Bowles Opposed For Water Board

Salem—(U.P.)—The appointment of Rollin Bowles, immediate past president of the Izaak Walton League to the State Water Resources board by Gov. Robert D. Holmes, met with opposition Thursday at a hearing before the Senate Natural resources committee.

The committee received letters and telegrams opposing the appointment which said that the board now has two Izaak Walton league representatives who have opposed development of irrigation projects in favor of fishing use of streams. Bowles was described by the governor as a "militant" conservationist.

A letter in opposition to the appointment was also received from Senate President Boyd Overhulse.

Leaders of the Farm Bureau federation and irrigationists yesterday also spoke against his appointment.

Speaking on Bowles behalf were Orville Thompson, legal aid to the governor; L. C. Binford, Chairman of the Water Resources Board; John Amacher, a conservationist supporter from Winchester, and Charles Collins, Roseburg, member of the Douglas county water resources advisory committee.

Governor Predicts Tax Program Approval

Pendleton—(U.P.)—Gov. Robert D. Holmes arrived here today en route to the Milton-Free-water Pea festival and predicted that "enough Republican members of the Senate will swing over to the Democratic side" to pass the Democrats' program of higher income taxes.

The governor, who had just returned from a trip to Salt Lake City, said he had every hope the Democratic program would be passed.

"It's inconceivable to me," he said, "the Republican members of the Senate can be as obstructionist as to defeat this program which is necessary to carry out the legislative program which they have already voted for."

Chamber Directors Approve Agreement

The Jackson County Chamber of Commerce board of directors yesterday approved an agreement to help finance a study of the economic feasibility of utilizing waste material from the lumber industry.

The study will be made in cooperation with the Oregon Development commission and the Grants Pass and Josephine County Chamber of Commerce, and will include the entire Rogue river basin. About $2,000 will be used between the two chambers for the survey.

Potential wood chip supply, available water supply, and other aspects regarding industrial use of waste material.

M. M. Huggins reported on the House Bill 790, which would allow industrial use of water from the Rogue river. Changes in the bill also were discussed by the directors.

A delegation from the Chamber's highway committee will attend a meeting of the state highway commission in Portland May 17 in connection with a proposed route to Klamath Falls via Lake of the Woods.

The highway has been on the committee's program since 1950. The road would extend from Eagle Point to Klamath Falls via McAllister Springs and Lake of the Woods. It would be constructed with forestry highway funds, and later the state would provide funds for its maintenance.

Crash Near Athena Claims Two Lives

Pendleton—(U.P.)—The crash of a small, single-engine plane near Athena, Ore., took the lives of two Washington state men Thursday.

The Umatilla, Ore. county sheriff's office identified the victims as Ted Chandler, Yakima, 30, the pilot, and Robert B. Norman, 24, Toppenish.

Civil Aeronautics Board officials here said Chandler rented the plane from a privately-owned firm at Pendleton airport early and took two other men for a ride over the city.

Chandler landed at Pendleton about an hour later to let one of his passengers off the plane. He took off again and minutes later the plane crashed. CAB officials are investigating the cause of the accident.
