Byrd Determined To Slash Budget

Washington—(U.P.)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd today stood by his determination to try to slash President Eisenhower's budget by $6,500,000,000. He said Eisenhower's recently proposed budget reductions were "totally inadequate."

The Virginia Democrat is a leader of the Senate economy bloc hoping to whittle down Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget for the 12 months starting July 1.

Byrd said his figures show the government already has $70 billion available for the new fiscal year from money appropriated by Congress in recent years. Added to this year's request, he said, the amount available would total about $140 billion.

The President, sensitive to the high economy fever Congress is running this year, suggested in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) last week that $1,342,000,000 be shaved from his requests for new "spending authority."

Eisenhower said, however, that less than half his proposed cuts in "spending authority" actually would show up in reduced federal spending next fiscal year.

Hells Canyon Group To Continue Efforts

Lewiston, Idaho—(U.P.)—The Tri-State Hells Canyon association met here during the week end and voted to continue its efforts for federal development of Hells Canyon on the Snake river until all possible hope for such development is gone.

Association President Lynn Tuttle, Clarkston, told delegates from Washington, Oregon and Idaho that there still was a chance for construction of a federal dam in the canyon despite recent setbacks in the Federal Power Commission and Supreme Court.

Millions Gather for Easter Services as Weather Mostly Good

By UNITED PRESS

Millions of Americans led by President and Mrs. Eisenhower, attended Easter church services Sunday, and thousands of other persons worshipped out-of-doors at sunrise services.

Except for the Southwest, generally fair skies encouraged church attendance and added sparkle to the spring finery displayed in the traditional Easter parades.

Accompanied by Humphrey Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower attended Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church in Augusta, Ga., where the nation's first family is vacationing. They were accompanied by Treasury Secretary and Mrs. George M. Humphrey, week end guests of the President.

About 1,200,000 persons jammed New York's Fifth ave. from 49th to 59th sts. in the nation's biggest Easter parade. Sunny skies and temperatures in the 80s attracted the huge throngs. About 350 policemen were on hand to keep order.

Chilly readings in Chicago thinned the ranks of paraders on Michigan ave. and in some other cities, notably in the Southwest, an umbrella was a necessary accessory to Easter outfits.

Some Optimism in Disarmament Talks

Moscow—(U.P.)—Diplomatic circles expressed cautious optimism today that some measure of agreement could be reached between the Soviet Union and the West in the London disarmament talks.

The prediction came as Russia made public its latest notes to the Western Big Three proposing a four-power declaration renouncing the use of force in settling disputes in the Middle East.

The return to Moscow from the London talks of Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin was regarded as an indication the Russians may be ready to accept certain Western disarmament proposals.

The Soviet press has not yet indicated Soviet reaction to these proposals, but observers believed there was more than a 50-50 chance that Zorin was returning to the London talks with instructions to accept or at least suggest constructive modifications to the plans.

In the case they feel that the Soviet Union will agree to some sort of reduction in conventional arms and armed forces.

The founder of osteopathy was Dr. Andrew Taylor Sill of Macon, Mo.

Harbor, Maine, where the sun's rays first touch the nation. Several hundred persons attended the service, sponsored by the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Bar Harbor Congregational Church.

A downpour near Lawton, Okla., cut attendance at the Wichita Mountains Easter pageant. Creeks and streams overflowed their banks and flooded parking areas for the program.

Pope Sees Science As Offer of Hope

Vatican City—(U.P.)—Pope Pius XII said in his Easter message Sunday that science offers 20th Century man the hope of a golden age—if he can curb his "evil habits" of international hate and destruction.

The address was heard by more people than ever before—a record crowd of 400,000 in St. Peter's square, television in 11 European nations, and radio listeners around the world.

Devout listeners received a plenary indulgence with the Pope's concluding blessing "to the city and to the world," whether they heard it directly or by electronic means.

For the first time since 1954, the pontiff made no direct reference to the horrors of atomic war. He mentioned atomic energy and guided missiles only as samples of the wonders of modern science.

The one remark which could be interpreted as even an oblique reference to nuclear conflict was his comment about the threat of "storm and the crack of thunder" in the night which he said engulfs the human spirit.

He said Christ will have to be reborn in the hearts of men before the world can be "bathed in the rays of a new sun."

"It is necessary to remove the stone from the tomb in which men desired to bury truth and goodness," he said. "A new resurrection of Jesus is necessary . . . which admits no more the lordship of death."

Wing Chopped Off; Plane Makes Landing

Phoenix, Ariz.—(U.P.)—A Frontier Airlines twin-engine DC3 with 26 persons aboard made an emergency landing here Sunday after ten feet of its left wing was chopped off "by some object" in turbulent weather.

Carlton Foster, the airlines' operation chief, said about a quarter of the plane's wing was clipped off as the airliner hit a downdraft, he said. "The plane was hit by an object, but we don't know what."

The airliner was en route to Phoenix from Prescott, Ariz., carrying 23 passengers and a crew of three.

Capt. Dale R. Welling made a perfect landing nearly an hour after the plane lost part of its wing. The passengers reportedly remained calm and there was no panic on the crippled airliner.

Six People Hurt In Vehicle Collision

Six people received minor injuries Sunday in a two-car collision on Highway 99 near Beall lane, according to state police.

Officers said the accident occurred at 5:36 p.m., when a car operated by Charlie Kelly, 45, of 118 East McAndrews rd., entered the highway from Smitty's tavern, near Beall lane. His car collided with a vehicle traveling north on Highway 99, operated by George Chester Loveland McBride, 17, Coos Bay.

Kelly and an unidentified passenger in his car were thrown from the vehicle onto the highway, police said. Also injured were McBride and his four passengers, Virginia Loveland McBride, 42, David Loveland McBride, 11, and Katherine Loveland McBride, 9, all of Coos Bay, and Mrs. Mary Miller Loveland, 72, Palo Alto, Calif.

Des Moines, Iowa — (U.P.) — Iowa's "shirt sleeve" state senator, Guy Butler, 69, this week completes 10 years of legislative service without ever having worn a jacket in the Senate chamber. Butler says he doesn't see why he should wear a jacket when women clerks enter the chamber in short-sleeved dresses.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

No other car even challenges its performance!

Here are some figures for comparison. We believe they talk louder than words, and that you will find this message worth reading.

So much has been said about the good looks of the 1957 Chrysler that you may have the impression its reputation rests on styling alone. The truth is it's even more impressive in action. Three performance figures prove this. Here is the first: Chrysler's Firepower V-8 engine packs 325 hp (and up to 375 hp in the Chrysler 300-C), tops in the industry.

Is horsepower the only way you judge performance? Certainly not. There's engine displacement and torque. Chrysler's displacement is 392 cu. in. What about torque, the real pay-dirt power that turns the wheels? Chrysler's torque is 430 lb.-ft. at 2800 rpm, again tops in the industry.

More power than you need? Maybe. But it means unquestioned command of the highway when you want it. It means your Chrysler will stay like new much longer because it can loaf where other cars strain. So you see, when we call this car the Mighty Chrysler we mean just that . . . the mightiest on the highway! Come in and drive it soon.
