

McCarthy Improved But Condition Still Considered Serious

Washington —(U.P.)— Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) stricken with acute hepatitis, a liver ailment, was "improved" today but still in serious condition at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center.

A hospital spokesman said McCarthy had a "fairly comfortable night."

"His temperature is normal, and he is improved since he was admitted Sunday," the spokesman said. "However his condition is still considered serious at this time."

Feeling Better

McCarthy's wife, Jean, said Monday night after visiting the 47-year-old senator at the hospital that he "seemed to feel better."

She said the hospital's commander, Capt. E. C. Kenney, reported he was "quite pleased with the progress" McCarthy is making.

The ex-Marine entered the nearby Maryland hospital Sunday after an apparently sudden attack. His secretary said he showed no signs of illness last week when he remained to work at his capital office during the Easter recess.

McCarthy's illness took him out of action at the very time the ambassadorial nominations of his old friend, Scott McLeod, and his old foe, Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, came up for consideration in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

McLeod, State Department security chief, was once called McCarthy's "man" in the State Department. His nomination as ambassador to Ireland faces Democratic opposition.

McCarthy in 1953 led the attack on Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to Russia. McLeod aided McCarthy. Bohlen's new nomination as ambassador to the Philippines again faces opposition.

Madison, Wis.—(U.P.)—Because of a broken heel, the chimes of St. Raphael's Cathedral are still on central standard time. They'll continue to toll one hour behind schedule until John Guniach, the sexton and only man in the parish who knows how to adjust the bells, recuperates from his injury.
