Modernized Mom Theme of Cards For Coming Day

By MARGARET RICHARDS United Press Staff Correspondent

Kansas City, Mo. — (U.P.) — The typical American woman who will be honored this Mother's Day swings a golf club as easily as she clicks a knitting needle. Even grandmother has exchanged her fringed shawl for a casual sports-type outfit.

With the conveniences now at her command, mother has time to play a more active role in all phases of living — including sports and civic work. This trend to streamlined and diversified living is mirrored in the new Mother's Day cards. Designers and artist have chosen both the casual approach and smart styling as the keynotes of the new greetings, says Mrs. Jeanette Lee, design director of Hallmark Cards. Art work is gay and more colorful, subjects are brighter and snappier. New Techniques

Even the truly traditional greetings reflect the trend, proving that such cards can be both sentimental and stylish. Many new techniques have been used to glamorize the greetings which will be dispatched by the millions to mothers by May 12. Flecks of gold and traces of silver, rich embossing and glittering sequins have been used to emphasize the cards' eye-appeal.

As in the past, floral designs lead in popularity, with such traditional flowers as carnations, roses, pansies, violets, tulips and Mixed bouquets and cars and baskets laden to overflowing with colorful posies — often reproduced from full-color photographs — are depicted on many of the greetings.

Mom's household "tools" — aprons, sewing implements, cutlery, etc. — also are favorite design themes. But in keeping with the glamorizing trend, such workaday articles are highly stylized.

Making their debut in the Mother's Day greeting field this year are the new "contemporary" cards, which express a warm wish for the occasion with more than the customary touch of humor. The wife who caters constantly to her husband throughout the year should be considerably amused by one new card that depicts a robe-clad dad on his cover, a tray filled with coffee pot, orange juice and the like in his hands, who proclaims, "So it's Mother's Day . . ." Inside, dad has settled down to enjoy the repast, and the copy continues, "I'll fix my own breakfast. Happy Mother's Day!"

Selfishness Has No Place In Marriage!

Patty is a beautiful bit of whistle-bait, loaded with sex appeal. Patty has wrapped every male around her finger since kindergarten — and she radiates self-confidence and self-satisfaction. Men envy Patty's husband — a quiet, self-effacing fellow. George must be the happiest guy in the world to have such a Miss America for a wife. Women envy Patty — and fear her, for long-domesticated husbands become restless when Patty joins the group. Everyone thinks Patty must be the perfect marriage partner, outside the kitchen. Everyone but George! George is unhappy, because Patty, like many people apparently loaded with beauty and sex appeal, is entirely self-centered. Her marriage, without the warmth of giving and the tenderness of sympathy, is a frost.

Self-love has no place in marriage. The man so wrapped up in his own achievements and desires that he cannot give of himself to a partner, is a dangerous marriage risk. He will remain forever the oracle which must be worshipped or the matinee idol who must be flattered reassured by attentions above and beyond the line of wifely duty. The woman so enamored of her own appearance or talents that she must receive continual

Hospital Careers To Be Emphasized At Auxiliary Tea

Career opportunities for young people in the hospital field will be emphasized in displays at the annual tea given during National Hospital Week at Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital, it was stated today by Mrs. George W.
