The Medical Roundup

Is Cancer Ever Inherited?

A woman tells me she blames her mother for having brought her into the world, and I think she is wrong. This mother had a cancer, as did her brother and sister. My correspondent had a brother and sister die of cancer, and already she has been operated on for cancer. Now she is afraid of getting another one. I do not blame her for being worried because she belongs to what is known as a "cancer family." Statistics show that there is some tendency for cancer to be inherited, but I doubt if this tendency is bad enough so that one need worry much about it. I am sure it is not bad enough so that because of it a person need give up a chance to marry.

If I belonged to a cancer family I would not worry, but I would go at least once a year and get my lungs, stomach and bowel x-rayed, and my rectum looked into with a ligned tube.

Bursitis

One of the common miseries of mankind is a pain in a bursa, what is a bursa? It is a little sac of fluid which sometimes serves as a sort of pulley or a cushion, as where a muscle runs over a bone. The bursa that gives us the most trouble is the one that lies under the muscle that caps the shoulder. I just had trouble with one on the tip of my elbow. First, it got painful, then it swelled up as big as a golf ball, and then, just as I was thinking of going to a surgeon to have it cut out, it disappeared! If I had taken someone's patent or home remedy or diet, I might have thought the result miraculous.

Occasionally, the bursa under the cap of the shoulder becomes calcified or filled with lime salts, and then it can be seen with x-rays. Fifty years ago surgeons used to remove these calcified bursas, but gradually they discovered that often, with time, the thing cleared up by itself.

Cause Not Known

Some will ask, why does a bursa give trouble? We do not know. It does not seem to be due to any infection. My hunch is that the changes in it are similar and related to those in the joints of persons who suffer from arthritis or fibrositis. A bursitis tends to quiet down, often without treatment, just as the attacks of arthritis tend to clear up. Sometimes a bursitis does not give much trouble, and then again it can cause a lot of pain and can almost paralyze the arm. For weeks or months a woman will be unable to comb her hair. Sometimes the pain goes down the arm and up into the neck. Sometimes it is hard to say where it is originating. It might be originating in an arthritis of the neck.

What treatment is good? In many cases, when the disease is mild and the pain is not too disabling, the main thing that the patient needs to do is to keep using the arm so that the joint will not become what we call frozen or full of adhesions. If the joint becomes stiff it may have to be manipulated under an anesthetic. Every day the per-

Ike Plans Campaign In Defense of Budget

Washington—(U.P.)—President Eisenhower will launch a major campaign to enlist public support behind his legislative program including his embattled budget, informed sources said Tuesday.

The campaign will take several directions including the President's weekly news conferences and a nationwide radio-television speech in the near future.

But the President has definitely made up his mind to speak out strongly in behalf of his program and budget at every opportunity—as many of his supporters in Congress have been urging.

Old Lyme, Conn.—(U.P.)—A 21-foot, $3,500 cabin cruiser was wrecked on the rocks even before it got near the water. Harry Hubert Jr. of North Hills, Pa., said he was towing the craft along Blue Star Highway when the trailer hitch snapped and the cruiser sailed down an embankment onto rocks.
