

Korean Christian Radio Ends Two Years on the Air

The Christian radio station in Seoul — Station HLYK, the "Radio Voice of the Church in Korea" — has now completed two years of broadcasting. A Methodist missionary, Donald T. Payne, of La Junta, Colo., is manager of the station which is operated by an interdenominational agency — RAVEMCO. Other Protestant church cooperate in the program.

The two years have seen steady expansion in the broadcasting of this evangelistic radio station. Time on the air has increased in the two years from 31 to 50 hours per week, averaging more than two hours each morning and five each evening. Audience surveys in Seoul indicate that fully one-third of the radio homes in the capital city prefer HLYK to all other stations. The first one hundred battery radios, "Portable Missionaries," are being assembled and will soon be doing duty in as many country churches. Each church will thus become a listening center for that village.

A captain in the RKO army wrote from a frontline base surrounded by thick woods and high mountains: "In the dugouts along the front lines, radio is a more effective evangelist than any chaplain. It is our greatest pleasure that even in such a dangerous place (close to the Chinese Communist army) God's words are to be heard on your station."

Station HLYK is a cooperative project of Korean National Christian Council. Its general program includes regular broadcasting of fine music, gospel messages, and drama.

New Church Rises in Fairbanks, Alaska

The "farthest north Methodist church in America" — which began its organized life worshipping in a rented hall from which empty whiskey bottles had to be removed on Sunday mornings, and whose congregation thinks nothing of going to church in weather 41 degrees below zero — is preparing to expand its facilities.

With a goal of 43,200 for a new educational unit, the First Methodist church of Fairbanks, Alaska, set to work and in nine days raised $50,015 in cash and pledges for the building.

"This we did without a 'professional' coming in to help us," says the Rev. A. E. Purviance, minister of the church. A loan of $40,000 from the Division of National Missions of the Methodist Board of Missions "will help the church build the educational unit, which, according to Mr. Purviance, may cost in the neighborhood of $90,000."

"This seems like a terrific amount to you in the States, but costs are double here over many stateside prices. We will have eight classrooms, two assembly rooms, rest rooms, and a large furnace room, plus the new furnace which should be sufficient for the main floor we will add later."

The Fairbanks church received its first members on Sept. 14, 1952, and on the second Sunday of December, 1953, moved from its rented hall into its new sanctuary.

"The hall was used for many purposes," says Mr. Purviance, "which accounts for the whiskey bottles, and its atmosphere was far from that of a church but we made the best of it until we were far enough along with our building to move in."

Box Social Scheduled In Rogue River by Medford Presbyterians

The Cruiser club of the First Presbyterian church, Medford, will be guests of the Cruisers of First Presbyterian church, Rogue River, at 7 p.m. Monday, March 25, for a box social.

Each woman is asked to take a decorated box containing food for two with her name inside the box. Prizes for the best decorated box will be awarded.

Entertainment will be provided and all married couples are invited to attend. This social replaces the potluck dinner which was previously scheduled to be held at the Medford church.

JACKSONVILLE CHURCH
George Witter will preach Sunday at 11 a.m. at the First Presbyterian church, Jacksonville. He will be assisted by James Lance. Both men are members of the Presbyterian Men's club of the Medford Presbyterian church.

REVIVAL
The Rev. J. D. Newton of California will conduct a revival at the Pentecostal Church of God, Central Point, starting Sunday evening. Services will be held nightly except Monday. The public is invited to attend.

CHURCH ORGANIZING
Ascension Lutheran church will be officially organized at the 11 a.m. morning service March 31 with Dr. H. L. Foss officiating. The church held its first service Jan. 6 with the Rev. Ervin S. Tollefson as pastor.

Married Couples To Be Honored Sunday

The evening service Sunday at the Church of Christ, Central Point, will be the second in a series on the home.

Married couples will be honored with special honors to the oldest married couple, the youngest married couple, the largest family, and the youngest grandmother present. The public is invited to attend.

Woman Ordained By P.R. Methodists

Puerto Rican Methodists, at their 1957 annual conference session recently, ordained the first woman minister, laid the cornerstone for an $80,000 new church and reported gains in membership, Sunday school enrollment and giving.

Together with six men ordained as elders, Mrs. Julia Torres Fernandez was ordained a deacon by Bishop Fred P. Corson, Philadelphia, the first woman ordained in the history of Puerto Rican Methodism. A junior high school supervisor in Ponce, Puerto Rico's second largest city, Mrs. Fernandez has been an active Methodist 30 years, president of the conference Woman's Society of Christian Service and a supply preacher.

The new $80,000 church building and educational plant will serve an area comprising 7,000 families in three of San Juan's rapidly growing suburbs.

Reports show there was a net gain of 400 members from 1955 to 1956 and that membership in the conference is more than 7,000. Enrollment in Methodist Sunday schools last year was about 13,000, an increase of about 5 per cent over 1955 in Puerto Rico.

Methodist Youth Group Finances Students Work

Oshkosh, Wis. — (UP) — For the past five years members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist church here have been financing the studies of a medical student in the Philippines.

The youths raised $600 a year for the Filipino student by staging benefit plays, church suppers and other activities.

Recently the youths got a first-hand look at the man they helped put through school. Dr. Ricardo Fernando, now a 28-year-old physician, visited his young benefactors here. He is now taking post-graduate medical work at Harvard Medical School and serving at a Boston hospital.
