Local Optometrist Speaks at Meeting

Dr. Tom C. Anderson, Medford optometrist, was guest speaker at the monthly study group meeting of the Southern Oregon Optometric society recently in Grants Pass.

Dr. Anderson reported on the new tachistoscopic equipment available for optometric visual training and presented a demonstration of the equipment in use. He said the new instruments would allow the individual doctor to give more comprehensive preventive and correctional vision training in the office.

The tachistoscope, used extensively by the Armed Forces to train pilots and observers in fast identification of planes, is an instrument used to train children in speed of perception, one of the principal requirements for rapid reading.

Another feature presented to the optometrists from Ashland, Grants Pass and Medford who attended the meeting, was a closed circuit tape recording report on optometric office procedures and vision training programs. The program was recorded by Dr. Ralph Bastow, director of ethics and economics, optometric extension program, Duncan, Okla.

The next business meeting of the group will be held Tuesday, April 16, in Medford, according to Dr. R. L. Stephen, president of the society.

Weapons Test Due In Nevada Tonight

Las Vegas—(U.P.)—The Atomic Energy commission hoped to stage its highly classified weapons test at 9 p. m. (PST) today after being forced to postpone it for two successive nights.

The AEC was scheduled to carry out the non-nuclear test at 9 p. m. Thursday but had to postpone it until tonight because a large weather balloon used to support instruments, broke loose from its cable.

The first scheduled staging of the test Wednesday night was called off because of unfavorable weather conditions.

The test is to involve handling and storage of nuclear weapons and is the first effort in the so-called "safety" series at the nearby Nevada test site.

Taylor Nominated Swiss Ambassador

Washington—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower today nominated Henry J. Taylor, radio news commentator, to be ambassador to Switzerland.

Taylor, whose nomination for the post has been expected for some time, would succeed Miss Frances E. Willis, long time career diplomat, who is being reassigned.

The nomination was sent to the Senate for its approval or disapproval.

BIRTHS

ROBERTSON—To Mr. and Mrs. James S., post office box 24, Talent, April 12, 1957, a boy, 7 1/2 pounds, at Sacred Heart hospital.

No Mail Deliveries In Portland Saturday

Portland—(U.P.)—Postmaster Albert Hodler said today no mail would be delivered in the Portland postal system area Saturday.

Hodler also announced several curtailments in local postal service on Saturdays "unless officially rescinded."
Newspapers said a lack of Saturday service might result in non-delivery of newspapers to some rural routes from Friday until Monday.

Russian Circus Banned To Keep Order

Jakarta, Indonesia—(U.P.)—A Russian circus which has been making a goodwill tour of Indonesia was banned today from Jogjakarta in the interests of "law and order."

The ban, imposed by Lt. Col. Soloali, commander of the 13th Regiment, brought an immediate protest from the sponsoring Indonesian committee which said it would hurt friendly relations between the two countries.

The colonel said the circus was forbidden in the revolutionary capital "not on political grounds but exclusively to maintain a peace and order."

The circus arrived in February. Since then it has been embroiled in a student riot, condemned by Moslems because the "Plastic Lady," its contortionist, was not sufficiently clothed, and was stranded in Palembang during an abortive military counter-revolution.
