NEWS NOTES from Medford High School

"Boy is my neck stiff." "My eyes are so tired I could sleep for a month." These were familiar complaints, as students filed out of the auditorium after completing a set of questions on the Iowa Education Development tests.

Seniors took the tests Monday and Tuesday, juniors took them Wednesday and Thursday, and the sophomores will tackle them next Monday and Tuesday. Parents will be able to see the results of the tests when they are returned to the students.

The seniors of MHS were off to college Friday for the annual senior campus visitation week end. This event is designed to give graduating seniors a chance to become familiar with the campuses of the state system of higher education, and to talk with faculty members about academic requirements. Discussion sessions with students, and visits to the different departments were also scheduled for the visiting students.

Special social and sporting events were staged yesterday to further acquaint the prospective collegians with campus activities. The seniors have been housed in student living organizations.

Grange Notes

Phoenix Grange
April 23 was social night at Phoenix Grange. The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Norton was observed. The committee in charge arranged a large table in the Grange hall with a large decorated cake in the center and bowls of tulips and gerberas at either end.

Vaughn Quackenbush led in singing Billy Boy, an action song, in which the ladies stood and sang the question, then the men stood and answered in song.

A narrative, written by Mrs. Geo. Hartley, on the life of the Nortons, from about the time of their marriage, and depicting in a humorous way, the ups and downs they encountered, was read by Mrs. George Drake, while on the stage Glen Bradley, taking the part of Mark Norton, and Barbary Gysin as his wife Louise, acted out the events.

Daughters of the Nortons and their families had been invited, but were unable to attend because of illness in the family.

Master Dee Hendrickson presented Mr. and Mrs. Norton with a coffee server, a gift from the Grange.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served buffet style. On the serving committee were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swine, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Germer and Mr. and Mrs. Athel Durley. They were assisted by other Grange members.

The Lecture hour, arranged by Charles Hockersmith, agriculture chairman, consisted of colored slides taken in and around New Zealand, and shown by Glen Klein, county 4-H leader, who was an exchange student to that country. He gave an informative talk describing life aboard ship on the trip over and return, on agriculture and the people and customs of New Zealand.

He said New Zealand consists of two long narrow islands about 1000 miles in length and 180 miles in width, and the animals and vegetation much like that in Australia, a neighboring island.

On the display table was an assortment of noxious weeds found in Jackson county. Ray Hubbell, county weed supervisor, identified the different weeds, and answered questions concerning them. Some of the weeds shown are not very prevalent as yet, and concerted efforts are being made to keep them from spreading. A short Grange meeting was held. Most committee reports were omitted because of the late hour.

Brother Roscoe Roberts, State Grange Steward and Brother Simms, Master of Roxy Ann Grange, were escorted to the Master's station and each spoke briefly. Mrs. Roscoe Roberts, Pomona HEC chairman, was also a visitor.

A report from Roxy Ann Grange resolution committee was read in which they approved the resolution submitted by Phoenix Grange, and which concerned curbing extravagant spending and legislation which could result in heavier taxes.

Also the secretary read a resolution submitted by Roxy Ann Grange, concerning narcotics which was promptly approved with no arguments by Phoenix Grange.

It was voted to sponsor one scholarship to 4-H summer school.

Gertrude Lewin, Publicity Chairman.

Individual styles to note in the sweater spotlight include white long-sleeved cardigans with green satin stems forming collar treatment and pink organdy rosettes adorning neckline and cuffs; black velvet and white lace "sissy" front cardigan; sweater blouse highlighting velvet ribbon and braid banding at collar, cuffs and bottom of sweater.

Cub Scouts

Den 4, Pack 2
Warren Fairbanks, Crater Lake park naturalist, provided a Cub Scout program for Lincoln school last Thursday afternoon. He discussed habits of common snakes and animals of the Northwest, and showed simple methods of trapping them.

At the pack meeting Thursday evening, Fairbanks and Lynn Seger showed colored slides. Fairbanks explained geological formation and development of Crater Lake park and described the present plant and animal life within the park area.

Lingerie Keeps With Fashion's Slim Line

In keeping with fashion's eased slim line and fuller silhouette, spring lingerie features both slim slips and bouffant petticoats, and in both cases, fabric emphasis is clearly on softness.

Lighweight crepes and tricot are favored for their ability to adapt to the smooth flow of the over-all silhouette.

Cotton blends and silk blends both shape-holding and nonclinging, play an important spring role for under-suit wear.

With fashions getting longer, lingerie too is inching its way downward. Under-cover ideas include snip-off hemlines and tucks that can be let out.

Soft violet tones and pearl grays join beiges, whites and pinks as spring lingerie colors.

Sleepwear runs the gamut from the feminine and frilly, with eyelet embroidered bodices and pretty jabot ruffles, to the classic, with Ivy League influences evident in stripes and button-down collars.

PHOENIX HIGH SCHOOL

National Elks Youth Day will be observed in the Medford Elks Lodge Thursday, May 2, beginning at 8 p.m. The following students have been invited as guests: Marva Sult, Neil Gearin, Lester Schleigh, Charles Swingle, Ronald Daugherty, Jim James, Dorothy Bean, Charlotte Stovall, Don Wallace, and Gayle Larson. Students may bring a friend to the event.

A short ceremony for the presentation of awards will commence at 8 p.m. Jim James, Charlotte Stovall, and Dorothy Bean will receive awards. Following this, guests will go to the party lounge for dancing and refreshments, which will be served at the hamburger bar.

During the past week at Phoenix High, candidates for student body officers were campaigning. Posters are on doors and walls, and students are talking about who they're going to vote for. The candidates made their campaign speeches in an assembly Friday, April 26.

Monday, April 29, elections will be held. Since only one candidate for vice-president and three for president are running, the candidacies were combined. The one with the most votes will be president, and the one with the second number of votes will be vice-president. Candidates for student body officers are: Don Daugherty, Charles Swingle, Gary Simmonds, and Marvin Frazier, president. Running for secretary are Virginia Martin, and Charlotte Unruh, and Nadine Brood is running for treasurer.

A special assembly was held Tuesday, April 22, at 3:15 p.m. It was to familiarize the students with the new dial system which went into effect Saturday.

Discussed at the assembly were the three most important things in using a telephone: 1. Look up the number in the directory. 2. Listen for the dial tone before dialing. 3. Be accurate in dialing the number. These three things can prevent getting a wrong party or no answer.

C. E. Searey, representative from the Pacific Telephone company, talked on the present and future uses of the transistor. They gave and presented a few examples of its power.

The National School Assembly program presented Don Comfort, concert and popular accordionist at an assembly April 23 in the Phoenix High gym.

Comfort played both concert and popular music to demonstrate different sounds of the accordeon. He also gave an illustration of a beginner after his first lesson on a 12 bass accordeon.

The girls in the Junior-Senior homemaking class are studying vocations for girls, their vocational qualities, and jobs which will be open to them upon graduation from high school. They are also finding out just what jobs are available to girls in Jackson county.

The girls will, by the end of the vocational guidance, probably have a good idea of what career they would like to pursue.

HEDRICK JUNIOR HIGH

Don Comfort, accordionist for the National School assemblies, entertained the student body Monday, April 22, with a program of classical and popular music. Comfort played two accordeons including an electronic instrument whose tone closely resembled that of a pipe organ.

The Hedrick orchestra under direction of John Drysdale, participated in the Southern Oregon Music contest, Friday morning, April 26, at Medford High school. They were awarded three one's by the judges. The Hedrick band under direction of Ron Bartlett competed in the contest Saturday morning, April 27.

The Hedrick Varsity Yell leaders conducted an assembly Friday morning to honor the track, tennis and golf teams. The Tumbling club, made up of members from both Hedrick and McLoughlin, presented a program of special tumbling acts. John Reed of McLoughlin Junior High is advisor for the group.

McLOUGHLIN JUNIOR HIGH

Don Comfort, star of radio, stage, and television, entertained the student body April 23. He is a concert and popular accordionist, and came to us from the National School Assemblies association.

The Iowa tests of educational development were given all ninth grade students April 25 and 26. The tests show educational growth in all subjects, and the results will be used as a basis for guidance in planning the student's further study.

Practices are being held for the Operetta "Miss Starlight," which will be given May 3. Flappers of the roaring twenties will add zest and humor to the performance.

The Tennis club has been busy playing matches this week. Monday the eighth grade defeated Eagle Point grade, four matches to two.

On Wednesday, Jacksonville High played the McLoughlin teams to a four to four match tie. Playing for McLoughlin were John Shaw, Gary Cummings, Bud Quinney, David Ryn, Jim Randles, and Wayne Weaver. Winners were Bud Quinney and David Ryn in doubles, and David Ryn, Jim Randles, and Wayne Weaver in singles.

The Thursday tennis matches were with Hedrick Junior High, and McLoughlin won a six to zero. Winners for McLoughlin in the singles were Dick Ragsdale, Jim Randles, Wayne Weaver and Bill Hobbs. Doubles winners were Dick Ragsdale and Jim Randles, and Bill Hobbs and Wayne Weaver.

Jack Vincent, science teacher, became the father of an eight pound boy on April 25.

The Cadet band, McLoughlin band, and the orchestra participated in the Southern Oregon Music contest on April 26 and 27. Elmer Ayres, McLoughlin orchestra director was chairman for the event.

The McLoughlin band marched in the Blossom Festival parade April 27.

Cummerbunds, tabs, semi-belts and designers' shorts will help point up the detail-waist line.
