Millions of Teenagers Take Vacation Jobs; Save Money

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Correspondent
New York—U.P.—This week in Manhattan:

Vacation from school will be just the start of work for many of the nation's teenagers. The Institute of Life Insurance reports that two million of them are expected to hold summer jobs.

This number is in addition to the five million who work during school months. The institute had no breakdown of the teenagers' total earnings last year, but has looked into the type of jobs they take. Most girls become clerks in the towns where they live, or care for children, either at home or at camp.

Boys work as caddies, gas station attendants, lifeguards, lawn mowers, door to door salesmen, messengers, grocery clerks or farm hands. One enterprising youth took over care of gardens of several neighborhood families, the institute said.

Another organization, the Youth Research Institute, said the teenagers save most of their summer-time earnings. One study of 2,853 youngsters showed each saved an average of $189 last summer. One 19-year-old boy, working as a resort waiter, saved $1,400.

The same study showed 63 per cent save for school needs in our ALICE BROOKS Needlecraft book — stunning designs just for you, our readers! Dozens of other designs to order — all easy, fascinating hand-work! Send 25 cents for your copy of this wonderful book right away!

the following year: 13 per cent were building a college nest egg; six per cent had a car in mind; and five per cent were stowing money for marriage.

Everybody's making studies of one form or another. A jewelry manufacturer Emmons is out with one concerning what type of woman buys what type of ornaments.

The firm has decided you can tell the woman with the warm, extroverted personality by the way she wraps herself in a profusion of bracelets and other baubles.

The woman who balances her jewelry carefully with her costume is an organized creature. Her taste in clothing runs to the tailored and unadorned.

The insecure woman reveals her nature through unconventional display of bizarre jewelry. She goes for the exotic stuff and loads it on en masse.

Antique jewelry wearers? Our man said, "definitely a type of snob appeal."

Two American women will produce two sets of costumes for the 12 girl guides who will steer tourists through American exhibits at the International Trade Fair in Europe this summer. The fair opens in Paris May 25, and later will show in other countries. The designers are Adele Simpson, American born, and Pauline Trigere, a native of France new established in New York. Mrs. Simpson's "uniform" is navy and white polka dot silk. Miss Trigere's design is a two-piece jerkin in cotton and dacron.

NEWS NOTES from Medford High School

Edited by James Boyd and Linda Robertson
Official returns for the Associated Student Body primary elections were announced Friday.

Next week, the following candidates will run for 1958 student body offices: Dave Frohnmayer and Bob Gee, president; Mike Russell and John Jones, vice-president; Sharon Walsh and Dorothy Ice, secretary; Frank Albert and Sue Hubbard, business manager; Nancy Adams and Tom Morris, treasurer; Doug Randles and Larry Berteau, yell king; Carolyn Hillier and Winifred Gott, yell queen.

Primary election speeches were held Wednesday and voting took place on Thursday. The same pattern will be followed this week for the general election.

Two mathematics majors, Bill Frake and Ed Coyle, computed the percentage of voting students in each of the three classes. The seniors led with 68.3 per cent. Juniors followed closely with 67.8 per cent while the sophomores dropped 5 per cent lower with 62.6 per cent. All in all, 68.7 per cent of the voters in the school cast their ballot.

Not to be content with these bare figures, the two students decided to ascertain the percentage of girls voting compared to the percentage of boys voting. When the vote was broken down by sex in each class it appeared that the girls were more diligent in voting. There was one exception to the rule, the senior boys. They led the six groups with a total of 64.7 per cent of the senior boys voting. At the other end of the line was the group of sophomore boys with only 46.4 per cent voting. In the long run the girls outdistanced the boys by a percentage of 62.9 to 54.1.

The Future Teachers of America left for the second regional conference at Southern Oregon college early Friday morning in provided busses. The conference was for all FTA chapters throughout southern Oregon.

Camp Fire Girls

Take Hike
A-O-Wakiya Camp Fire Girls, fifth graders from Oakgrove school, ventured on a two mile hike and cook out at TouVelle park Saturday, in spite of the rainy weather. It was their first of the year.

Thirteen girls participated, accompanied by Mrs. William Davenport, who furnished transportation and Mrs. Basil Garris, leader. They collected a large assortment of rocks, leaves, cones, acorns and petrified wood to be used in later projects.

About 50 members from the Medford chapter attended the conference.

Highlighting Friday's activities was a banquet and the regional meeting headed Saturday's activities. New officers were elected at this meeting.

Four girls from the Medford chapter of Future Homemakers of America attended the state FHA convention which was held in Corvallis March 29 and 30. The girls were Jeanne Simpson and Kay Little official representatives of the club; Marion Elkins, district secretary; and Lois Kelley, state parliamentarian.

An outstanding feature of the convention was a talk given by the 1937 Mrs. America, Mrs. Cleo Maletis of Portland.

Ryegrass Seedmen To Vote on Commission

Salem—U.P.—The State Agriculture Department Thursday mailed ballots to 1408 Oregon ryegrass seed growers who will vote for or against a commodity commission for their industry. Growers have through April 20 to cast their ballots. Eligible voters are ryegrass seed growers now in production and who sold at least $500 in seed in 1954, 1955 or 1956.
