

PROPOSED BERRYDALE ANNEXATION BOUNDARIES RECOMMENDED BY PLANNING COMMISSION MARCH 11, 1957

Berrydale Residents Will Vote May 22 on Annexation Proposal

The accompanying map shows the area in which residents will vote May 22 on an annexation proposal.

The proposal was submitted to residents by the city council after residents, through the Berrydale Sanitation committee, asked to be annexed to solve what the committee termed as a "dangerous sanitation problem" in the area.

A larger annexation proposal for the area was defeated in last November's election, but since that time, proposed boundaries have been revised. The present area is much smaller than the previous area, the committee pointed out.

Feasible Way
The committee, after several public meetings in the area with city, county, and health department officials, concluded the only feasible way to solve the sanitation problem was through annexation.

Nick Gier, chairman of the committee, said a preliminary engineering survey proposes to serve the area shown on the accompanying map within the dashed lines.

Laterals would serve all residences and businesses in the Lynn, Hazel, Elm, Birch and Ash sts. area and connect with the Bessonette sewer, a private line, already serving the Big Y, the Richfield Truck stop, and some private residences along Virginia ave.

This line, according to Gier, will be used to serve the balance of residences and business in the Big Y area, Virginia ave., Pepper st., Crews rd., and a part of Table Rock rd. It parallels the Medford corporation railroad right of way to Biddle rd.

where it connects with the Camp White trunk sewer system, according to preliminary engineering.

Residences on Berrydale, Howard, and DeBar aves., Tennessee dr., Table Rock rd., Merriman rd. and Mace rd. between Howard ave. and Merriman rd. will be served with laterals taking advantage of natural flow and grade toward Midway and Table Rock rds., preliminary surveys indicated.

Along Highway 99
Installations along Highway 99, residences on Elks and DeHauge sts., Connell, Elliott and Deuel aves. and Mace rd. from Howard ave. to Highway 99 also will be served with laterals taking advantage of natural flow where possible. A pumping station north of Mace rd. between Elliott and Connell aves. is tentatively planned to handle sewage which can not naturally flow toward Table Rock rd., Gier said preliminary surveys showed.

Another pumping station will be along Bear creek to pump the entire collection through a pressure line into the Camp White Trunk sewer system.

Gier said the "island" area east of Riverside ave., north of McAndrews rd. and west of the Kenwood-Grandview boundary petitioned to be excluded from any annexation proposal for Berrydale. The majority of residences in the area already have city sewer service and they do not desire annexation at this time, he said. Installations and residences to the city system, or laterals constructed to serve adjacent areas already within the city limits, Gier said.

BERRYDALE ANNEXATION—Registered voters in the Berrydale district within the dashed line in the above map will vote Wednesday, May 22, on a proposal to annex to the city of Medford. The boundary line extends from west of Court st. at the junction of Highways 99 and 62, takes in Gore and Lynn sts., continues north 300 feet west of Pacific highway, then goes over to the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, back to the center of Highway 99 and north to a point north of Mace rd. It then follows an easterly direction, taking in residences along Mace rd., Howard school, and extends 250 feet east of Merriman rd. At Table Rock rd. the boundary extends eastward to Biddle rd., then south along the present city boundary in the Kenwood area before going west to Crater Lake highway and Riverside ave. Residences in the Midway rd.-Table Rock rd. area were eliminated from the proposed annexation after residents expressed a desire not to be annexed.

Resurfacing Projects Completed by City

City crews have completed resurfacing projects on eight city streets as part of the city's summer program of street maintenance, according to Vern Thorpe public works director.

The maintenance work started last week and will continue throughout the summer, Thorpe said. The streets are being resurfaced with asphaltic concrete, he said.

Recently resurfaced streets include Cottage st., between Ninth and Main sts., Third st., between Apple and Front sts., Fourth st., between Fir and Grape sts., Holly st., between Fourth and Sixth sts., Oakdale ave. from second st. to Pennsylvania ave., a portion of Second st. from Oakdale ave. to Holly st., and a portion of Fourth st. from Peach st. to Rose ave.

Thorpe said the city's summer paving program will begin later this spring.

Legislator's Protest Causes Negro Girl To Lose Role at Texas U.

Austin, Tex.—(U.P.)—The University of Texas removed a Negro girl from the lead in a student opera opposite a white male student and replaced her with a white girl because of protests by a pro-segregation legislator.

The legislator, Rep. Joe Chapman, Sulphur Springs, Tex., is co-author with State Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla, Tex., of eight pro-segregation bills now before the Legislature.

Chapman called University President Logan Wilson several weeks ago when he learned a Negro student, Barbara Smith, 19, Pittsburg, Tex., had the lead opposite a white male student in the opera "Dido and Aeneas." The opera is scheduled this week end.

Chapman told newsmen Tuesday that a small group of "starry-eyed, befuddled liberals" were to blame for the incident.

A university spokesman said the administration policy is "no comment because the situation was resolved several weeks ago." Chapman denied a report that he had threatened the university's appropriations if the girl wasn't removed from the cast.

"I talked with Dr. Wilson, strictly on the theory of trying to protect the university from adverse publicity, and with the idea in mind that if a Negro did star in the opera — where the script called for a white girl — there probably would be personal privilege speeches on the floor of the House," Chapman said.

He said out of 17,000 university students, he thought 16,950 were "good, solid, loyal American citizens" and feel about the incident as he does.

Promoters of Agitation
"There are about 50 starry-eyed, befuddled liberals that are promoting agitation and following the Communist party line by creating as much confusion and disturbance as possible," Chapman said.

Chapman said his call to Wilson came after a protest by Sadler at the weekly meeting of the East Texas legislative delegation.

Chapman said "The Negro girl deserves a lot of credit herself because she has never complained. . . it's certainly not her fault. She stepped out gracefully, I understand."

Interview Series Receives Mention

Portland—The 13-week series of interviews tape-recorded in Russia by an executive of J. Henry Helsner and Company, investment managers, has been awarded an honorable mention in Ohio State University's 21st American exhibition of educational radio and television programs.

The award was given in the public affairs category for "local organizations and stations less than the 5 kw." The series was broadcast throughout Oregon last fall and over radio station KMED in Medford.

Title of the series was "Russia Today." Helsner's director of public affairs, Ted Hallock, interviewed individual Russians during his 23-day tour of the USSR in July and August.

Big Appetite Said Costing Man Votes

Augusta, Maine — (U.P.) — State Rep. Albert E. Cote of Lewiston, the heaviest politician in the state of Maine, thinks a state publicity buildup he received is costing him votes.

Cote, 358 pounds, had his picture taken with mound of chicken carcasses to "help the Maine chicken business."

A few weeks later he obliged the state Department of Industry and Commerce by posing with a platter containing four dozen eggs. This was billed as Cote's average breakfast, he said.

"I've got to soft pedal this big eating business," Cote said Tuesday night. It's costing me votes back in Lewiston — all they think I do here is eat!"
