Society

Group Attends WSCS Meeting

Six Medford women are leaving today to attend the 15th annual meeting of the Oregon Conference, Woman's Society of Christian Service, of the Methodist church, being held May 9 and 10 in First Methodist church, Salem. Theme of the session is "The Spirit of Christ for All of Life."

Among the guest speakers for the meeting will be Mark O. Hatfield, secretary of state for Oregon, whose topic will be "Our Personal Responsibility as Christians." Mrs. C. A. Bender, associate director of the Department of Christian Social Relations, Woman's Division of Christian Service, will speak on "Men That Had Understanding of Their Times," and on "Woman's Role in a Changing Society." Mrs. Bender comes from New York.

Delegates from First Methodist church, Medford, are Mrs. J. W. Poage, Mrs. George Lawless and Mrs. Jerry Igo. Mrs. O. P. Taylor, secretary of promotion for the Oregon Conference, will preside over a period of recognition of women of Christian achievement, and will present honor certificates to outstanding societies in the state of Oregon.

Mrs. Charles Adamson, Medford, secretary of the Wesleyan Service Guilds for Oregon, will be toastmistress for the Thursday banquet, which has as its theme "Status of Women." Mrs. A. S. Feller, Camp White, secretary of missionary education and service for Oregon, will report on the conference on missions which she attended in March in Pennsylvania.

Dance Announced By Knot Twirlers

The Y Knot Twirlers Square Dance club will hold a dance starting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the social room of the Medford YMCA. Doug Fosbury will call. Ken Hood, president of the club, has invited all square dancers. Potluck refreshments will be served.

School Freedom Is Topic for Annual Lunch

"The freedom we ask for ourselves can never safely be ours until all others share it," said Mrs. Mabel Winston, registrar and dean of women of Southern Oregon college, who spoke for the annual May fellowship luncheon of Medford Council of Church Women. "Free Schools in a Free America," was the theme of the event, held in St. Mark's Guild hall.

"The democratic family, with each person feeling the importance of his position in it, and accepting the responsibility of that position, exercises the highest degree of freedom for each," she continued.

"The business of education is to develop maturity and responsibility so that all may be enabled to see and find his place in the world," she said. "Every developed mind is needed, both of men and women."

"Developments of recent years are beaming light on school problems and are helping us to build 'Free Schools in a Free America' where we see in every child possibilities, through education, that will make him a happy and powerful contributor to his own betterment and a guarantee that we shall always have a free America because of him and what he has become."

Mrs. Samuel Earhart, chairman for the day, presided during the program hour which was held in the church auditorium. Mrs. Gaston Floux, co-chairman with Mrs. Earhart, led a discussion group on the day's theme "Free Schools in a Free America" in which three former school teachers participated. Mrs. Mamie Bloomfield, Mrs. Marie Dizney and Miss Jane Sneider presented thought on past and present methods of teaching.

Mrs. Charles Champlin, accompanied by Mrs. Otto Frohnmayer, sang to two selections and the Madrigal Singers of Medford High school, also sang a group of numbers under the direction of Lyn Sjolund.

Mrs. James Morrow, president of the council read a poem, "The World's Bible." Miss Verna Cingcade gave a short explanation of her work as Bible history teacher in the schools. Proceeds from May Fellowship luncheon go to assist in her work, it has been stated.

Ministers assisting during the afternoon were the Rev. Elvis Tollefson, the Rev. Escl Heiser, the Rev. John Taylor and Rev. Dwayne Bachelor.

Spring blossoms in baskets and upon the tables presented a colorful atmosphere for the luncheon. Place cards representing small slates and a little school house arranged at the head table helped carry out the day's theme.

Altrusa No-Host Dinner Thursday

Mrs. Bertha Haskins, past president of Altrusa club, will speak at the no-host dinner meeting to be held at the Jackson hotel Pioneer room, Thursday, May 9, at 7 p.m. Mrs. Haskins will show films taken in Europe where she and Mr. Haskins spent six months last year.

Mrs. Enid Rankin, international relations chairman of Altrusa will be in charge of the program. Guests of members are invited according to the hostesses for the month, Mrs. Virginia Sherwood and Mrs. Pauline Bright.

Miss Grace Smith, president, will preside. She recently returned from her field work in home economics at Oregon State college in Corvallis.

Medford Student Named to Office In State DeMolay

Jay Walker of Medford chapter, DeMolay, was elected senior counselor of Oregon DeMolay at the annual conclave held in Salem last weekend. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walker, 2415 Lyman avenue, the young man is master counselor of the Medford chapter and district governor.

Other state officers elected at meeting were Dale Denham, wood chapter, Portland, master counselor; Terry Moser, LaGrande, deputy master counselor; Jim Summerville, Corvallis, junior counselor.

Appointed to office were Orin Ormsbee, Klamath Falls, junior deacon; Less Goff, Crater chapter, Central Point, junior steward and Jim Wright, Ashland, first preceptor.

Miss Barbara Pierce, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pierce of Valley View drive, represented the southern Oregon district in the contest for state sweetheart. She is a student at Medford High school.

Thirteen members of Medford chapter attended the conclave. Medford, Crater, Ashland, Redwood chapter at Kerby and Grants Pass from southern Oregon were represented at the meeting.

Last Meeting Set By Jackson PTA Friday Afternoon

Jackson Parent-Teacher association will hold the last meeting of the year Friday, May 10 at 2:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Owen Kunkel, president of the Jackson County Council of Parent-Teacher associations, will install the new officers for the coming year. The student body officers will hold a mock student body meeting and Mrs. Kampton Barlow will lead a demonstration of Spanish the students have learned this year.

Sixth grade students will participate in a graduation exercise for their parents. The students have made caps and diplomas for the occasion. Glenn Linn will welcome the new students to junior high school.

Mothers of children will serve refreshments in the cafeteria following the program and business meeting.

Time Saver

Baking time-saver: When making biscuits, pat the dough onto a cookie sheet and cut it into squares with a knife. This saves flouring the board and rolling and re-rolling the scraps leftover from cutting round biscuits.

Tillamook

Easy-to-Make Entree
New York — (U.P.) — A big bowl of fruit salad, served with this unusual type of dressing, makes a popular lunch entree. Put several types of fresh fruit into the salad, then prepare the dressing this way. Mix an envelope of old-fashioned French salad dressing mix according to printed instructions. Then combine 1/2 cup of the dressing with 2 tablespoons of pineapple juice and 1/4 cup of chopped toasted pecans. Shake well, and pour on the fruit just before serving.
