

UN Tea To Be Held Thursday

The public is invited to attend the World Heritage tea which Medford chapter, Oregon United Nations association, will give Thursday, May 2, at St. Mark's parish house. Funds derived from the benefit event will be used to defray expenses of the state convention of OUNA to be held here Saturday and Sunday.

In keeping with the "world heritage" theme, Mrs. Florestan Domaschidtz of Ashland, authority on antique brass, rugs, glass and other art objects, will display part of the collection which she and her husband have acquired from many parts of the world. She will lecture at 2:30 and at 4 p.m., speaking on the philosophy of art and the appreciation of artistic works, as well as giving material on the pieces in the exhibition.

Mrs. Domaschidtz believes that it is the heritage and right of everyone to be able to own and appreciate artistic objects.

Members of the sponsoring group and friends are preparing "foreign" delicacies which will not only be served at the tea, but will be for sale. Contributing these will be Mrs. Lawrence Solin, Mrs. Bruno Pellegrini, Mrs. Julie Tummers, Mrs. A. C. Allen Jr., Mrs. C. Reese Braley, Mrs. Carlton Bismark, Mrs. Moore Hamilton, Mrs. Eva Ringo, Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, Mrs. Rex Nicodemus, Mrs. Stephen G. Nye and Mrs. George Rodde. The delicacies will include Scotch shortbread, Russian Easter bread, braided Swedish bread, Mexican wedding cakes, as well as other cakes and cookies.

Tickets for the event may be obtained from UN chapter members, or purchased at the door.

League Policies To Be Reviewed; Convention Set

State League policies, legislation and plans for convention were reviewed by the state board of the League of Women Voters of Oregon meeting in Portland at the Mallory hotel in all day session Saturday, April 27.

The state policy committee has been reviewing policies and procedures in the Oregon League of Women Voters, through a careful study of the minutes of the state board meeting, conventions and councils. These are being condensed into a report and recommendations for extensions and revisions of policies which will be presented in a workshop at the state convention to be held in Portland at the Benson Hotel, May 13, 14 and 15.

Members of the state policy committee are Mrs. I. E. Herwin, chairman, Mrs. W. Harold Copeland, Mrs. Hilmar Grondahl, Mrs. W. D. Hagenstein, Mrs. William O. Knox, Mrs. Frank Queen, Mrs. Ralph Rasmussen and Mrs. Robert J. Wisner, all of Portland.

Mrs. Charles Ford, Eugene, legislative chairman, reported on bills which the league is supporting in the legislature. Reorganization of school districts, an increase in the basic school fund, adequate meat inspection and permissive legislation allowing counties to adopt "Home Rule" are receiving special emphasis from the league in this legislative session.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Planned

"Happy Memories" is the theme for the annual mother-daughter banquet to be held in the First Methodist church at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, May 7, according to Mrs. Raymond Balcomb, secretary of promotion for the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Toastmistress for the banquet will be Mrs. J. Scott Heatterington. There will be a wedding gown parade featuring new, old and unique gowns. A display of wedding pictures will be a feature of the evening. Mrs. Walter Higgins, who is in charge of table decorations, plans an array of tops from wedding cakes. Menu and place card favors will be in the form of French bouquets which are being made by Mrs. Roy Gilbertson.

The dinner will be prepared and served by the Methodist Men; and the program is being

Preschool Group Holds Meeting; Conference Set

Southern Oregon Pre-school association reviewed the proposed constitution of the Oregon Pre-school association at a meeting held Saturday at Medford Nursery school. Mrs. Ethel Tennant, chairman, presided.

The group voted in favor of the state association affiliating with the National Association for Nursery School Education.

Active membership in the Southern Oregon and state associations is open to directors and operators of all classifications of schools, classes or day care centers concerned with the education and welfare of pre-school children.

Associate membership is open to teachers, parents, church school workers, doctors, nurses and all others interested in pre-school children.

A spring conference will be held May 4 in Corvallis. Mrs. Katherine Read, head of the family life department of Oregon State college has offered to share the spring workshop of her department for pre-school personnel. Mrs. Tennant states, Curriculum material for kindergarten age children is to be a featured part of the program.

The local group will hold election of officers at the next meeting. Members who attend the Corvallis conference this week end will report on the program material and sources of information obtained at the conference.

Attending Saturday's meeting were Mrs. E. Uggstad, Grants Pass; Mrs. E. L. Cunningham, Eagle Point; Mrs. J. Walsh Central Point; Mrs. Dorothy Dowson, Mrs. Gordon McKenzie, Mrs. Robert Forbes, Mrs. John Kent, Mrs. Irma Ashby and Mrs. Tennant, all Medford. Further information concerning the organization may be obtained by calling Mrs. Tennant.

Fold grated jack cheese and partially cooked chopped bacon into stiffly beaten egg white. Spoon into well drained canned cling peach halves and broil until bacon is lightly browned and crisp. Make wonderful go-alongs with sandwiches.

planned by Mrs. Mamie Bloomfield, Mrs. Eugene Ray and Mrs. Ed Branchfield who are chairmen of Circles 5, 6, and 10 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Tickets for the banquet are available in the office of the First Methodist Church by those desiring to attend are asked to turn in their reservations by Saturday, May 4 if possible.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Ronald K.—My wife resents being a mother.

Dorothy K.—Why can't he help me more?

Ronald K.—My wife and I have been married ten years and have three young children. We are having trouble because my wife resents her role as mother.

Of course, I know that Dorothy loves the children and wants to do her best for them, but she doesn't seem really happy and is often very short-tempered with them. She says she can't wait until I get home and "take over." I don't mind doing this a few evenings a week, but sometimes I'm very tired when I get home and just want to relax without them. On such evenings we always have a bitter quarrel.

Now I am beginning to be afraid that the children are suffering from lack of mother love. They often throw up at us what other parents do for their children. Things have just gone too far.

Dorothy K.—Our children are suffering from lack of father love, if anything. Ronie is full of rules about what "mother love" is supposed to consist of, but he hasn't any rules for himself. Evidently Father can express his love whenever he has time or is in the mood, but Mother's must be expressed 24 hours a day.

I realize that I am often short-tempered with the children, but I just can't help myself. Sometimes they get on my nerves so much I feel like screaming. It's not that I resent my "role as mother," but just that I can't be a perfect mother every minute.

I held a very demanding job before I was married and I was able to discharge my duties efficiently and still have energy at the end of the day. I don't see why Ronnie can't help me more when he comes home.

The Council: Ronald's accusation are very cruel and probably unfair. They are aimed to hurt his wife and make her feel guilty rather than help her with whatever problem she has in connection with the children.

Dorothy appears to be definitely overstrained. This state does not necessarily come from too much work. It could come from too little variety, a lack of things to look forward to. Today's women have had educational and career advantages and often feel futile and frustrated when they are tied down to a daily, unrelieved household grind.

Dorothy should make it her business to set aside one or two definite evenings a week as being exclusively her own. Ronald should agree to take over on those evenings, regardless of how he feels. There will be no quarrels if the evening or evenings have been definitely set. Dorothy should use that time to develop an interest that can be expanded during whatever free times she can grab on afternoons or other evenings. Many women have found fun in art or music courses and they get additional pleasure out of the homework for these courses.

Ronald should recognize that it takes a whole, happy person to give mother love and, in order to be whole and happy, any individual needs more than one interest.

FFA Awards Are Presented to 7 Crater Members

Central Point — Jerry Hrabal, state secretary of the Oregon Future Farmers of America, was guest speaker at the annual parent and sons banquet of the Crater chapter of the FFA last week at Crater High school. About 300 parents, sons and guests attended.

Seven members received FFA awards from local and national donors. They were Clifford Bigham, for work in dairy farming, donated by Emmett Gott; John Greb, soil and water management, donated by Clem Ault; and Jerry Leonard, farm electrification, donated by the Grange co-op.

Other award winners were Bill White, farm safety, donated by the Coca Cola company; Bob Licht, public speaking, donated by Faber's market, Central Point; Lyle Bigham, farm mechanics, donated by John Deaver; and Bob Eldon, star farmer, donated by the First National Bank of Portland, Central Point Branch.

Chosen honorary members of the Crater chapter at the meeting were Dr. Eugene Hanawalt, veterinarian; Bob Fields, local rancher; and Warren Holbrook, Crater art instructor. They received a gold degree pin.

The Safeway company awarded initial project awards to Allen Barnes and Jerry Leonard. The awards are given annually to sophomore students with the best supervised farming programs.

Keith Hockersmith a ward of 50 day-old chicks to Calvin Rhodes, a freshman at Crater who has exhibited an interest in poultry.

Guests at the meeting were Roy Chapin, past state FFA president; Russell Joy, past state treasurer; and Leonard Kunzman, directing adult education in the Salem area. He was formerly vocational agriculture instructor at Crater High school.

Winners of Road-E-O At Crater Listed

Central Point — A teenager from Central Point and one from Eagle Point won the Central Junior Chamber of Commerce teenage road-e-o at Crater High school recently.

They were Roy Vincent, Central Point, who received 439 points out of a possible 500, and Larry Meyers, Eagle Point, 403. One winner was selected from each city for three places.

Second place winners were Melvin Steihl, Central Point, 413; and Cherie Mitchell, Eagle Point, 345. Winning third place were Willard Waterhouse, Central Point, 403; and Edgar Cunningham, Eagle Point, 328.

The two first place winners will be presented teenage road-e-o plaques and participate in the state finals June 8 in McMinnville. About 75 Oregon teenagers will compete. State winner will compete in the national finals Aug. 15 in Washington, D.C.

Service League Sets Annual Meeting

Medford Junior Service league will hold its annual meeting of the kindergartens at Hedrick junior high school Thursday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m., it has been announced.

The public has been invited to attend the meeting to see what is being done for hard of hearing children to make them into useful, self-supporting citizens, according to Mrs. Jerry Tobin, president. Mrs. Norman Jahn, instructor, will demonstrate with several pupils what is being done in the kindergarten along the lines of lip reading and speech. The meeting will be attended by member of the kindergarten's advisory board, consisting of interested members of the community, and members of the Junior Service league.
