Fresh Asparagus Salad Dressings

Asparagus is in excellent supply so take advantage of it's all-too-short season by serving fresh asparagus salads often. Here are some dressing suggestions for marinating cooked-just-until-tender asparagus or for use as a regular salad dressing.

Vinaigrette Dressing. Combine six tablespoons olive oil, three tablespoons vinegar, one-half teaspoon dry mustard, one tablespoon chopped chives, one split clove garlic and salt and pepper to taste; beat or shake well. Remove garlic after chilling.

Horseradish French Dressing. Add one teaspoon horseradish to one-half cup French dressing. Beat or shake well. Perhaps you'll like a bit more horseradish.

Piquant Dressing. Combine one-fourth cup salad or olive oil, two tablespoons vinegar, two tablespoons chili sauce, one-half teaspoon prepared horseradish and one-half teaspoon salt. Beat or shake well.

Mustard Dressing. Combine one-half cup French dressing, two teaspoons prepared mustard and one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; beat or shake well.

Note: If used as a marinade, plan on letting asparagus stand for several hours before arranging on crisp salad greens. Each recipe sufficient for 1 1/2 pounds asparagus.

Hearty Onion Soup

Spring may be here, but chances are we're still going to have some chilly weather. And cold weather and hearty soups like this macaroni-onion soup are natural go-togethers.

Melt one-fourth cup butter or margarine in large saucepan. Add two cups sliced onions and cook gently, stirring frequently until onions are light brown. Add one quart hot water, four bouillon cubes, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and one-half teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil stirring constantly until bouillon cubes are dissolved. Add four ounces elbow macaroni and stir about one minute or until water is back to a full boil. Lower heat, cover and simmer gently about 20 minutes. Serve hot with grated Parmesan cheese. Makes four large servings.

Salmon Sauté. If you like salmon, you'll love this. Plan one salmon steak per serving. Place salmon in shallow greased baking dish; season with salt and pepper. Now cover with commercial sour cream. Top with a thin lemon slice and sprinkle with parsley. Bake in moderate, 350 degree oven for 40 minutes.

Sour Cream Pot Roast Is Conversation Piece

Dress up your next pot roast with sour cream and you'll have a veritable queen of pot roasts that will easily become a conversation piece of friends and family.

3 1/2 to 4 pound pot roast
2 medium onions
1 clove garlic
3 tablespoons shortening
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup commercial sour cream
1 cup water
4 to 5 ounce package noodles

Slice onions and mince garlic. Melt shortening in Dutch oven or other heavy utensil. Add onions and garlic and cook until light brown. Remove to plate. Rub meat with salt and brown well in Dutch oven. Combine sour cream with water and pour over meat. Top with onions and garlic. Cover and cook over low heat or in a moderate, 325 degree, oven for 2 1/2 hours or until tender. When roast is almost done, cook noodles according to package instructions. Remove roast from pan and make gravy from drippings, adding to it the sour cream and onion mixture spooned from top of roast. Season to taste with salt, pepper and paprika. Serve noodles and meat topped with gravy. Makes six good sized servings.

Spring Vegetables, Pork, Eggs, Fish and Shellfish Head Buys

Vegetables from A to Z are yours for the choosing from colorful vegetable displays at your favorite market. For those who can't immediately think what the "A" and "Z" vegetables we have in mind are, they're artichokes and zucchini squash. However, it is true that they are not the best buys, although both are available at reasonable prices.

Best vegetable buys right now are tender, sweet, golden carrots to be bought in bunches by the pound or topped and packaged in cellophane bags; top quality asparagus, celery, lettuce, spinach and both green and white onions. Long white and russet potatoes are bargain priced. New potato supplies are increasing. Fresh green peas are wonderfully good and well worth the effort of shelling. Cabbage, cauliflower, radishes and cucumbers are reasonably priced. Broccoli is going into a seasonal slump. Rhubarb supplies (both hot house and field grown) are good.

Meat Department. Pork is most attractively priced item here. Plenty of good sausage, bacon and ham for making extra good breakfasts. Loin cuts (chops and roasts), spareribs and shoulders are all well priced. New crop lamb is increasing in supply, but more reasonable prices mark the older heavier lambs. Beef and veal continue about the same. Good buys in stewing cuts and in ground meat for patties, meat loaves and meat sauces.

Eggs and Poultry. Happily for family food-shoppers the plentiful egg story continues. A surplus of chickens, particularly broilers and fryers, make prices so low as to make their purchase practically mandatory. Turkeys, too, are going at very good prices. If you have a freezer, now is a good time to stock up. Watch our ads for specials.

Fish and Shellfish. Frozen halibut and sole are plentiful with good supplies of rockfish, salmon, crab, oysters and shrimp among local favorites. Fillets and fish sticks are readily available; quickly prepared at moderate cost. Canned tuna is frequently specialized.

Fruit buys are seasonally limited. Most abundant and of excellent quality are oranges and grapefruit. Apples, avocados, bananas and pears are moderately priced. Not so in strawberries are putting in an appearance.

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup evaporated milk
2 tablespoons butter
18 marshmallows (4 1/2 ounces)
2 cups tender-thin flaked coconut OR 1 cup chopped nut meats

Combine chocolate, sugar and milk in saucepan. Place over low heat and stir until chocolate is melted. Bring to a boil and boil gently stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about five minutes. Remove from heat and add butter. Cool to room temperature. Cut marshmallows in half. Dip in chocolate mixture, one at a time, and roll in coconut or nuts.

Mail Deliveries Expected To Be Scarce Saturday

BY UNITED PRESS
Ordinary mail will be scarce and hard to get in most cities this forthcoming and subsequent week ends unless the postmaster general changes his mind on economy moves, a survey showed Thursday.

Post offices across the nation were instructing most carriers and clerks to stay home Saturday in compliance with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's order to close all first, second and third class postal stations and halt Saturday deliveries.

Some postmasters, however, said they were geared to remain open and make deliveries Saturday if Congress gives Summerfield assurance today that the Post Office Department will get $47 million in emergency funds.

A department spokesman said Thursday that a vote granting the funds by the House Appropriations Committee alone will be sufficient immediate assurance to the department. The committee was scheduled to meet today.

San Francisco Postmaster John F. Fixa said post offices have no option to deliver mail on Saturdays if Summerfield orders service suspended. Fixa estimated the San Francisco payroll savings would amount to $400,000 between Saturday and June 30, end of the fiscal year.

Postal authorities in most cities planned to make only special deliveries Saturday.

Civil Service Jobs Are Available in Area

The civil service commission has announced several openings in government positions. Applications are being accepted for fishery aid, construction inspector, state program assistant, construction inspector and teacher of the bureau of Indian affairs.
