Antique Show and Tea Planned By Medford UN Chapter May 2

An important event scheduled this week is the World Heritage tea and antique show sponsored by Medford chapter, Oregon United Nations' association. It is planned for Thursday afternoon, May 2, at St. Mark's parish house and tickets may be obtained from chapter members.

Mrs. Florestan Domaschiditz of Ashland will lecture during the afternoon, speaking at 2:30 and again at 4 p.m. Mrs. Domaschiditz and her husband, who came to this country from Europe, are both authorities on antiques.

Exhibited will be some of the choicest articles from their collection, including glass, silver, brass, rugs and pottery. Mrs. Domaschiditz will not only speak concerning the articles on exhibit, but will talk on the philosophy of art and why beautiful and artistic objects from all over the world are a part of the heritage of everyone. Mrs. Domaschiditz believes that "art is the climax, the end result" of the world's culture and that everyone should be able to know and appreciate artistic objects.

In addition to the exhibit, delicacies cooked from recipes of foreign origin will be served at the tea and will also be on sale. This will include Danish and Swedish cookies, Russian Easter bread and Mexican wedding cake.

Many members of the chapter are working on the project, which will raise funds for the state convention to be held here next week end. The committee includes Mrs. Harlan P. Bosworth Jr., chairman, Mrs. Bruno Pellegrini, Mrs. William Bartlett, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. George Rode, Mrs. Lawrence Solin, Mrs. Eva Ringo, Mrs. Karl Bismark, Mrs. A. C. Allen Jr., Mrs. C. Rease Braley, Mrs. Moore Hamilton, Mrs. Lester Harris, Mrs. Edward Kelly, Mrs. Ethel Nicodemus, Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, Mrs. Ralph Thompson and Mrs. Wallace Robinson.
