

Teenagers Discuss Problems At Eagle Point PTSA Session

Eagle Point — "Problems Teenagers Have Raising Their Parents," was the theme of a student panel discussion at the regular March meeting of Eagle Point High School Parent-Teacher-Student association.

Dennis Boren gave a teenager's viewpoint on "Spending Money," allowances, earnings and spending were subject matters. "Parties in the Home," was the theme of the discussion.

Larry Clement noted the problems of "Transportation and Curfew." Transportation to and from sports activities, and time limits set by parents for returning from parties and dates were among the speaker's expressed thoughts.

"Going Steady" was the controversial subject discussed by Sally Mongold. The casualness of the relationship generally felt by high school students in our locality, and the seriousness attached to the custom by some adults were two of the arguments of interest. Question and answer periods with audience participation, followed each narration.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. Robert Meyer; parent vice-president, Mrs. Deibert Spain; Shady Cove, teacher vice-president, Bert Simmons; secretary, Mrs. William Jackson; treasurer, Herman Higday; and historian, Larry Meyers, student.

The auction being held to buy high school chorus robes was announced for Friday night, March 29. It will be held in the elementary school gymnasium. Doors will be opened at 7:30 p.m. with the auction to begin at 8 p.m. A dance will follow, and refreshments will be available all during the evening.

Members were reminded of the state convention to be held April 9, 10, and 11, in Pendleton. Visiting observers were Mrs. Richard Alley, Medford and Mrs. J. D. Lubbers, Phoenix. Stewart Hopper led the flag salute. Founders' day and the second anniversary of PTSA in the high school were commemorated with name tag party hats made by Mrs. Deibert Spain and birthday cakes served by mothers of students in the Senior class.

Scores Respond To Call for Help On Stedman Show

The wholehearted response of local talent to contribute time and effort to the Salute to Bob Stedman show, to be presented in Medford High school auditorium the evenings of March 28 and 29 "is the most heartwarming experience in our years of local theater activity," according to Mrs. Ivan Burton, general chairman of the production.

The musical review, a tribute to Robert D. Stedman, drama instructor of Medford High school, now recuperating in a Portland hospital, is sponsored by Medford Footlights, in cooperation with the Medford school system. Everyone approached for help on the show has been willing and eager to assist," said Mrs. Burton, "and every day we get new volunteers for backstage chores and contributions of the most selfless sort. It makes us know we've got a show with a real heart in it."

Three student volunteers who have already contributed much help on lighting problems for the show are Bill Frake, Kenny Peck and Darrell Sutton. They will work under the direction of Jerry McDougall of Hedrick Junior High school. An original design for the program covers was contributed by Steve Bayless, art instructor of McLoughlin Junior High school. The design features "A Day on Delancy Street," the sub-title of the Salute to Bob Stedman show.

The possibility of tape recording the entire show and sending it to Mr. Stedman as a memento, is now being discussed by the committee in charge, Mrs. Burton said.
