle club last night.

Jack Schauble of Shady Cove who just joined the National Rifle association shot 355 for his first night. Joe Waltz, also of Shady Cove, did well for a beginner with 336. Phyllis Taylor, a junior, who did well in the Roseburg Rifle match recently was pressing some of the seniors with a score of 350 with iron sights.

The juniors are practicing for their sectional match in Roseburg, March 30.

Phoenix Gun club has extended an invitation to everyone interested in shooting to come Tuesday evenings to enjoy the sport. High five for last night were Clinton Charley 391, Jim Bolton 388, Bill Townes, 381, Chuck Taylor 374 and Schauble 355.

PADRES RALLY Riverside, Calif.—(U.P.)—The San Diego Padres rallied in the ninth inning of an exhibition baseball game yesterday to beat the Los Angeles Angels 7 to 6. The Pads trailed 6 to 0 after ers.

Aleutian Earthquakes Equal To Many Bombs New York—(U.P.)—The 11-day series of earthquakes in the Aleutian Islands have rocked the earth with a force equivalent to 10,000 atom bombs of the type that destroyed Hiroshima, it was estimated today.

The comparison was drawn by the Rev. Joseph Lynch, Fordham University seismologist, whose instruments recorded four new quakes from the area in the last 24 hours.

Kingsley Named Beaver President Portland—(U.P.)—G. A. (Arch) Kingsley, local lumber company owner, last night was elected president of the Portland baseball club succeeding Clay Brown who resigned recently.

Kingsley has been vice-president of the team since it became a community-owned project in 1954.

Fair Would Emphasize All Economy Phases Salem —(U.P.)—The man who will become Oregon's director of agriculture after the Legislature ends says he favors a state fair which would emphasize all phases of Oregon's economy.

Rep. Robert J. Steward, Keating Democrat, testified on a bill to abolish the State Fair commission and turn the fair over to the Agriculture Department.

Steward said the fair should not be restricted to agriculture. He added that he would vote for the bill if it reached the House but that it would be "presumptuous" of him to recommend whether it should be passed or defeated.

Steward has been named to take over the Agriculture Department after the current Legislature ends.

Californians Beat Ducks

Berkeley, Calif.—(U.P.)—Oregon suffered its first loss on its California baseball invasion yesterday by dropping a 5-1 decision to the California Bears.

The Ducks made eight errors in the game. Reserve first sacker Ron Dodge who suffered an ankle injury in the 3-1 win over the Cal Aggies Monday returned to the lineup. Still out is regular first sacker Jim Rice who has a dislocated shoulder.

PEARSON SPURS SEALS Fullerton, Calif.—(U.P.)—San Francisco's tiny Albie Pearson smashed a triple, double and single Tuesday to spark the Seals to a 7-6 win over Seattle.
