Rev. Harry Heck Dies Sunday

The Rev. Harry Webster Heck, 50, of Central Point, died Sunday at his home.

The Rev. Mr. Heck was born April 4, 1907, in Dayton, Ohio. He was married to the former Miss May Stansfield in Glendale, Calif., in 1927.

During the past 23 years he has been in pastoral and evangelistic work, 16 years in Oregon. He is a former pastor of the Central Point Pilgrim Holiness church and has made his home in Central Point the last few years.

He is survived by his wife who lives in Central Point, two children, Mrs. O. W. Smith, San Gabriel, Calif., and Wesley R. Heck of Burbank, Calif.; four plants inspected — City Fire Marshal Truman Nelson issued nine orders for correction of hazards Friday after inspection of four dry cleaning plants.

In Hospital — Miss Betty Ann Zawadske, star route box 250, Prospect, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zawadske, was admitted to Rogue Valley hospital today for a tonsillectomy.

Overheated Stove — Firemen said no damage resulted yesterday morning from an overheated stove at the home of Marlene Morse, 502 Whitman place. Three gasoline spills from parked autos were flushed from downtown streets during the week end by firemen.

Driver Cited — State police Sunday cited James Daniel Nesbeth, 51, Grants Pass, for failure to operate on the right side of the highway after his vehicle went out of control on a curve, ran into a ditch and overturned about a mile north of Rogue River on Highway 99. Police said there were no injuries. The accident occurred at 7 p.m.

Stocks Move Narrowly On Reduced Turnover

New York (U.P.) — Stocks moved narrowly on reduced turnover today. Industrials encountered some turbulence as they moved around the 500-level in the average. Rails tried to take the lead but just couldn't get the wheels rolling. A three-point drop in Peoples Gas brought utilities down after their average had touched a 26-year high.

A handful of issues made good gains of two points or more. A few others had wide losses. The main list held in a narrow range with changes irregular.

DOW-JONES AVERAGES
Dow-Jones final stock average: 30 industrials 498.32, off 1.22; 20 railroads 147.11, up 0.27; 15 utilities 73.34, off 0.33, and 65 stocks 174.03, off 0.34.

Sales today were about 2,210,000 shares compared with 2,390,000 shares Friday.

Not Dictator
The speaker declared Nasser is not at heart a dictator, but that his hand has been forced by the tide of international events. She indicated that while the United States has made a number of blunders in dealing with the Middle East problem, in some instances this government had also been more or less forced into undesirable positions. Mrs. Robertson said the Aswan dam project was already "bogged down" before Secretary Dulles' decision to withdraw support.

Mrs. Robertson said she has faith that the Arabs will solve their problems as this "widest and quietest social revolution of all time" progress; that education will be improved and their philosophy will change. She closed by saying that these changes for the better will come through "education and agriculture and not through any political ideology." The speaker brought two educational films made in the Middle East which were shown, one instructing the natives how to control the house fly and another on the water problem for the area. She was introduced by Dr. Capper-Johnson.

George Rode, president of the Medford UN chapter, presided.

Dr. Elmo Stevenson, president of Southern Oregon college, serving as moderator. Speaking were Mark Smith, Portland, member of the social action committee of Oregon Council of Churches; Mrs. Beatrice Stevens, Portland, secretary of Oregon Federation of Teachers; Miss Mildred Wharton, Portland, president of Oregon Education association, and Mrs. Bosworth.

Mrs. Hazel Robertson spoke for a dinner Saturday evening on "The Changeless Middle East Changes." Mrs. Robertson has spent much time in various Middle East countries the past six years helping with communications projects under a grant from the Ford Foundation.

Mrs. Robertson said that the Middle East countries are in the midst of a social revolution the extent of which is little realized by most westerners, but that education of "way of thinking" in these nations are being greatly influenced by the west. She said "there will be no peace until the mood of the area changes." The speaker added that the Arab nations need to turn their thoughts and actions to internal problems and that if they could be persuaded to spend their money and energy in attempting to solve their own problems, and "quit flogging the dead horse of colonialism" they would have no time left to fight with Israel or "dally" with Russia.

She said that Arab problems "transverse old national boundaries" and that the Israeli-Arab dispute is largely emotional. Mrs. Robertson said recent reports were to the effect that the United States would attempt to aid the Arab leadership by working towards establishment of a regional bank.
