TO VISIT EUROPE—David Frohnmayer, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Frohnmayer, Medford, will spend the summer months as a guest of a family in Europe under the American Field Service exchange program. He is shown above with John Hansen, right, of Copenhagen, who is a student of Medford

High school under the program, and C. Weldon Kline, chairman of the recently-organized AFS committee in Medford. Frohnmayer, a junior at Medford High school and student body president-elect, is the first youth from this area to participate in the exchange program.

David Frohnmayer Chosen to Go Abroad Three Months in Summer

David Frohnmayer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Frohnmayer, 1556 Spring street, Medford, has been chosen to spend three months in Europe this summer as a participant in the American Field Service student exchange program, according to C. Weldon Kline, chairman of the Medford AFS committee.

Frohnmayer was notified this week that he had been selected by the AFS office in Washington, D.C., on the basis of scholastic average and character. Records of several applicants from this area were compiled by the Medford AFS committee and sent to the Washington office earlier this year.

Frohnmayer will leave Medford on June 22 for Washington, D.C., where about 400 other American youths will gather before departing for Montreal, Canada, to board the German liner Arrosa Kulm.

Expects Notification

The ship will debark at Rotterdam, Holland, where the young men will be assigned other means of transportation to take them to the homes of their host families in different countries in Europe. At this time, Frohnmayer does not know to which country he has been assigned, but expects to be notified by AFS headquarters in Portland within the next few days.

Due to the language barrier, American teenagers cannot study in European schools, but spend the summer vacation months living in the homes of their European "foster" parents. Foreign students who come here are able to speak English.

The American Field Service committee in Medford was only recently organized, and this is the first time a Medford youth has participated in the exchange program. The Medford Rotary club, under the AFS program, has sponsored a Copenhagen youth, John Hansen, who has been a student of Medford High school during the 1956-57 school year. The cost for bringing a foreign student to this country for a school year is about $650, while the cost to send one of our students abroad for the summer amounts to about $415, according to Kline.

Junior at School

Frohnmayer, a junior at Medford High school, was elected student body president for the school year 1957-58. He placed second in the college forensic debate tournament at Linfield college in 1957 and is a member of the Medford High school band.

The AFS was founded in 1914 as a volunteer ambulance service in World War I, and after World War II the organization established the youth exchange program as a peacetime project.

Members of the Medford AFS committee are Kline, Joe Naumes, William M. Caldwell, Leonard Mayfield and Russ Jamison.

Improved Service to Start Here Saturday

New telephone numbers will go into effect at 11 p.m. Saturday in the Greater Medford area, providing additional direct dialing between several Jackson county communities.

The improvements, costing about $675,000, will provide direct dialing from Medford to Ashland, Central Point, Gold Hill, Jacksonville, the new Phoenix-Talent exchange, and White City.

Pacific Telephone's Medford Manager Jack Creager pointed out that the change tomorrow night will result in new numbers for police and fire departments in six towns.

Information on Dialing

Information on how to dial the new numbers is printed in the front section of new directories, which have been distributed throughout the valley. Also shown is a chart and a map of the new expanded local calling areas.

The new emergency numbers,

Creager pointed out, are listed on the front page of telephone directories. They are: Medford, fire department, Spring 2-2333; police department, Spring 3-3636; Gold Hill, fire department, ULrick 5-1515; police department, ULrick 5-1021.

Ashland, fire department, MURdock 2-3366; police department, MURdock 2-4311; Jacksonville, fire department, dial 116 or "O" for operator; police department, TWinoaks 9-1231; Phoenix, fire department, dial 116 or "O" for operator; police department, KEystone 5-2525; and Talent, fire department, dial 116 or "O" for operator.

Using Code Number

In using the code number 116 or the figure "O" for operator, Creager pointed out, the operator answering the call should know the exact nature and place of the emergency. She will assist in getting the department required.

Creager added that numbers of the Central Point police and fire departments do not change. They are, fire department, NORmandy 4-1234, and police department, NORmandy 4-2424. If there is no answer to the latter number call SPring 3-3636.

Little or No Heating Expected Tonight

Little or no orchard heating is expected to be necessary tonight in Jackson county orchards.

William Rogers, official frost forecaster for the U.S. Weather bureau, said minimum temperature in the coldest areas of the county is expected to be 30 degrees.

There was a limited amount of firing in orchards after 3 a.m. today, when a temperature of 28 degrees was reported in some of the coldest areas. No damage to fruit resulted from this morning's freeze, according to C. B. Cordy, county horticulture agent.

Washington—(U.P.)—Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) has recommended closure of postoffices at Denmark and Goshen, Ore., and substitution of rural contract stations.

Middle Eastern Nations Cautioned To Avoid Action

Position Said Made 'Abundantly Clear'

Washington—(U.P.)—The United States has cautioned Israel, Egypt, Syria and other Middle Eastern countries to avoid any action that would worsen the situation in Jordan, it was disclosed today.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the U.S. position that Jordan's independence and integrity are "vital" has been made "abundantly clear" to countries in the Middle East area.

White also told a news conference that:

Situation Better

—The situation in Jordan "if anything, is perhaps a little better today than yesterday."

—King Hussein of Jordan has not asked the U.S. for assistance during the present emergency in his country.

White said the U.S. is in "daily contact" with Middle East countries.

He said this government's position is "publicly stated" by President Eisenhower has been made "abundantly clear to them."

Three Main Parts

The American strategy as now unfolding shows three main parts:

1. The President's declaration.

2. The State Department's follow up, cautioning the Middle Eastern countries against taking action to worsen the situation.

3. Sending the U.S. Sixth fleet into the Eastern Mediterranean as a show of force.

But there is no present American intention to intervene militarily in the Jordanian crisis.

Budget Committee Starts Item Study

The Medford budget committee last night started a detailed study of the proposed $721,965 general fund budget for fiscal year 1957-58.

The proposed budget shows an increase of $103,807 more than this year's $618,158 general fund expenses. It is $3,074 less than the amount allowable under the 6 per cent limitation.

Included in the budget are three capital improvement programs which will start next year. Medford voters last November approved bond issues for improvements in the arterial street program, storm sewers and sanitary sewers.

A total of $143,600 has been listed for arterial streets, with $134,984 of that going into actual construction and $8,616 for engineer's fees. Some $47,500 has been budgeted for storm sewers and $19,000 for sanitary sewers.

Treasury Secretary Hints at Resignation

Washington—(U.P.)—Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey hinted strongly today that he intends to resign soon from President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Rumors of Humphrey's possible resignation have been increasing since shortly after the first of the year when he invited Congress to make drastic cuts in the President's $71,800,000,000 budget for fiscal 1958.

Hussein Appears Victor in Latest Political Battle

Leftist Dissidents Rounded Up by Army

By UNITED PRESS

King Hussein emerged from 48 hours of crisis today, the clear victor in the latest round of his battle to steer Jordan from Communism into a path of moderation.

His army held the nation in the iron grip of martial law and was reported rounding up hundreds of leftist dissidents.

Ousted Premier Hunted

Ousted former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi was declared to be a "fugitive" and was being hunted by security forces.

"We are looking for Nabulsi," a Jordanian government spokesman said.

Reports reaching Beirut, Lebanon, said Nabulsi already was under arrest along with a number of other leftist leaders and dissident army officers. The reports said "several hundred" persons were arrested.

However, the general outlook appeared to be improving inside and outside of Jordan where things were calm on this Moslem sabbath.

Government officials in Amman were reported expressing more confidence that the present crisis is just about over. The feeling in government and diplomatic circles was that the harsh propaganda of the past few days from other Arab countries, notably from Cairo's Voice of the Arabs, is now on the wane.

Fleet Has Calming Effect

The decision by the United States to speed the Sixth Fleet into the Eastern Mediterranean in a forceful show of the flag apparently has had a calming effect on the entire Middle East. Fleet units rendezvoused off the Italian coast for their move in the far end of the Mediterranean, and their arrival in the Jordan area was awaited with confidence.

A hurried trip to Riyadh, diplomatic capital of Saudi Arabia, by top Syrian and Egyptian officials for talks with King Saud was interpreted by competent sources in Amman to mean the Arab world now believes that no radical changes will be made in Jordan.

Oklahoma, Nebraska Targets of Tornadoes

By UNITED PRESS

New storm warnings were out today for the Southwest today in a flurry of violent weather that sent twisters ripping through communities in Oklahoma and Nebraska, flooding rains in Texas and dust storms in Colorado and Kansas.

Hardest hit was the little community of Milford, Neb., west Lincoln, where a tornado Thursday night destroyed at least 75 homes, damaged some 25 more, injured some 50 persons and left 150-200 persons homeless.

Another twister slammed into Holdenville, Okla., Thursday night, causing considerable damage to the business and residential sections.

Mayor George Phipps of Milford estimated damage could reach as much as $1,500,000. Of the injured, only 16 required hospitalization and none of them was believed critically hurt.

DOW-JONES AVERAGES

New York—(U.P.)—Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 491.50, off 0.79; 20 railroads 146.98, off 0.51; 15 utilities 72.99, up 0.04, and 65 stocks 172.86, off 0.27. Sales today were about 2,380,000 shares compared with 2,640,000 shares Thursday.

Home, Auto Show Scheduled In New Medford Warehouse

The Medford Home and Auto Show scheduled May 30 through June 2, will be jointly produced by a Medford advertising man and Johnny Walker Attractions.

Portland firm, Don Mosher, of the attractions firm, announced today.

Representatives of the Portland firm said this morning they would jointly promote the show with Bill Dawkins, of Pierce-Hawkins Inc., Medford advertising firm.

Now Warehouse

The show will be held at the new warehouse of Nye and Naumes Packing company, 741 South Fir st., Medford, according to Mosher. The show was originally scheduled at the new National Guard armory.

Location of the home show was changed because of conflicts of military activities at the new armory during the hold, according to National Guard officers.

Jimmy Wakely, western singer, will be featured at the show. Other features will include advances in home construction, remodeling, appliances and furnishings, demonstrated by Medford merchants, Mosher said.

The show also will include models of automobiles, boats, and sporting equipment, according to home show officials.

The Medford Lions club will be in charge of all concessions at the show, Mosher said. Concession proceeds will go to a Lions club charity, he added.

Headquarters for Johnny Walker Attractions are in the Medford hotel.

Controversy over whether the home show would be locally produced or by the Portland firm developed last week when the National Guard armory board leased the armory to the firm for the home show.

At the armory board hearing last Thursday Ron Rice, representing the Kiwanis club, noted that in 1955 the Kiwanis club secured an agreement with Col. Paul Kleiver, director of Oregon National Guard armories, Salem, that the first home show to be produced in the armory would be a Kiwanis project.

OPENING DAY—When trout season opens one hour before sunrise tomorrow there will be many scenes like the one above when anglers are expected to be out in numbers on the lakes and streams of southern Oregon. Favorite spots for anglers tomorrow will be the Rogue river, Fish lake, Willow Springs reservoir and the Applegate, as well as the many small streams like the one shown above. According to state police, 51,000 legal-size trout have been planted in southern Oregon waters and most streams are moderately clear, which should account for a large number of limit catches.

Festival Parade Will Start at 1 Saturday

The fourth annual Pear Blossom Festival parade will start at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Library park.

Floats and marching units should start lining up at noon tomorrow, according to Dick Walsh, parade chairman. Grand marshal of the parade will be Oregon's Governor Robert D. Holmes, with Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams as special guest.

Both Governors will be in

Governor Holmes To Attend Event Dedication Armory

Gov. Robert D. Holmes will participate in dedication ceremonies of the new $400,000 National Guard armory at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 25, according to Lt. Col. Francis C. Ayres, president of the armory board.

Colonel Ayres, battalion commander of National Guard units in Ashland, Klamath Falls, Lakeview and Burns, replaced Capt. S. J. Fagone as president of the armory board. Captain Fagone, company commander of Headquarters company, Medford, will serve as a member of the board.

Fagone was replaced as president of the board because Ayres is the area's senior officer, he said.

Scheduled to Attend

Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Riley, adjutant general of the Oregon National Guard, also is scheduled to attend the dedication.

Ayres reported, Ayres said the 234th Army band, Portland, will play at a dance following the dedication.

The armory board president added that applications are now being accepted for rental of the new armory. Applications must be received 30 days in advance of the event to be scheduled, he said.

Ayres pointed out that the board plans on working "very closely" with the armory board advisory council in renting the armory. The council is composed of private citizens and public officials. County Judge Rodney Keating is chairman.

Medford National Guard units will begin moving into the new armory May 15, Ayres said. Both units, Headquarters and A companies, should be moved into the armory by June 10, he said.

Public Hearing On Proposed Bill Set

A public hearing will be held in room 321 of the State Capitol at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 1, on House Bill 790, according to Sen. Philip B. Lowry.

The bill would make possible the withdrawal of water from the Rogue river for industrial purposes, a use not permitted under existing law. The bill provides that approval for such withdrawal would be necessary from the State Sanitary Authority, the State Air Pollution Authority, the State Game Commission and the State Engineer.

Congressman, Two Governors Slated To Arrive Saturday

G. Mennen Williams, governor of Michigan, will speak at the fourth annual Roosevelt Memorial dinner, which starts at 6 p.m. tomorrow at McLoughlin Junior High school Saturday evening.

Governor Williams, who has been listed by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as one of the five top-flight Democrats qualified for the presidency, will be introduced by Oregon's Governor Robert D. Holmes. Governor and Mrs. Holmes are making their first appearance in southern Oregon since he was elected last November.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner will be Congressman Charles O. Porter.

Arrive Tomorrow

Both governors and Congressman Porter are scheduled to arrive in Medford tomorrow morning, and will be met by a reception committee composed of Medford Mayor John Snider and other officials. Committee members in charge of the dinner pointed out that anyone interested may attend reception ceremonies at the airport.

Governor Williams is expected to arrive at 10:50 a.m. and Congressman Porter and Governor Holmes are expected to arrive about 10:56 a.m. Saturday.

Bob Boyer, state Democratic party chairman, will interview the two governors and the congressman on a television program over KBEST-TV starting at 3:40 p.m. tomorrow. Congressman Porter also has scheduled a meeting at 11:30 a.m. with directors of the Rogue Valley Flood Control and Water Resources association, and others interested in flood control at the county court room.

Included on the program tomorrow night will be a 20-minute "music interlude" by groups from the valley. It will be under the supervision of Jerry Dryden, and will be presented apart from the regular dinner program. It will be presented early in the evening.

Langlois Blue Cheese Buildings Destroyed

Cos Bay—(U.P.)—Fire early today destroyed the two main buildings of the Langlois Blue Cheese factory 45 miles south of here with an estimated loss of $150,000 and a four-month supply of the world-famed dairy product.

Students Participating in Music Festival Here Today

Bands, orchestras and choirs from Medford and Klamath Falls High schools will compete for honors at 7:30 p.m. today in the Hedrick Junior High school auditorium.

Tonight's session will end the first half of the Southern Oregon Music contest. About 2,000 students from elementary, junior high and high schools as far east as Lakeview and as far west as Brookings are participating in the Friday and Saturday music events. Ratings of superior, excellent, good, fair and poor will be given to participants.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. today, and the Medford orchestra will be the first group to perform. Ashland's orchestra will compete in the "A" division. Medford and Klamath Falls groups will compete in the "AA" division.

Admission for tonight's session will be 50 cents. There will be no admission for daytime contest events either Friday or Saturday.

Contest events started at 8:30 a.m. today in the Medford High school auditorium and boys' gymnasium. They will be resumed at the same places at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and end at 5 p.m.

Southern Oregon Music contest judges include Ira Lee, University of Oregon; John O'Connor, Oregon State college; Glen Matthews, Southern Oregon college; Dean Melvin Geist, Willamette university; Oscar Bjorlie, Southern Oregon college; and Stanley Glarum, Lewis and Clark college.

Elmer V. Ayres of McLoughlin Junior High school is contest chairman.
