

Camp Fire Organizes New Club

A group of Rogue valley high school girls who are forming the valley's first Horizon club, group for Camp Fire Girls in the senior division, attended a Horizon club conference in Klamath Falls.

Making the trip were the Misses Linda Luman, Sharon Roberts and Rosemary Tokar of Medford; the Misses Lana McGraw, Molly Gregg, Joanne Huston, Edna Gray and Martha Ansted, Eagle Point; Misses Marilyn Suksdorf, Gail Carter and Pat Thompson, Talent; Miss Sharon Roberts, Trail, and Miss Mary Dawson, Ashland.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Frank Christian, Talent, Rogue council chairman; Mrs. T. M. Gerety, Camp Fire Girl executive; Mrs. Merle McGraw, Eagle Point; Mr. Ed Gray and Mrs. James Dawson.

Plans for formal installation of the new club, to be known as Amici Horizon club, will be completed at a meeting to be held Thursday, April 5, at the home of Mrs. W. I. Luman, 630 Oakdale drive.

Three Camp Fire representatives of the Rogue council left this morning for Walla Walla, Wash., to attend a conference of the Northwest area April 4-6. Representing the Rogue council will be Henry Enders, Ashland, member of the national council; Mrs. Christian, Talent, and Mrs. James Dawson, Ashland.

The three representatives will take part in a panel discussion on "volunteers and professional relations."

Colored Slides Shown For British Daughters

Colored slides of United States and Canada taken during a recent trip by A. T. Lathrop, Central Point, were shown at the recent meeting of the Daughters of the British Empire at the home of Mrs. Everett Sybrant, 520 South Peach street.

Persons of English, Irish, or Canadian birth or ancestry are invited to attend the meetings that are held the fourth Friday of each month.

This group of high school girls has organized the first Horizon club, senior group in Camp Fire Girls, for the Rogue Valley. The girls met last week at the home of Mrs. W. I. Luman, 630 Oakdale drive, and made plans to attend a Horizon club conference in Klamath Falls Saturday. The new club will be known as Amici Horizon club. Pictured here during a potluck supper at Mrs. Luman's

Canadian School Gives Scholarships

Portland — Clayton Hare, dean of the School of Music, Portland university and conductor of the string and orchestra department of the Banff School of Fine Arts, Banff, Alberta, during the summer months, has announced that a number of scholarships are available for the 1957 summer school.

Mr. Hare points out that the Banff school is situated in buildings worth several million dollars in one of the most beautiful parts of the Canadian Rockies. Leading professors from American and European universities, as well as from Canadian schools are found on the summer faculty, he states.

Young American students of the violin, viola and cello are invited to write Mr. Hare at the University of Portland, Portland 3, Ore.

Society

Works Selected By Art Society; Members Added

Southern Oregon Society of Artists held the monthly meeting March 27 in building 218 at Camp White. Among the guests were Mrs. W. R. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Skidmore, Mrs. Asta Gardner and Mrs. Frank Perl of Medford; Adolphus Byrd, Camp White and Mrs. Doris McCloud, and Howard Wilson from Central Point.

Mrs. McCloud and Mr. Skidmore were accepted for associate membership during the business meeting.

Pictures to be shown in the store windows in Medford were chosen and the picture of the month for Barker's is a pencil and watercolor, "Jenny Butte" done by Ray Eyerly of Grants Pass. The Medford library will show an oil, "Man of the Ages" by Mrs. Jean Neece of Gold Hill. An oil, "Almond Blossoms," by Mrs. Ethyl Hixon of Central Point will be on display at Hadley's and the Paint Store will show an ink work, "Birdseye Ranch," by Eyerly and a pastel, "Mountain Majesty," by Ruby Twidel.

Mrs. Frank Perl gave a talk about art galleries she has seen on her trip to Europe and showed slides of interesting spots she visited there. The society hopes to arrange a traveling exhibit to be held first in Ashland in the near future. Clifford Platz reported he hoped to be able to have Arthur Kreisman from Southern Oregon college in Ashland talk to the group at the April meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Platz and Harry Marx.

Visitors Attend Bethel Session In Central Point

Central Point — Honored Queen Sally Elden presided at a session of Bethel 38, International Order of Job's Daughters, March 28. Nineteen visitors from Medford and Ashland betheled were present.

Honored guests escorted and introduced were Miss Mary Gail Hodges, queen of the Ashland Bethel; Mrs. Richard Stratton, past queen and past guardian, Central Point; Mrs. Paul Selby, grand librarian and guardian of Medford Bethel 55; Melvin McGrew, grand junior custodian and associate guardian, Central Point; Miss Kay Askwith, grand inner guard, Central Point.

Girls were reminded of "go to church night on Sunday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Point Presbyterian church.

Misses Donna Burnett and Jan Bateman and Mrs. Burnett decorated the chapter room with baskets of spirea and flowering quince. An arrangement of flowering quince and cherry blossom was used on the refreshment table. Misses Penny Taylor and Karen Larsen assisted by their mothers and Miss Suzanne Pierce were on the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Paul Snook, guardian, presided at a meeting of the Guardian council which was held at the close of the meeting. Installation of the Guardian council will be held Thursday, April 25.

Codfish Balls
Small codfish balls, brown and crusty on the outside and soft and moist on the inside are wonderful eating. Start with canned codfish and mix with well-seasoned mashed potatoes and perhaps some chopped ripe olives for the basic mixture. Shape into inch-sized balls and fry until golden brown in a shallow layer of hot fat.

Agriculture and pottery were first brought to Michigan by the Indians about the start of the Christian era.

Society Members Add Four Books To Herb Library

Four new books have been added to the library of Rogue Valley Herb society, it was reported at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Glen Holst, 1117 Mt. Pitt avenue, Medford.

The librarian, Mrs. John Holst, reported that the four new books are "The Herb Grower's Complete Guide" by Rosella Mathieu; "Wild Flowers of the Pacific Coast" by Leslie Haskin; "Herbs Described" by Eleanor Chalfin, and "Herbs—How to Grow Them and How to Use Them," Helen Noyes Webster. The last named book was a gift to the library from Mrs. F. E. Williams, Huntington Park, Calif., who is an associate member of the society.

The magazine chairman, Mrs. Edgar Vanderlip, reported 12 subscriptions taken for "The Herb Grower's Magazine," published at Falls Village, Conn. It is of interest to note that this is the only publication in the world devoted to herbs.

Arrangements entitled "St. Francis With Herbs" were done by Mrs. Thera Stevens, Murphy, a new member of the society, and Mrs. Walter McLean.

Mrs. Stevens' arrangement of the garden saint was made from material gathered from the mountains above her home, and were of bay (Laurus nobilis) commonly called the myrtle tree. Her St. Francis statue was in natural colors, with birds perched on the arms and little ducks at the feet.

Mrs. McLean's arrangement was of St. Francis with ivy and helleborus, and various rocks as background.

Mrs. Leo Thomas lectured on "Garden Saints," giving the history and background of St. Francis, St. Fiacre and St. Ambrose. She stated that St. Francis is actually considered the patron saint of all nature, and that he is said to have preached sermons to the birds, asking them to sing praises to God.

St. Fiacre, once a great prince of Ireland, gave up a life of luxury to live a primitive life in a French monastery. It is told of him that he used his crozier in lieu of a spade, having no tools for his garden. Seen by his bishop using his official staff as a garden tool, the bishop presented him not only garden tools but a horse and cart to work his beloved garden. He is remembered for his knowledge of herbs and his wise use of them to heal the sick.

St. Ambrose, patron of bees, had no fear of these insects and worked with them without injury.

Butte Falls Club To Visit Medford

Butte Falls—Plans for visiting Crater Lions auxiliary in Medford April 3 were made at a meeting of the Butte Falls auxiliary held March 27 at Scottie's cafe. Mrs. Bruce Pingle presided.

Money-making projects were discussed, and the nominating committee presented the second reading of nominees.

The auxiliary voted to prepare and serve dinner for the next three meetings of the Butte Falls Lions club. The first of these will be April 10 and will be served by Mrs. Page Stauffer, Mrs. William Hartlerode and Mrs. Roger Harris. Members met at the Butte Falls General store Friday to plan menus and other details of the dinners.

Hostesses for a potluck dinner meeting April 24 at Union hall will be Mrs. Hartlerode and Mrs. Stauffer. Each member will be asked to bring a former or prospective member.

A fun night is being planned for the near future.

Books For Spring Jobs At Library

Householders were reminded today that Medford public library has many books to help those preparing for such spring chores as painting, repairing or remodeling.

Books have information on how the older house can be brought up to date or how a good house can become a better one; they'll help the home owner decide whether the job is one for a professional or one to be done by the family.

One of the most recent and comprehensive do-it-yourself manuals is "The Complete Home Improvement Handbook," which covers every aspect of home improvement from painting and plumbing, roofing and flooring, to carpentry, heating, and lighting. Two other especially helpful books are Harold Highland's "How to Double the Living Space in Your Home" and American Home Magazine's "Home Improvement Ideas."

In the field of interior decoration the library has several recent publications. "The Home Decorator's Guide," by Marjorie Eustis, is a compact, well-illustrated book that is thoroughly sensible in its suggestions. Emphasis is placed, in "The Complete Book of Home Decorating," by James Mayabb, on the ability to combine periods and modes of decoration effectively. H. Ketcham gives helpful advice in "How to Use Color and Decorating Designs in the Home," presents in one volume a complete encyclopedia of how-to-do everything from hanging a curtain to redecorating a whole house on a budget. This book can save hours of doubt and miles of footwork.

Other available handbooks include "All About House Wiring" by Floyd Mix, "Kitchen Ideas" by Better Homes and Gardens magazine, "Upholstery, Drapes and Slip Covers" by Dorothy Wagner, in Mario Dal Fabbro's "How to Make Built-in Furniture," 102 projects of modern design, most of them relatively simple to assemble, are presented. John Rodd describes the dismantling, cleaning, restoring, gluing up, leveling, sanding, coloring, and polishing processes in his book, "The Repair and Restoration of Furniture."

The library also has a number of periodicals which specialize in improvement of the home, including: "House Beautiful," "House and Garden," "American Home," "Better Homes and Gardens," "Good Housekeeping," "Home Craftsman," and "Sunset."

Round Dance Course Planned

A course in round dance instruction will begin tonight at 8 o'clock at Kershaw square. It is stated that currently popular round dances will be taught.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Kenneth Howe, telephone 2-9603.

Mrs. Edna Gish

Talk Announced By Missionary

Mrs. Edna Gish, educational missionary of Christian churches in China, the Philippines, and Thailand, will be the principal speaker Friday, April 5, at a dinner to be held at the First Christian church at 6:30 p.m. The dinner will conclude the annual spring convention for the Christian churches of Southern Oregon.

The convention will start Friday at 10 a.m. when the Woman's Fellowship groups will hold workshops and study groups until 4 p.m.

State leaders who will be in Medford for the convention will be Miss Loma Mae Jones, director of religious education; Mrs. Edna Burke, executive secretary of Christian Women's fellowship; Lawrence Porter, director of the Christian House at Oregon State college; and Charles Adleman, secretary of the Oregon Christian Missionary society.

Word Crafters Club Meets at Camp White

Word Crafters Contest club met at Camp White last week. Contests were discussed with the winning ones being written on the board.

Visitors are invited to attend the meetings which are held the fourth Monday in each month at 1:30 p.m. Different contests are usually conducted during the meetings with question and answer periods.

Jacksonville OES Announces Meeting
Jacksonville—Adare chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a stated meeting Thursday, April 4, at 8 p.m. in the Masonic temple. Visiting members are welcome to attend.

Greek Pianist To Give Concert

Gina Bachauer, Greek pianist, will give a concert in Medford Thursday, March 11, under the auspices of Jackson County Civic Music association. The program will be given at Medford High school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Mme. Bachauer, who made her American debut at Town Hall in New York in 1950, has given over 300 concerts in this country in the past five years. She has played with nearly every major orchestra in Europe and the Near East, as well as leading American orchestras.

The pianist's early teachers included Woldemar Freeman at the Athens conservatory, Alfred Co to in Paris and Serge Rachmaninoff, with whom she studied two years.
