

Gold Bullion Found Off Philippine Isle

Manila—(U.P.)—An American scientist has discovered gold bullion worth $50 million in waters off the Southern Bongaos island, the Philippine News Service reported.

The P.N.S., quoting what it termed "authoritative sources," said Prof. Horace Palmer, an American, found the sunken treasure while he was studying marine life in the seas off the island.

According to the sources, the treasure was found in a Japanese hospital ship sunk by American planes during World War II.

Supreme Court Justice Douglas Getting Itchy Feet to Travel

By A. ROBERT SMITH
Mail Tribune Correspondent

Washington—This is the time of year when Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas gets itchy feet.

One of the world's most extensive travelers, Douglas soon will be able to hang up his black robe for the summer and take off for another new adventure in some exotic corner of the globe. This spring, claims the jurist, he is sending Mrs. Douglas to Detroit before they being a 4,000-mile drive in their station wagon from Karachi to Istanbul.

Auto Maintenance
"That's so she can take a course in auto maintenance," explained Douglas, "and change a tire and the spark plugs, if necessary."

The trip will take them through southern Iran (which sounds more romantic when you call it Persia) where a young American wife from Washington state was recently kidnapped by Persian highwaymen and murdered. But Justice Douglas claims he won't relax his standard that no one carries a gun in his traveling parties.

He was reminded that the U.S. ambassador in Iran seemed to indicate that the sky was the limit of the ransom that would be paid for the safe return of the young woman. "How much do you suppose they would offer for you?" he was asked.

"I would rather not be evaluated under those circumstances," replied Douglas.

Lost Ground
Northwestern Republicans have lost a lot of ground at the polls in the last several elections, but by means of the Eisenhower administration they have gained big headway here in winning appointments to top jobs in Washington.

The appointment of ex-Rep. Harris Ellsworth of Oregon brings to six the number of federal agencies that are now headed by Republicans from Oregon, Washington or Idaho. Ellsworth is now chairman of the Civil Service commission.

Two others from Oregon are Dorothy McCullough Lee, ex-mayor of Portland, who is chairman of the Subversive Control board; and Robert O. Boyd, chairman of the National Mediation board.

Heroin Seized on Ship at San Pedro

San Pedro, Calif. — (U.P.) — An estimated $500,000 worth of heroin was seized by customs agents on the 10,500-ton Norwegian freighter Anna Bakke after an all day search Saturday. No arrests were made.

The six and one-half pounds of the pure narcotic were found in 15 waterproof packets which were secreted in a load of lumber on deck. The ship came from Hong Kong via Vancouver, B.C., Seattle and Portland.

Jury Finds Former Policeman Innocent

Nysaa, Ore. — (U.P.) — A 12-member Circuit Court jury Friday acquitted former Nysaa police officer Martin Rich of assault with a deadly weapon in connection with a shooting at a local tavern last March 10.

Rich was charged with wounding George Espinoza, 30, an itinerant farm laborer. At the time of the incident, Rich said he was attempting to arrest Espinoza after being called to the tavern to quiet a disturbance. He said the shooting took place when Espinoza grabbed the officer's gun.

RANCHER KILLED
Burns—(U.P.)—Carl Kobi, 80, Burns area cattle rancher, was killed Saturday when the tractor he was operating overturned and crushed him.

Around Hollywood

Hollywood — (U.P.) — On New York's Seventh Avenue the busy manufacturers of clothing must stop in their noon sidewalk discussions to marvel over what has happened to a member of their profession:

A cloak-and-suit maker has been in Mexico — portraying a Spanish bullfighter in a movie.

Bob Evans, 27-year-old genius in the garment business, accidentally fell into the movies and is being billed as a top discovery of the year. Handsome, dark-haired Evans, a partner in the Evan-Picone company, makers of skirts and slacks, is the only garment manufacturer which soon may be handing out autographs to film fans.

He's in two top pictures — as the late producer Irving Thalberg in "The Man with a Thousand Faces" and as a bullfighter in Ernest Hemingway's "The Sun Also Rises." In sideburns and a cravat he looks every inch a Spaniard.

Discovered Near Pool
"I first was discovered by Norma Shearer when she saw me by the swimming pool at the Beverly Hills hotel," explained Evans.

"She wanted me to play the part of her former husband, Thalberg, in a Universal-International movie."

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Correspondent

"After 'The Man with a Thousand Faces' he returned to New York and his business. But one night in El Morocco nightclub, producer Darryl F. Zanuck spotted him and asked him to play the important bullfighter role in 'The Sun Also Rises.' Producer Picks Unknown

"Zanuck hadn't seen me in the other movie and had never heard of me," continued Evans. "I decided it was fate, if I were discovered twice."

Evans now is the only actor under personal contract to Zanuck. But this celluloid success brings a suave shrug to the young man.

For one thing, he's rich enough to produce pictures himself. He has no plans to give up his secure business in New York and his partner agrees he can leave twice a year to work in pictures.

"Oh, yes, I make much more money as a manufacturer than almost any film star makes," he added. "Acting is fun. I think I'll try it for a while and see what happens."

"It's a change — the garment business is much more hectic than the movie business."

Two from Washington with positions of high authority are Jerome K. Kuykendall, chairman of the Federal Power commission, and Owen Clarke, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission. The FPC hands out licenses to utilities for dam sites and gas pipeline routes, and the ICC sets railroad freight and passenger rates.

Idaho's man is ex-Gov. Len Jordan, who is chairman of the U.S. section of the International Joint commission, which handles water disputes with Canada.

Chickens Mailed
Members of Congress and the mailmen who deliver the odd variety of things they receive get used to just about everything. A gift to Sen. Wayne Morse the other day reveals why.

It was a box of 25 chicks which chirped all the way down the corridor to the Senate office building to Morse's office, where his secretaries promptly took pity on them and let them romp out of their cage all over the office.

They were a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Gene Conklin of Pendleton, who had been house guests of the Morses and ordered them from a Midwest hatchery during their return trip home. Morse was delighted because they were a special breed which he didn't have on his nearby Maryland farm.

CHILD IN BROTHEL

Taipei, Formosa — (U.P.) — Police said today they found a 14-year-old Chinese girl supporting her 10-month-old baby and her 64-year-old mother by working as a prostitute. She said she started to work as a waitress at the age of 12 and was later hired by a brothel, which was raided Saturday night.

Jockey Adds $6,000 In TV Quiz Winnings

New York — (U.P.) — Jockey Billy Pearson ambled onto the CBS "$64,000 Challenge" television quiz Sunday night and calmly polished off two challengers to the tune of $6,000.

This 15-minute chore increased the art expert's total quiz winnings to $102,000. Previously Pearson won the top prize on "The $64,000 Question" plus $32,000 in a draw contest with challenger Vincent Price.

Pearson Sunday night defeated Mrs. Francine Gray, a newlywed farmer's wife from Warren, Conn., in the "modern art" category for $2,000 and artist Jean Varda, Sausalito, Calif., in "Renaissance art."

The $4,000 Renaissance question involved identification of four Italian Renaissance painters from their self portraits. Varda correctly identified Titian, Fra Lippi and Tintoretto, but missed out on Andrea del Sarto. Pearson got them all.

Teamsters Return at Nevada Test Grounds

Las Vegas — (U.P.) — Teamsters of Local 631 returned to their jobs at the Nevada atomic test site today, ending a threat to a series of A-tests scheduled to start this week.

Two hundred members of the union voted Sunday night to return to work after receiving assurance that their dispute with electricians over who should drive and unload pick-up trucks at the site would be worked out.

The teamsters set up picket lines Friday at the entrance of the test site, 70 miles northwest of this gambling resort, and cut off supplies of water and building materials to forward areas.

For a time, it appeared that the walkout might interfere with the Atomic Energy commission's series of nine A-tests scheduled to start Thursday.

Washington — (U.P.) — Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain is expected to visit the United States for about 10 days early in October, informed sources said Saturday.

Harry Holt to Be Honored at Banquet

Portland — (U.P.) — The Oregon Section of the National Conference of Christians and Jews this year will honor Harry Holt of Creswell, Ore., with its annual Brotherhood award.

Announcement of Holt's selection was made here Saturday by C. B. Stephenson, chairman of the 1957 Brotherhood banquet scheduled for June 3 in the Multnomah hotel.

Holt will be cited for giant rescue operation he staged in behalf of hundreds of mixed-blood Korean orphans, finding them new homes in the United States. Holt used his own funds in the operations and continued it at the peril of his health.

Banquet speaker this year will be Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press and 1957 National Brotherhood Week chairman.
