

Medford Attorney At Legislature

Salem — Sam B. Harbison, Medford attorney, is spending two weeks in Salem assisting legislators in drafting bills, amendments and legal opinions and serving as counsel for legislative committees.

A total of 20 attorneys are participating in the program of legal assistance to Oregon legislators sponsored by the Oregon State Bar. The attorneys are rotating with the duty and each is donating his time. The participating lawyers do not represent any special interest before the legislature, bar officials pointed out.

Phoenix, Ariz., Man Arrested by Medford Police

William Cecil Morris, 21, of Phoenix, Ariz., is in county jail today because he was a passenger in a car Wednesday which was stopped by a city police officer when it was being operated "too cautiously."

Morris is being held in county jail awaiting the arrival of a U. S. marshal on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle, according to police.

Officer Milton Hansen said he stopped the car on suspicion of traveling on Riverside ave. The car was going slowly and its operator obeying signals and rules of courtesy so well Hansen said he became suspicious.

While questioning the occupants of the car, which included another man and two 18-year-old girls, Hansen said he noticed Morris was "extremely nervous."

He then took the four into custody for further interrogation. Among their belongings police found a revolver, apparently unregistered.

Thursday in municipal court the four were sentenced to 19 days in city jail on charges of vagrancy. They are David Lee Gould, 22, his wife, Mrs. Nancy Louise Gould; Morris, and his wife, Mrs. Lyra Belle Morris. All listed their address as Phoenix, Ariz.

Thursday night a Federal Bureau of Investigation report was received by city police indicating Morris was wanted for taking a car in Los Angeles, Calif., and leaving it in Ely, Nev. He was transferred to county jail.

Water Department To Change System of Billing Tomorrow

The Medford water department will change to "cycle billing" for meter customers starting Monday and water bills will be on post card form beginning in June, according to Robert Lee, water superintendent.

The changes are part of a water department modernization program to improve administrative efficiency and lower operating costs in the department, Lee said. Eventually lower department expenses will be reflected in customer's bills, he said.

With cycle billing, the customer's bill is mailed as soon as possible after the meter is read, Lee explained. Previously, he said, bills were held and mailed on the last day of the month regardless of what day of the month the meter was read.

Advantages of the new system will be for both the water department and customer, Lee said. The water superintendent noted that the department's workload will be distributed evenly over the month instead of having it all at one time, and any unusual water consumption by a customer can be immediately detected.

About 3,700 water customers will be affected by the change. They include all commercial services, water districts, newer residences in Medford and a few customers outside the city limits, Lee said.

Because meter routes have been revised, he pointed out, some customers will receive bills this month within 10 days of last month's bill. Both will be for full-month periods, he said.
