Eisenhower Slightly Nudges Tax Cut Plans

Washington — (U.P.) — Democratic plans for a possible tax cut next year got a slight nudge today from an unexpected quarter—President Eisenhower.

The President asked Congress to chop $254 million from agricultural funds earmarked for the soil bank during the next fiscal year starting July 1. This will trim Eisenhower's fiscal 1958 spending budget to about $71,550,000,000.

Democrats pin their chief hopes of a tax cut, to be effective next Jan. 1, on cutting Eisenhower's record peacetime budget deep enough to justify a reduction in personal income and some other levies. The cut also would depend on whether federal revenues hold up sufficiently.

Patient — Medical patient at Osteopathic hospital is George Kerby of Talent.

Building Permit — Building permit for $14,000 was issued Wednesday to Doyle Stockton, 2241 Crestbrook ave., Medford, to erect a residence.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas said he and his fellow Democrats won't know until "around June" whether both conditions will be met. He reiterated that they won't.

Chamber Directors Support GP Efforts For Law Revision

Efforts being made in the Grants Pass area to obtain a revision in the law which would permit a water-using industry to locate there, drew the support of the board of directors of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Present state law prohibits the use of water from the Rogue river for industrial purposes. Grants Pass residents say a large industrial concern is interested in locating in the Merlin area, provided it can obtain sufficient water, and the Rogue is the only source. A simple amendment to the law would permit it to use the water.

It was pointed out that there would be no danger of pollution of the river below the area, for the industrial effluent would still be subject to the requirements of the state sanitary authority, the game commission and the water resource board.

The board also approved the appearance of Don McNeil, the chamber manager, at a Civil Liberties Committee hearing in Siskiyou Memorial park.

French Orchardist, Family Visiting In Rogue Valley

A French orchardist and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Lelut of Paris, are making a brief visit in Jackson county this week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor, Old Stage rd., Central Point.

Also here is their son Jean Lelut, who has been in the United States the past two years under sponsorship of the Taylors. He studied horticulture at Oregon State college for one year and will resume his studies there soon.

Jean arrived here through a special arrangement by the state department and was placed in a home through cooperation by the Oregon state Grange and state extension service. Jean met his parents on March 16 in Washington, D.C., where they arrived from Paris by plane.

Jean, acting as interpreter for his French-speaking parents, said his parents have about 40 acres of orchard land 10 miles from Paris. They grow Williams (similar to Bartlett's), D'Anjou, Comice and other varieties.

Lelut said he had observed several differences in growing methods here as compared with methods in his country. He said orchards are smaller and more divided in France than they are here, and there are more dwarf trees in France. He also noted that a method of controlling growth of trees with use of wire, "espalier", is commonly used in France, but appears non-existent here.

Jean, who has observed packing techniques here before, said there is a marked difference between the two countries in packing methods. This is largely because the Leluts are just 10 miles from their market, while Jackson county growers are about 3,000 miles from some of their markets.

Thus, in France pears are packed for immediate consumption, while in Jackson county they are packed to withstand long periods of transportation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lelut said they had enjoyed their trip across the United States. To Jean's great amusement, Lelut laughingly made frequent references to one novelty in their journey. It seems that Jean, who was driving the newly purchased automobile, was cited for making an improper left turn in Washington, D.C. As an outgrowth of this, a misunderstanding arose over validity of his international driver's license. They lost some time and Jean parted with $55 before the confusion ceased and the Leluts continued on their way.

Sugar Stock Demands Sweeten Market List

New York — (U.P.) — Demand for sugar stocks helped to sweeten an otherwise routine stock market Thursday.

Utilities made the best showing in the averages, mainly on the strength of a good gain in Peoples Gas.

The sugars came into the spotlight on news of heavy buying of the commodity in world markets, particularly big Russian purchases of Cuban sugar, Cuban-American paced the upside with a gain of more than two to its high. South Puerto Rico Sugar also was strong.

Steels ran into profit taking, Lukens Steel was knocked down almost four at one time but it came back to finish above its low. Youngtown also was a weak spot. Oils were a scarmble of small gains and losses. Motors did little. Chemicals were mixed.

Physicians Prefer Returning To School

Chicago — (U.P.) — Physicians desiring to keep abreast of "what's new" in medicine prefer returning to medical schools for additional training, the American Medical Association reports.

The AMA said doctors like medical school courses because they can play a more active role than they can in courses, hospitals or seminars.

The number of such courses, excluding medical society meetings here in the United States during the nine-month period from Sept. 1, 1955, to June 1, 1956, was 886, the AMA said. Total physician attendance at the courses was 37,081, it added.

Medical schools offered half of the courses and 36 per cent of the hours, the AMA report said.
