Senate Bids Farewell To Joseph McCarthy

Church, Senate Eulogies Praise Communism Fight

Burial at Appleton To Be on Tuesday

Washington—(U.P.)—The capital said farewell to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today with eulogies in church and Senate Chamber for his campaigns against Communism.

In high vaulted St. Matthew's Cathedral, where McCarthy was married four years ago, his grieving widow heard him praised as a courageous "watchman of the citadel."

Then in the Senate Chamber where he rose to prominence and later was condemned by his colleagues, the controversial Republican from Wisconsin was extolled as an intrepid fighter against the "malignant powers of darkness."

The two ceremonies preceded the departure of an airplane bearing McCarthy's body back to his home town, Appleton, Wis., for final burial rites Tuesday. McCarthy died unexpectedly Thursday at Bethesda Naval Medical Center of a liver ailment.

At St. Matthew's, before 2,000 mourners Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle sang a solemn pontifical mass of requiem over the flag-draped casket. The cathedral's pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John K. Cartwright, praised McCarthy as a courageous "watchman who alerted his countrymen to the menace of Communism."

Widow Weeps Briefly
Mrs. McCarthy, the beautiful 31-year-old Jean, held back her tears until the very end of the cathedral service. When Archbishop O'Boyle took her hand and spoke a few gentle words, she bowed her head and wept for a moment.

In the chamber where he had served more than 10 years, McCarthy was praised by the Senate chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, as an intrepid fighter against "insidious enemies of the republic, malignant powers of darkness."

The senator's body was brought to the chamber from St. Matthew's in a flag-draped casket which was placed before the flower-banked rostrum.

Dr. Harris, as chaplain, spoke for the Senate. He is a Methodist. Then the priest who married McCarthy and the former Jean Kerr in 1953, the Rev. William J. Awalt, conducted Catholic services.

Dr. Harris called on McCarthy's Senate colleagues to pledge anew never to falter in fighting Communism "until this torn and tortured earth is made safe for decency, truth, honor, and the pledged word."

Scores of House members and other special guests stood at the back of the Senate chamber. There were not nearly enough seats for all.

Spray From Senate
On McCarthy's desk was a spray of gladioli, carnations and anthurium from Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.). Against the casket rested a spray of white gladioli and white carnations from the Senate.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon led the official mourners. He arrived at the cathedral behind the funeral cortege with his wife, Pat, and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of former President Theodore Roosevelt.

White House Aide I. Jack Martin, former assistant to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) represented President Eisenhower at the services.

Multnomah Jurymen To Receive Invitation
Salem—(U.P.)—Sen. Warren Gill, Lebanon Republican, said today members of the Multnomah county grand jury will be invited to appear before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The grand jury was excused in Portland today after several weeks of work.

Israel Discloses Receipt of French Armor, Jet Planes

By UNITED PRESS
Israel celebrated its 9th independence Day today by disclosing it had received massive supplies of French armor and jet planes that could help swing the balance of power in the Middle East.

At the same time its navy units maneuvered at Eilat on the Gulf of Aqaba in a naval show that emphasized Israel's intention to sail the gulf and which brought words of warning from Jordan.

Israel took the wraps off its French military aid with a parade at Tel Aviv which showed that more than 80 per cent of the Israeli heavy equipment was from France.

Israelis Turn Out
Thirty-six French-built mystery jets flashed overhead—more than three times the number Israel ever had acknowledged receiving from France.

More than 500,000 Israelis turned out for the parade, but conspicuous by their absence were the diplomatic representatives of Russia, Bulgaria, Romania and Czechoslovakia. Russia and Czechoslovakia had supplied Egypt with much of the equipment seen today.

The naval show at Eilat was less impressive—Israel held open house for the two frigates and the several motor torpedo boats with which it hopes to keep the Gulf of Aqaba open should neighboring Arab states try to stop its ships.

But it brought this warning from Suleiman Pasha Toukan, Jordan's defense minister and military governor:
"We are ready for them. We have a large number of soldiers there, and the Saudi Arabian army is nearby. If they come we are ready for them."

Egypt meanwhile hailed the results of Syria's parliamentary by-elections as a major victory for the Syrian government and proof that Syria will remain "on Egypt's side" despite Western efforts to break up the "neutralist" Arab bloc.

Left-wing government candidates won the three principal by-elections in voting Saturday and Sunday marked by clashes at the polls—and by great antipathy on part of the voters, especially conservative middle-of-the-road groups.

Cairo newspapers took note today of a downward trend in Egypt's relations with Jordan and Lebanon and the feeling these two nations have been "lost" to the West. The newspapers called this part of a Western plan to isolate Egypt from the rest of the Arab world.

McChord Air Force Base—(U.P.)
First Lt. James Wakefield, 23, Hamlin Station, Pa., escaped injury today when his F-102 jet fighter plane crash-landed here and caught on fire.

City Jail Prisoner Escapes For 20 Minutes Saturday

A prisoner at the Medford city jail had 20 minutes of freedom Saturday after escaping from the police station through a plate glass window.

He was captured a few minutes later by three city police officers a few blocks from the police station.

Westley Clarus Lyons, 1126 Stevens st., arrested Friday on charges of disorderly conduct, made his break about 8:30 p.m. Saturday. At the time he was visiting his wife in a room down the hall from the chief's office and communications room where three officers were on duty.

According to police reports, the man dashed down the hall and out of the police station, crashing through a 12 by 48-inch plate glass window near the sidewalk. The three officers gave chase.

Water Accidents Take Five Lives During Week End

By UNITED PRESS
Four persons drowned in two accidents in Oregon Sunday bringing to five the number who lost their lives in water accidents during the week end.

The body of Mrs. Della Marie Dorry, 40, Springfield, was discovered Sunday two miles downstream from where she drowned Saturday when the boat in which she was riding capsized.

Two persons each drowned Sunday in accidents near Portland and Coos Bay.
Marilyn Wagner, 10, and Harold L. Newman, 36, both of Portland, drowned in the Willamette river Sunday evening. The girl and her father, Marvin, were thrown into the river by the wave wash from a passing boat. Newman dove into the water in a rescue try. He and the girl went down while Wagner managed to reach the boat. Also in the boat were Newman's son, Michael, 8, and Karen Wagner, 4.

A picnic ended in tragedy when Bonnie Colton, 21, and Donald Lindquist, 24, Coos Bay, drowned in the south fork of the Coos river about 11:40 a.m. Sunday. The young woman was reported to have slipped on a rock and fell into the stream. Lindquist, who was considered a good swimmer, dove in after her. Both apparently suffered cramps.

Members of the Coos Kelps, a skin diving club in Coos Bay, recovered the bodies from about 40 feet of water.

Pulitzer Award Goes To Russell Jones

New York—(U.P.)—The Pulitzer Prize for international reporting was awarded to United Press Correspondent Russell Jones today for "his excellent and sustained coverage of the Hungarian revolt against Communist domination."

The prize for meritorious public service by a newspaper was awarded to the Chicago Daily News for its exposure of a $2,500,000 fraud in the office of the Illinois state auditor.

The award for local reporting went to the staff of the Salt Lake Tribune for its coverage of the collision of two airliners over the Grand Canyon.

The Pulitzer Prize for distinguished local reporting without the pressure of edition time went to Wallace Turner and William Lambert of the Portland Oregonian for their expose of vice and corruption in Portland involving some municipal officials and officers of the Teamsters Union.

Two Escape Plane Crash Near Weed

Weed, Calif.—(U.P.)—Two men escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when their light plane crashed during a landing attempt at the new Weed airport.

The pilot, Angelo Ferrara of Coquille, and his passenger, Hap Pauletto of Weed, walked away from the wrecked plane. Ferrara was shaken up and Pauletto suffered a shoulder and arm bruise.

Ferrara, who bought the plane only last week and had logged about six hours flying time in it, brought the craft in too low in attempting to land, snagged a telephone crossbar, ripped out phone wires, sheared off a fence post and skidded for some distance before coming to a halt at the edge of the airport.

State Legislature Due To Set Record As Longest Session

116-Day Record To Be Equalled Thursday
Salem—(U.P.)—The Oregon Legislature today opened the 17th week of what is destined to be its longest session in history, with 16 bills up for final action in the House and 13 in the Senate.

The longest session on record was 116 days in 1951. This is the 113th day of the current session. That means the record will be equalled Thursday. And few observers here look for the session to end before a week from Wednesday. Many are not even that optimistic.

Phone Line Bill Slated
One of the measures up for third reading and final action in the Senate today would make it a misdemeanor not to release a party telephone line in case of emergency. The measure is an outgrowth of several recent incidents in various parts of the country here failure of persons to release lines resulted in deaths of persons in need of immediate medical attention. The measure, House Bill 748, already has passed the House.

Appropriation Aired
In the House, a measure was up for final action calling for an appropriation of $150,000 to buy properties in the block north of Court st. and east of Capitol st. for development of a state parking lot.

Another appropriation measure up for final House action calls for $238,154 for the proposed new state development department under the governor.

Another House bill up for final vote calls for revision of the election code and represents the first attempt in 40 years to revamp Oregon election laws.

Golf Champion May Lose Amateur Status

San Francisco—(U.P.)—The San Francisco News today said that National Amateur Champion Harvie Ward may lose his amateur status because of financial help given him by his employer, automobile dealer Ed Lowery, San Francisco.

The News said that a transcript of testimony given the county Grand Jury by Lowery, under indictment for state income tax evasion, said that Lowery admitted paying Ward's expenses to golf tournaments.

Stuart Heatley, member of the U.S. Golf Association's Executive Board for Northern California, when informed of Lowery's testimony, conferred with Joe Dey, executive secretary of the USGA in New York.

"There is no question that if expenses were taken care of by Lowery as an employer, Harvie has breached his amateur standing," Heatley said after the conference with Dey.

Corvallis Man Elected Head of Association

A Corvallis man was elected president of the Oregon State Association of Plumbing and Heating Contractors at a state convention in Medford Friday and Saturday.

Earl Forsythe of Corvallis will head the group for the coming year. Other new officers are James Waite, Eugene, vice president; Eugene Spaniol, Stayton, treasurer; and Burch Judson, Salem, secretary.

A lifetime membership to the association was awarded to Arthur Farrell, who recently retired as chief plumbing inspector for the state.

"We're Not Going To Keep You Cooped Up In The Hold"

District 6C Budget Election Wednesday

Residents of school district 6C in north Jackson county will go to the polls between 2 and 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 8, to pass on a proposed $480,543 tax levy for the 1957-58 school year.

This is $297,450.33 above the 6 per cent limitation. It compares with $282,255.51 for last year, or an increase of $15,194.87 on this item.

Estimated Expenditures
Total estimated expenditures for the year are $808,843. Estimated receipts and available cash balances total $353,300. Balance to be raised by taxation is $455,543. Estimated amount of taxes which will not be collected during the fiscal year for which this budget is made is $25,000.

Major portion of the increase in next year's budget over this year's is in the item for payment of bond principal and interest. This increase is due to the fact that excess O & C funds allotted by the county were used in the last two budgets to lower the levy, according to H. P. Jewett, district superintendent. None of these funds are available on this budget.

Jewett noted that instruction costs are up due to need for adding three teachers on the elementary level to accommodate increased enrollments. Salary increments for teachers this year were the same as last year on the schedule agreed upon at that time.

The superintendent explained this budget provides for operation of schools of the district.

Polish Militia Turns Down Uprising

Warsaw, Poland—(U.P.)—Polish army troops and two battalions of militia were reported today to have quelled one of the most serious riots in Poland since last June's anti-Soviet uprisings in Poznan.

The Warsaw youth newspaper Sztandar Lmodych said the latest riot took place in the industrial town of Jaroslaw, an industrial community of 19,000 persons in southeastern Poland.

The report said the trouble started after military police arrested a drunken soldier. It gave no date for the incident, but indicated it took place late last week.

The report said the violence occurred when other soldiers and some young "brawlers" went to the rescue of the arrested soldier. A huge crowd was said to have gathered outside the police station where the man was held and to have peppered its windows with stones.

$400 Said Taken From Safe at Plant

About $400 in cash was taken from a safe at the American Steel and Supply corporation plant, 703 South Grape st., Medford, some time over the week end, according to city police.

The safe was opened by two screw drivers, both owned by the steel company, officers said. They were found near the safe this morning. Nothing else was taken from the plant, police said.

Entire Teamster Leadership Charged At Union Hearing

Failure of Leaders To Take Action Cited
Washington—(U.P.)—The AFL-CIO today charged teamsters President Dave Beck and Vice President Frank Brewster with using union funds for "personal purposes" and using their union positions for "personal profit or advantage."

Teamsters Vice President Sydney Brennan of Minneapolis, who has been convicted of accepting money from an employer, was charged with "corrupt activities" by the AFL-CIO.

And the entire Teamsters Union leadership was charged with failing to take action against the three.

The AFL-CIO specifically questioned the teamsters leadership's "apparent failure" to determine for itself whether Beck is in fact guilty of "personal corruption in the handling of union funds and in the conduct of union affairs and invoked the Fifth Amendment... to conceal the fact."

Beck was accused by the Senate Rackets committee of using more than $320,000 in union funds for personal matters, but he resorted to the Fifth Amendment 117 times in refusing to answer the committee's questions about his financial dealings with the union.

The bill of particulars was contained in a 22-page statement presented before the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices committee as it started its hearing on the question whether the Big Teamsters Union is dominated or substantially influenced by "corrupt influences."

The AFL-CIO charges were spelled out after Beck himself accused the parent union in an opening statement of conducting a "medieval inquisition and witch hunt," at the hearing.

Beck, backed up in his statement by other members of the Teamsters Executive Board, denounced the general charge of corruption as "malicious and unfounded slander."

Beck demanded that the committee provide teamsters leaders a bill of "particulars" as to the charges against the union. He said the board members had come to the hearing "solely" to find out whether they would get a detailed breakdown of the allegations.

It was after he spoke that the committee came up with a 22-page statement detailing the charges.

Misuse of Funds
The committee's statement of detailed charges against the Teamsters alleged that Beck used union funds for "personal purposes" when he was chairman of the union's Western Conference.

A similar accusation was made against Brewster. And both were charged with using their "official union positions" for "personal profit and advantage."

The committee then cited the "corrupt influences" of Brennan. The committee also questioned "the apparent failure" of the Teamsters Union to investigate the activities of the three officers.

No mention was made of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa of Detroit, who was present at the closed hearing. He has been indicted on charges of trying to bribe his way into the files of the Senate Rackets committee which also has been investigating corruption in the Teamsters Union.

Washington Man Named Oregon Emerald Editor

Eugene—(U.P.)—Charles Mitchemore, Long Beach, Wash., has been named editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald, student newspaper at the University of Oregon.

Gary Capps of Ontario was named business manager and Allen Johnson of Oswego, managing editor.

Neuberger Asks Wilson To Defend Budget in Oregon

Washington—(U.P.)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) today invited Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson to speak in Oregon to "enlist support among businessmen and Republicans" for President Eisenhower's budget.

Neuberger praised Wilson's recent criticism of attacks on the budget by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. He said he found that "about 95 per cent of the attacks" on the Eisenhower budget in Oregon "come from prominent Republicans and from so-called leaders in the business community."

He said he found that about the only people defending the budget were Democrats.

Therefore, he said in a statement, "I have invited Secretary Wilson, who is a leader both in business and the Republican party, to come out to our state to line up Republicans behind the budget of the Republican president."

He said "I am tired of being assailed by Republicans for my defense of the Eisenhower budget. The time has come for Republicans to get into the act and I think Wilson is a man with the courage and prestige to do it."

Neuberger said he would be glad to help arrange Oregon speaking engagements for Wilson.
