

Devilkin, Peter Pan Stake Winners in Retriever Trial

Rogue River Devilkin triumphed in the qualifying stake and Ripco's Peter Pan in the derby rivalry Saturday in events of the Rogue Valley Retriever club's 25th annual field trial.

Devilkin, sired by Boots, owned by Claude R. Miles, Medford, who handled the dog Saturday, Peter Pan, owned by Anthony C. DiPangrazio, Seattle, Wash., was handled by Paul E. Snowmaker, Seattle. Both dogs are Labrador males.

"Locally" owned or handled retrievers made their best showing in the trial in the qualifying stake with first, third and fourth places and two certificates of merit.

The American Kennel club licensed trial concludes today with the completion of the open all-age stake. Trial scene is the open commission management area on the north side of Rogue River in the area where the old bridge once crossed the stream. Location is 1 1/2 miles from Medford. Signs starting at the north end of Table Rock on the grounds which are on the west side of the road.

Trials in Charge

Trials in charge of administration of the grounds. The public is invited. The trial is of interest to hunters as well as just to dog fanciers.

Some of the finest retrievers in the country are entered in the open. They include the 1956 national field champion, Mastiff Sooty, Labrador male, owned by William T. Cline, Chicago, Ill., and handled by Roy J. Gonic, McKenna, Wash.

Other field champs entered are Red Bull and Oakcreek's Fronton, owned and handled by C. R. Tobin, San Francisco; Slo-Poke Smokey of Dairy Hill and Beautywoods Sooty Scamp, owned and handled by Andrius A. Jones, Hillsborough, Calif.; Noah of Switowish, owned by Carnation Farms, Carnation, Wash., and handled by Garth Stocker, Butch's Bitterroot Smokey, owned by Joe Albertson, Boise, Ida., and handled by Cliff Brassfield; Beautywoods Sooty Scamp Hal's Spivise Zeke, owned and handled by Hal Shidler, Klamath Falls; Nic-O-Bets Black Candy, owned by Mrs. Hugh Nichols, Holly Wood, Cal., and handled by Melvin Beliveau, and Oakcreek's Sir Dorchester, owned and handled by James Stillwell, Klamath Falls.

13 Make Camp

Twenty-five retrievers were entered in the qualifying stake and Miles' Devilkin (Boots) was one of 13 which remained in the running after the first series. Judge Guy Burnette, Missoula, Mont., and Charles Miller, Medford, then determined the top placers. A 2 combination marked and blind retrieve.

Peter Pan was one of 11 dogs called best for the fifth and final series of the derby stake in which some fine performances were shown. The winners a tough assignment for judges F. R. Bacon, Conby, Calif., and Miller. The stake opened Friday afternoon with 30 dogs entered and ended yesterday morning.

Second in the qualifying was Jim's Moonbeam, Labrador female, owned by Eddie Pavlich, Clifton, Calif., and handled by J. C. Turkovich, Eureka, Calif.

Third was Orwood Sam, Labrador male, owned by Jack Henry, Klamath Falls, and handled by Tom Rickard, Medford. Lady Margaret of Crater Lake, Labrador female, owned and handled by Otto Lilya, Medford, nabbed fourth.

Meyerding Dog Second

A reserve certificate of merit was given to Tug Boat Smoke, Labrador, owned and handled

TAKE AMATEUR STAKE—Atom Bob, Chesapeake male, and owner-handler Dr. J.C. Lunday, Boise, Ida., above, won the amateur all-age stake Friday in the Rogue Valley Retriever club's licensed trial in the game commission management area north of the Rogue river. Dr. Lunday, a dentist, who judged the club's 1954 trial here, also has the dog entered in the open all-age stake which completes the three-day trial today.

AUSTRALIA'S LINCOLN BREAKS 4-MINUTE BARRIER

Melbourne, Australia —(U.P.)—Australia's Merv Lincoln, cutting loose with a tremendous burst of speed in the stretch, broke through the four-minute barrier Saturday with a mile run in 3:59 flat.

He was the third Australian ever to break four minutes and credited his great effort to Ron Clarke "who sacrificed everything to assist me in this attempt."

by Hillman H. Miller, Central Point. Merit awards also went to No Trouble Mike, Labrador male, owned by Alfred H. Schmidt, Portland, Ore., and handled by Pat Montgomery, Klamath Falls; and to Gene's Ebony Rip, Labrador male, owned and handled by Eugene V. Hunt, Medford.

Long Tom's Muffin, Labrador, owned and handled by Dr. E. V. Meyerding, Medford, was second in the derby. Third went to Carnation Toro, Labrador male, owned by Carnation Farm Kennels, Carnation, Wash., and handled by Garth Stocker. Timothy Sir Lancelot, Labrador male, owned by Late Uter, Los Angeles, Calif., and handled by Roy J. Gonic, McKenna, Wash., was fourth.

Placing of Muffin was of considerable interest to Rogue Valley club members since Dr. Meyerding has had the dog just two months and the trial was the first for the Labrador and the physician. Another member of RVRC, Tom Rickard, Medford, raised the dog.

With the fourth place and cerificates of merit, three dogs handled by Gonia gained recognition in the derby.

Awarded certificates were Red River Bouncing Beau, Labrador male, owned by Mrs. William P. Roth, San Mateo, Calif., and handled by Gonia; Beau of Zenith, owned by Herbert Freishacker Jr., San Francisco, Calif., and handled by Gonia; and Dairy Hill's Night Cap, Labrador female, owned and handled by Andrius A. Jones, Hillsborough, Calif.

Competition in the derby began with a long single pigeon retrieve. Second event was a double duck series and the third was a double pigeon retrieve. In the fourth series the dogs went across a water-filled ditch and rough terrain for a pigeon. For the fifth four shots were fired and the dogs were required to retrieve three ducks.

First series in the qualifying stake was a triple on marked ducks in a gravel pit with fairly heavy willows. The concluding combined series began with a double on marked pigeons in an alfalfa field with about 10 inches of cover. After a dog brought in both birds a dead pigeon was thrown out for a blind test.

ATOM BOB VICTOR IN AMATEUR ON FRIDAY

Atom Bob, Chesapeake male, and his owner-handler, Dr. J. C. Lunday, Boise, Ida., copped first place Friday in the amateur all-age stake, opening event of the Rogue Valley Retriever club's big field trial.

The dog and handler topped a field of 24 entries, 13 of which were called back for the last of three series. Dr. Lunday, a dentist, participating in his first trial of the West Coast circuit this year, was a judge for the RVRC's trial in 1954.

Taking second place in the amateur was Dairy Hill's Night Cap, Labrador female, owned and handled by Andrius A. Jones, Hillsborough, Calif. Judged third in the event was Red Bluff, golden male, owned and handled by C. R. Tobin, San Francisco. Fourth spot winner was Riptide II, Labrador male, owned and handled by Roland G. Watt, Redding, Calif.

The stake was conducted just north of the military bridge site on Rogue river, some 12 miles by road from Medford.

Triple on Ducks

First series of tests was a triple on marked ducks. Next was a two-in-one series. First part was a retrieve of two marked pheasants. Second portion was a blind retrieve of a pheasant. Third series was a water blind on one pheasant.

Judges for the amateur stake were F. Roger Bacon Jr., Can-

Berrios Nabs U.S. Crown; Edges Costa

New York —(U.P.)— Little Miguel Berrios, brand new American featherweight champion and semi-finalist in the tourney for the vacant world crown, said, "I must wear the beg title for my four keeps."

Stocky, broad-shouldered Miguel attained his new prominence by chasing Brooklyn's speedy Carmelo Costa about Madison Square Garden's ring Friday night and flooring him once while on route to a single-point, 12-round split decision. Each weighed 125 pounds, just one under the feather limit. Miguel was favored at 8-5.

Victory in the national television and broadcast fight earned the 24-year-old Puerto Rican terrier the right to meet Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria, Africa, in the semi-final 12-rounder at Washington, D.C., April 26.

Later the Washington winner will fight Cherif Hamia of France, European champion, for the world title left vacant by Sandy Saddler's recent retirement.

Klippstein, Pascual Go Nine Frames

By UNITED PRESS

Johnny Klippstein and Camilo Pascual became the first pitchers to go nine innings in Grapefruit league play Friday as the major league managers stepped up their hurlers' schedules with an eye on opening-day assignments.

Klippstein didn't walk a batter and yielded only seven hits to give the Cincinnati Redlegs a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers while Pascual struck out 10 and scattered nine hits in hurling the Washington Senators to a 7-2 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves and Tom Sturdivant of the New York Yankees also came up with powerful performances which indicated they'll be ready, if called upon, for opening day hurling duties.

Buhl allowed two runs and five hits in seven innings as the Braves scored a 4-3, 10-inning verdict over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Sturdivant walked only two and allowed three hits in six innings as the Yankees beat the Kansas City Athletics, 3-0.

Walt Moryn and Ed Wincieniak homered in the 11th inning to lift the Chicago Cubs to a 5-2 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

Bradley Tops Memphis St. For NIT Title

New York —(U.P.)— Sturdy Shellie McMillon scored a three-point play with only 29 seconds remaining Saturday to give Bradley the National Invitation Basketball Tournament championship with an 84-83 victory over dead-game Memphis State.

A nationwide (CBS) television audience and a crowd of 11,327 at Madison Square Garden watched Bradley battle back to win after gallant Memphis State had wiped out a 15-point first half deficit to go ahead by 10 points in the second half. It was one of the most thrilling finals in the 20-year history of the N.I.T.

In winning the tournament for the first time in six tries, Bradley set a three-game team scoring record of 294 points, breaking the old mark of 266 set last year by Louisville's champions.

The Braves from Peoria, Ill., appeared to be in trouble for the first time in the tournament when they fell behind 54-64 at the six-minute mark of the second half in the face of an inspired rally by Memphis State.

Medford Gains Tournay Award

Medford high is among schools receiving certificates of merit for displaying sportsmanship at the recent Oregon A-1 basketball tournament.

North Salem high took first place in the sportsmanship ratings. Pendleton second and Albany third.

Receiving certificates along with Medford were Grant and Lincoln of Portland, Marshfield, McMinnville, Ontario and Redmond.

Vote was by a secret committee.

Vickers Down Outdoor Store

Portland —(U.P.)— The Wichita Vickers, led by former Portland and Oregon State star Wade (Swede) Hallbrook, easily trimmed the Portland Outdoor Store in an exhibition basketball game here Friday night, 94 to 63.

Max Anderson, former University of Oregon star, proved able to the task assigned him as he held the 7-3 Halbrook to but 18 points.

by, Calif., and Guy Burnette, Missoula, Montana.

The following dogs and handlers received certificates of merit:

Beaver Creek Bandit, Labrador male owned and handled by Herbert Fleishacker Jr., San Francisco; Gene's Ebony Rip, Labrador male, owned and handled by Eugene V. Hunt, Medford; Clear Weather, Labrador male, owned and handled by Peter Alport, Portland, Ore.; Kip of Geneva, Labrador male owned and handled by Kenneth G. Denman, Medford; Oakcreek's Fremont golden male, owned and handled by C. R. Tobin.

Jayhawks Win Easily, Tar Heels Extended in NCAA Semi-Finals

By LYLE SCHWILLING

Kansas City, Mo.—(U.P.)— Kansas tallied an easy 80-56 victory over San Francisco and North Carolina took a thrilling 74-70 win over Michigan State after three overtimes Friday night to gain the Saturday finale of the National Collegiate Athletic association basketball play-offs.

Concerning the Kansas Jayhawks and giant Wilt Chamberlain's talent for scoring and rebounding, San Francisco coach Phil Woolpert summed it up this way:

"The big factor was we didn't contain the other four men. Chamberlain is no one-man team, there is no such thing. He hurts you on the boards, but the other four men hurt you worse."

Last night's game was one of the nation's basketball fans had waited for all season. Kansas has been rated No. 2 most of the season with North Carolina, unbeaten now in 31 starts, has ranked at the top.

Coach Frank McGuire of North Carolina said the Michigan State tangle was "one of the toughest games we've played this season and we feel very lucky to have won it."

Michigan State Coach Froddy Anderson said, "I feel our team did the best job it could do. Fate just had it we weren't supposed to win this one. We had all kinds of opportunities, but so did North Carolina before it finally won it."

The tough North Carolina-Michigan State struggle was the second longest in NCAA playoff history. Canisius had to go four overtimes to beat North Carolina State, 79-78, in the first round at New York last year.

Deadlocked 29-29 at halftime, it was 58-58 at the finish of standard playing time, 64-64 after the first overtime and 66-66 after the second.

Kansas, which had expected a great battle with San Francisco, breezed through with little pressure.

main points made by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick after Friday's unprecedented meeting of the game's brass in Bellair, Fla. Frick called baseball a "unique industry" and said it believes "a statute subjecting professional baseball to anti-trust laws will injure baseball without any corresponding benefit to the public."

Out To Make Money

"Of course baseball is a unique industry," scoffed Celler. "So is the television industry... the garment industry... and the pretzel business. But does that mean they should all be outside the law of the land?"

"And this business of benefiting the public is just pure undiluted hokum," Celler continued. "Major league club owners aren't trying to benefit the public. They're out to make money by moving players around like pawns and chattels."

Celler also argued that placing baseball under the anti-trust laws "wouldn't injure the game at all but would help it because it will attract more talent if the players know they can't be moved around like pawns."

Congressman Notes Baseball Concessions

New York —(U.P.)— Rep. Emanuel Celler declared Saturday that baseball "has made quite a concession" in admitting it is a business and dismissed the game's two main arguments for exemption from federal anti-trust laws as "pure undiluted hokum."

"Baseball has certainly come full swing since the Danny Gardella case if it now concedes it is a business at all," said Celler (D-N.Y.), who is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. "In pleading the Gardella case before the Supreme Court, its main argument was it was not a business."

Celler then attacked the two

Crater Defeats Ashland In Short Distance Tussle

Central Point — Crater high won nine events, sweeping four of them, Saturday to thump Ashland 83 1/2 to 38 1/2 in a short distance track meet.

Comets took all three places in the three-fourths mile, the 150-yard dash, the high jump and the pole vault.

George Juvealand won the 75 and 150 sprints and the shot put and anchored the Comets' winning relay crew. Jim Witt highlighted Ashland performances with a sizzling .36.9 in the 330-yard run.

Ashland winners included Kip Lombard, .08.6 in the high hurdles, Jim Busch, 1:31.6 in the 660, Jerry Stubblefield 139 feet in the discus and Jim Kearns, 19 feet 11 1/2 inches in the broad jump.

Bob Elden was Crater's victor in the three-quarter mile with 3:36. Lee Gossett won the 120 low hurdles in 1:4.8. Dick Davis took the high jump with 5-9 and Don Goyette nabbed the pole vault with 10-6. Larry Smith of the Comets heaved the javelin 179-4.

Juvealand's times were :07.3 in the 75 and :15.4 in the 150. He put the shot 43-1. Teaming with him in a 47 quarter-mile relay were Jerry Kime, Evan Thumler and Kerman Bennett.

OSC divides with Idaho

Lewiston, Ida.—(U.P.)—Oregon State and Idaho divided a twin bill here Friday in the opening warm up baseball games for both squads.

The Vandals took the opener, 6-3, but Oregon State bounced back to win the nightcap, 15-3. Joe Francis and Tom Hunt led the Beavers in the second game, each collecting two hits in three trips.

Mike Clifford Beaver Oarsman

Oregon State College, Corvallis—Mike Clifford of Medford is a member of the rowing squad this year at Oregon State college.

A sophomore majoring in engineering, Clifford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Clifford of 1319 South Stage rd., Medford.

The OSC crew participate each spring in races with other colleges and universities of the Pacific coast. Races are tentatively planned this year with University of British Columbia, University of Washington, and Stanford. One of the races will be a feature of the Willamette river boating season opening at Salem, and another will be held during Mothers Week End at the college.

SKIING CONDITIONS

Skiing may be good at Crater lake early today but probably will be poor this afternoon, according to the report from the national park ranger's office.

Poor skiing conditions because of wet snow were reported at the park yesterday. Snow depth was 124 feet compared to 160 on March 23 last year and 99 inches on the same date in 1955. Highway 82 was open to the rim yesterday and chains on tires were not required at that time. Sky was half overcast and a fresh south wind was blowing.

A maximum temperature of 41 degrees and a minimum of 9 were reported at the lake Saturday.

The warming hut will be open today if the weather permits skiing.

Aussie Wins Harriman Cup

San Valley, Ida.—(U.P.)— Austrian Tony Sailer flashed down the slopes of Mount Baldy here Saturday to cover the near two-mile downhill course in an unofficial two minutes, 26.2 seconds to win the first event of the seventh annual Harriman Cup ski races.

European ski artists took the first seven places in the men's downhill. Roger Staub and Roland Blaes, both of Switzerland, finished second and third, and Anler Molterer of Austria placed fourth. Francois Vonlieu of France, Italy's Bruno Alberti and Austrian ski instructor Christian Pravada of Sun Valley finished in a dead heat for fifth place.

The top American in Saturday's downhill, Max Marolt of the Navy, was eighth.

Big Crowd Sees Seals Rap Red Sox

San Francisco —(U.P.)— A crowd of 26,023 baseball fans, undaunted by earthquakes and threats of more temblors, turned out Friday night to watch their San Francisco Seals defeat the parent Boston Red Sox, 5 to 2, in an exhibition baseball game.

And if the restless San Andreas fault permits, at least that many more will turn out for today's game. The three game series ends Sunday.

Earl Wilson sparked the Seals by allowing only two hits and one run in five innings.

St. Louis Rookies Stop Cincinnati

St. Petersburg, Fla.—(U.P.)— Rookie pitchers Thom Cheney, Bobby Smith and Bob Mabe held Cincinnati's sluggers to seven hits Saturday and the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Redlegs, 5 to 1.

Cheney, after Johnny Temple's game-opening double, struck out Redleg stalwarts Frank Robinson, Gus Bell and Wally Post, in order.

Don Gross, left-hander who won three National League victories last season were scored against St. Louis, started for the Redlegs and was the loser.
