

Gold Hill Council Approves Mutual Aid Membership

BY MRS. CLYDE KELL
Gold Hill—Mayor Ernie Cooper presided at a meeting of the Gold Hill city council Monday.

A resolution was passed by the council authorizing the city fire department to become a member of the proposed new Mutual Assistance Agreement plan between various cities and fire districts in Jackson county.

No objection was voiced against vacation of Fifth ave. extending east from First st. to State Highway 234. An ordinance was passed providing for the vacation of that section of street.

City Superintendent Floyd Taylor gave a report of the city work accomplished during April. This included grading of streets and alleys, clearing grass from city property, and sawing wood.

Naming Old Highway
A letter was read for the state highway commission stating that the commission would take up the matter of officially naming the old highway through Gold Hill as business route 99.

Due to request from citizens that the city remove trees from certain places in the city along streets, the council's opinion is that the obligation to do so is that of the abutting property owners to remove such trees if the owner thinks the removal necessary.

Major city work projects to be completed before July 1, if there are sufficient funds, were discussed and would include such jobs as replacement of the city water main from Fifth ave. north on First st. about 700 feet, installation of a new sewer main to serve part of Dekum addition and connect with the present main at Fourth ave. about 450 feet, the placing of oil matt paving, seal coats and lifts on various streets.

The annual budget hearing will be held June 3 at 8:30 p.m. along with the regular council meeting at the city hall.

Prince's Operation Starts Controversy

London — (U.P.) — Eight-year-old Prince Charles licked happily at scoops of post-operative ice cream today unaware that having his tonsils and adenoids out may have started a national controversy.

Thursday's operation confined Prince Charles to bed in Buckingham Palace and put him on an initial diet of ice cream.

Outside the palace his tonsillectomy had another effect. Britain's press immediately raised the question: "Is this operation really necessary?"

With medical opinion divided on the question, the answer given by Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh may set the pattern for many more British mothers and fathers. For what the royal family does carries a great deal of weight with the average Briton.
