

DAR Closes Conference In Ashland

Ashland — The 1957 annual conference of Oregon Daughters of the American Revolution closed here Saturday noon. Final function of the session was a luncheon Saturday in the parish hall of Trinity church at which Producing Director Angus Bower and Richard Graham of the Oregon Shakespearean festival spoke.

Highlight of Friday's session was an Americanism banquet Friday night in the Elks temple attended by about 160 conference delegates and their guests. Miss Nora Housnel, a senior of Y-East High School, Hood River, was presented the annual Good Citizen award of the DAR, and a $100 bond.

Miss Housnel was chosen from outstanding senior girls in many Oregon high schools. Also present as guests were Miss Dorothy Bean, Phoenix, and Miss Barbara Johnson, Ashland, chosen as Jackson county's Good Citizens.

Bill Lawrence Jr. and Glen Tabor, student of Ashland Junior High School, spoke on "Let Freedom Ring" and "My Heritage."

Speaker of the evening was Gene Brown, Grants Pass, former state senator, who chose as his topic "Back Door Socialism." Mr. Brown congratulated the society on its firm stand on the issue of the socialization of education, business and welfare and said "anyone asked to speak before the Daughters of the American Revolution is paid high tribute."

Mr. Brown said it is fine to barricade the front door against socialism, but at the same time the nation must beware of the back door guest who comes in and eventually becomes a member of the family, taking over the place.

He spoke against the state's increasing control of education, which he said is being taken from the hands of the citizens. Mrs. Buena Stone, Klamath Falls, addressed a luncheon meeting Friday at Bellview Grange hall, attended by 140. Her topic was southern Oregon history, and she illustrated her talk with colored slides.

During a business session Mrs. Craig Coyner of Deschutes chapter, Bend, was elected to fill the unexpired term of the state historian, Mrs. H. J. Ritter.

Sorority Chapter Elects Officers

A program on "Table Equipment" was presented by Miss Jackie Walker and Mrs. R. J. Higgins at the regular meeting of Xi Mu chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held last Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Walker, 2320 Kings Highway. The lesson included table coverings, silverware, glassware and chinaware.

Four prospective members from Alpha Rho chapter attended the meeting as guests. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Russell R. Budeau, president; Miss Jackie Walker, vice-president; Mrs. Mel E. Gouguy, secretary; Mrs. Treavell Turpin, treasurer; Mrs. Maynard Paup and Mrs. Nils Edin, City council representatives.

Guests Here

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bush were week end guests at the home of Amos Walker, Stewart avenue. Mrs. Bush, a violinist, played at Dreamland here for over three years, and joined the orchestra at the hall again Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush now make their home at Cornelius, Ore.

Degrees Awarded Crater Students

Corvallis—Miss Nancy Barnes and Miss Irma Penwell of Crater High school were among 42 Oregon high school girls awarded coveted "state homemaker degrees" Saturday at the state meeting of Future Homemakers of America at Oregon State college.

Nearly 400 girls attended this year's meeting. The homemaker degree is the highest state honor in home economics that a high school girl can win. To qualify for the degree, members must achieve high standards of work in home, school and community programs.

FHA now has chapters in 113 junior and senior high schools across the state with a total membership of 4,412. One of the highlights of this year's meeting was a talk by Mrs. Chris Maleris of Portland, "Mrs. America for 1956."

Theme for the meetings was "Happy Homes for a Happy World." The state homemaker degrees were conferred at the closing banquet Saturday night.

AACW President To Visit Oregon

Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes (Mrs. Herbert E.), president of the American Association of University Women, will make an official visit to the North Pacific Region this month.

Dr. Hawkes, who retired in 1955 as dean of students at Mills college, Oakland, Calif., will be the keynote speaker at the combined AAUW state convention and regional conference in Baker, Ore., April 25-27. Prior to that she will be honored guest at the Matrix Table of Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary, at the Multnomah Hotel in Portland April 5 and will visit several AAUW branches in Oregon, Washington and Alaska.

Confirmation of Dr. Hawkes' visit was received by Mrs. C. D. Winston, North Pacific vice president of Ashland, and Mrs. R. Willard Duncan, Oregon Division president, of Klamath Falls. Plans for the three day meeting in Baker are being made by Dr. Flora Biswell, president of the Baker branch, and Gladys Mae Baylis, convention chairman.

Last year she visited 14 foreign countries as a member of the U.S. Advisory Commission of Educational Exchange to survey and evaluate the effectiveness of the international education and cultural training program.

Reese Creek Unit To Meet Tuesday; Course Planned

Reese Creek—The next meeting of Reese Creek Extension unit will be held Tuesday, April 2, at the home of Mrs. Merle McGraw, Crater Lake highway. The group will hold a business meeting at 10:30 a.m. After lunch, the project lesson on "reupholstering with foam rubber" will be presented by Mrs. F. M. Carlson and Mrs. Ben Gardener. Members are reminded that the first meeting on family business and the law will be held at the Eagle Point Grange hall April 4 at 7:30 p.m. Two other sessions will follow on April 11 and 18, also at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by the extension units, everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Total population of the U. S. in 1790 was 3,929,214.

Wives Like Working, Study Says

By GAY PAULEY United Press Correspondent New York — (UPI) — A new study of the working wife indicates she is happy bringing home the bacon as well as cooking it.

Details of an office worker survey arrived at my desk, just as my heart was working up a good case of sympathy for the nation's working woman. I was considering them overworked, 22 million, a record number of them putting in 40 hours a week on the job and heaven knows how many more hours at home cooking, cleaning, marketing and mending.

But this study indicates some sympathy should go also to husbands. Their wives are assigning them an increasing amount of household chores.

The nation's largest independent automobile financing corporation mailed questionnaires on a variety of subjects to its 3,613 women employed in offices in this country, the United States and territories.

Preferred New Role

Nearly three fourths of the women reported they liked their two part role as wage earner and homemaker.

Eighty per cent of them added that their husbands help with housework. This may sound to the men like an ominous trend. But it should inspire them to know one wife said, "my husband doesn't help, and I don't know one out of 10 who does."

Do the obliging husbands get a night out for their cooperation? Most wives said yes, but 35 per cent said such freedom is granted only occasionally. Five per cent answered with a flat "no."

One divorcee replied, "I did and he never came back."

The tabulations also disclosed some interesting ideas the women have on clothes and bosses.

Wanted Men Bosses

Only five per cent of the women wear a hat to the office, even though they owned an average of five hats each. One girl owned 50.

Nineteen per cent said they wear skirts as long or short as they please, no matter what fashion dictates. "They're my legs," said one, "and I know how much should show."

About half of the single girls said they go steady. Only 18 per cent of the unmarrieds had left the family homestead. Working women were definite about the boss they want. Eighty per cent preferred a man, and a married one. Ten per cent of the women favored a single man; closer inspection of these returns revealed these same women were single themselves.

DAV Junior Auxiliary Holds Recent Session

Disabled American Veteran's Junior auxiliary met March 23 at the home of Mrs. George Simmons. Mrs. Everett Grissom served as leader.

The five older girls painted dish towels for their mothers. The younger girls made wooden spool dolls and painted the faces. Dorie Mae and Nina Grissom brought the refreshments. Sharon Simmons and Donna Thompson worked on the kitchen committee.

Meeting Announced For Applegate Unit

Applegate—Upper Applegate Home Extension unit will meet Wednesday, April 3 at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Cliff Jones at Ruch, with Mrs. C. W. Childers and Mrs. Chester Jones as co-hostesses. Leaders of the project, "upholstering kitchen chairs, using plastic and foam rubber" are Mrs. Trueman Hard and Mrs. William Travis. Anyone interested in this subject is cordially invited to attend.

District Director Visits Meeting of Howard Gardeners

Mrs. I. D. Fitzgerald, Medford Siskiyou district director, Oregon Federation of Garden clubs, and her assistant, Mrs. Otto Nagel, Eagle Point, were visitors at the March meeting of Howard Garden club held in the home of Mrs. Clarence Black, 2662 Howard avenue.

Mrs. Fitzgerald announced the State Federation convention will be held at Coos Bay on June 23, 24 and 25. If enough members plan to go, a bus will be chartered, she stated.

Mrs. Nagel reported on the work being done at Camp White by the garden clubs. Several clubs are beautifying certain areas with Oregon native plants. Many more shrubs of all kinds are needed, she said. The Howard club gave a Charles Mallekin rose for the camp plantings.

Mrs. Ernest Gleason and Mrs. Ralph Merritt were in charge of the program for the day and spoke on "Soil Conditions for Varied Planting."

A plant exchange was held following the business meeting. Mrs. G. W. McBee and Mrs. Howard Lind assisted the hostess with refreshments.

Nominations Held By Grade Teachers

A slate of officers for the coming year was presented at the last meeting of Medford Grade Teachers' association, held in Washington school cafeteria. Nominated for office were Mrs. Frances Collins, Washington school, president; Kenneth Hulbert, Jefferson school, vice-president; Bruce Metzger, Oak Grove, secretary and Morris Jiminez, Lincoln, treasurer.

The report of the nominating committee was made by Mrs. Esther Fliegel, chairman. The director of the Indian Educational program from the Klamath Indian Reservation spoke on the problems involved in the termination of the Klamath reservation. Mentioned in the talk was the responsibility of the state, local residents, and the Klamath Indian in this situation.

Pupils of the Caesar Muzzioli Accordion studio played several selections.

Miss Anna Laura Hints, Lincoln school, was elected as delegate to the NEA Centennial convention in Philadelphia in June and July. It was also voted to send the president and president elect to the Oregon Education association centennial dinner April 4 at Medford high school.

Following the meeting a dessert was served by the teachers from Roosevelt and Lincoln schools. Spring flowers decorated the table.

Washington school won the attendance prize.

Home Economics Club Announces Meeting

Roxy Ann Home Economics club will meet Wednesday, April 3, at the home of Mrs. Glenn Rader, 1428 Crown avenue, at 8 p.m. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Jack Burns.

WSCS Holds Session in Gold Hill

Gold Hill — Election, reports and a workshop marked the meeting of the Rogue sub-district, Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, held March 27 at Gold Hill Community Methodist church.

Mrs. Jessie Minear, Medford, was re-elected president and Mrs. Roy Eskew, Gold Hill, secretary treasurer.

The Rev. Thomas Calhoun of the Assembly of God church in Gold Hill, spoke during the opening worship and a trio from the Gold Hill Methodist church sang. The trio is made up of Mrs. Norman Gail, Mrs. Roy Eskew and Mrs. Paul Molloy. They were accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John Bruce.

Reports were given by the president of each society. They were Mrs. Doyle Green, Ashland; Mrs. Lucius Robinson, Cave Junction; Mrs. Ferd Jones, Gold Hill; Mrs. Phillip A. Cribby, Grants Pass; Mrs. L. G. Rankin, Medford; Mrs. David R. Browne, Wilderville; Mrs. C. W. Holdridge, Talent was unable to be present so this report was given by Mrs. Minear; Mrs. John Williams, St. Luke's Methodist church, Medford. This is a new society, organized in October, 1956.

Mrs. Verne Wilson, secretary of student work of the Medford Society presented, "A Declaration of Racial Policies." It was ratified by the group.

A luncheon was served at noon by the women of the Gold Hill society.

During the afternoon session a workshop on program planning was conducted by Mrs. Pascal Peek, Eugene. Mrs. O. P. Taylor, Medford, conference secretary of promotion, and Mrs. L. G. Rankin, president of the Woman's society of the First Methodist church, reported on the recent jurisdiction meeting they attended in Berkeley, California.

A pledge service was conducted by Mrs. J. N. Bestul, district treasurer, from Grants Pass, in which each society submitted its pledge to missions for the coming year. A total of $5,423 was pledged by the group. Mrs. A. S. Feller, Camp White, conference secretary of missionary education and service, told of the conference on missions which she attended in Buck Hill Falls, Pa. Mrs. Robert Kingsbury of the Cave Junction Methodist church conducted the closing worship. Seventy-five attended.

Lamb Sauce

Lucky is the family whose day before yesterday's lamb roast ends up like this: Mix 2 teaspoons cornstarch with 1/3 cup leftover lamb gravy; add 1/2 cup currant jelly, 1/2 cup orange juice and some minced mint leaves. Cook mixture, stirring occasionally until slightly thickened. Heat slices of lamb in sauce and serve. Recipe makes enough sauce for 8 slices of lamb.

SUNDAY NIGHT CHOWDER

Start a zesty soup by crisping two strips of bacon in a good-sized pan. Remove the bacon and lightly brown one-half cup chipped onions in the drippings. Add one can of condensed tomato soup, one soup can of milk, one can of cream-style corn. Turn down flame to simmer heat. When you serve the chowder, drizzle crumbled bacon on top of each bowl.

Cake Topping

Frost your favorite cake with whipped cream and sprinkle generously with this crumbly topping. Combine 1/2 cup of chopped walnuts white sugar and brown sugar with one unbeaten egg white. Spread in a shallow greased and floured pan and bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes. Remove from pan and crush with a rolling pin. Heavenly on ice cream, too.

Norval Moores Home From Trip

Applegate — Mr. and Mrs. Norval Moore, Applegate, recently returned from a plane trip to the Hawaiian islands. The Moores went abroad with the Oregon Farm Bureau, and enjoyed a ten day tour of Honolulu.

From there they flew to Hilo, Hawaii and visited long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crawford, who presented Mrs. Moore with a bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Moore, who is an avid gardener, was much impressed with the many flowers and especially with the hedges of red, yellow, and white poinsettias.

While there, Mrs. Moore visited several churches, where she was invited to show her unique Christian object lesson entitled, "The Patched Coat." Due to the many requests received to show her original lesson, the Moores remained longer in the islands than originally planned. Some of the churches they visited were the Chinese church at Honolulu, and the Assemblies of God in Kailua, Maui, Hilo, and Pepee-koo.

At Maui, the Moores witnessed the unusual behavior of the tide and the waves, as the recent tidal wave struck further up along the islands. Mrs. Moore said it was an awesome sight to see the waves go contrary to their usual course, and roll out to sea.

Mrs. Moore said it was an unforgettable trip, and she still cherishes and preserves a lei of pink carnations in her refrigerator.

Governor Praises FHA Organization

Salem — Governor Robert D. Holmes saluted the kitchen queens of the future Friday in calling attention to Future Homemakers of America Week, which runs April 1 through 7. Membership progress of the Future Homemakers drew a commendation from the governor who noted that Oregon now had 4,481 enrolled in 114 chapters throughout the state.

Governor Holmes termed FHA an organization in the state's secondary schools to encourage interest and efficiency in home-making skills as one of the principal foundations of continued strength for America.

The fifth annual state meeting of Future Homemakers was held Saturday night at Oregon State college.

Consumers in the United States eat twice as many canned vegetables today per capita as a few decades ago, and also consume about one-third more of the fresh vegetable varieties.

Quick Cobbler
Mix 2 tablespoons flour, pinch of salt and 3 tablespoons sugar with syrup from No. 2 1/2 can cling peach slices. Cook and stir until thickened. Add peaches and 1 tablespoon each of butter and lemon juice. Turn into casserole and top with oven-ready biscuits that have been dipped first in melted butter and then in cinnamon sugar. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, about 2 minutes.

Quacamole
We borrowed the original from our Mexican neighbors. Remove seed and skin from a ripe avocado. Mash or sieve fruit. Add 1 small peeled tomato that has been mashed or diced, 1 tablespoon each minced onion, lemon juice and chopped green chili pepper. Salt to taste and serve on shredded lettuce or tomato wedges. Accompany with corn chips to facilitate dunking.

Fresh and frozen vegetables take on exciting new flavor when you add a little wine to the cooking water. Try carrots cooked with sherry wine and water; and green beans or artichokes cooked with white table wine and water.
