Portland — (U.P.) — It took the Portland Beavers until their 28th game to do it, but they finally got out of the PCL basement with a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

The Beavers lost the second game to the Angels 7-2 but it didn't imperil their seventh place standing as Hollywood shut out Sacramento Tuesday.

The pitchers rated most of the cheers around the Pacific Coast league Sunday as Hollywood's Stars moved into first place with a brace of fine hurling displays which set the fashion.

The tournament will take place in the morning and two trophies are at stake. The 18-hole cup has been held by the Medfordites the past year, while the nine-hole cup has been in Ashland hands. # blanked Sacramento with a two-hitter while the Stars won the opener, 3-0, Sunday to get a foot in the door. Then they showed Los Angeles out by downing the Sacs again in the nightcap, 2-0, on a six-hit job by reliable Ben Daniels.

It was Daniels' fifth triumph against no defeats. And the double blanking not only dropped the Solons into the basement behind Portland but ran their latest unless epidemic to 19 straight innings.

Bob Alexander of the Beavers helped nudge the Angels out of first place by beating them, 3-1, in their opener and limiting Los Angeles to five hits. One of them was a bases empty homer by Jim Baxes, which offset an earlier blast by Luis Marquez of Portland.

The victory also ran Portland's winning streak to three straight, its fattest of the year, but the Beavers then faded in the nightcap, 7-2.

Another dandy pitching job was turned in by southpaw Charley Rabe of Seattle, who held San Diego to one hit in the seven inning nightcap to insure the Rainiers a 4-1 win in the finale and a split. Tony Mesa of the Pads beat the veteran Larry Jansen in the first game, 3-2, with the aid of Earl Averill's two run homer in the seventh frame.

San Francisco took over third spot in the whirling standings by besting Vancouver, 6-2 in the first game. Pitcher's luck went into reverse in this one when Mel Hersh of the Mounties was smashed in the knee by a line drive off the bat of opposing pitcher Bert Thiel. Held was rushed to the hospital for examination.

The second game ran into the 6 p.m. curfew with the Seals leading, 4-2, and Vancouver coming up in its half of the sixth inning. Things won't be decided until August, the earliest date to play it off.

Marquez, Portland's big little clutch man from Puerto Rico, drove in two of the Beavers' three runs in their first game with Los Angeles. In addition to his homer, he later sent in another tally with a sharp single to drop Bob Darnell to his second loss.

A six-run Angel splurge ruined a tight ball game in the fifth inning of the windup. Two Portland errors and Tom Saffell's double helped keep the rally going and get old Red Adams his second PCL triumph.

Mourning Dove Count Will Start

The 1957 "call count" for mourning doves will be made between May 20 and June 10 in 44 states, the U.S. fish and wildlife service has reported.

The six states comprising Region I with headquarters at Portland are included among the 44. The data obtained in the call count will contribute toward determination of dove hunting seasons and bag limits. The count, which is made on over 700 route nationally, will include 145 routes in Oregon, California, Nevada, Montana, Idaho and Washington.

Game Workers
Region I Director Leo L. Laythe said most of the workers in the region will be furnished by the state game departments. Some will be volunteers and the remainder will be fish and wildlife service personnel.

The counts will be made early in the morning beginning promptly at half an hour before sunrise in each locality. This will be the eighth year the service has used the call count data in the preparation of dove hunting regulations.

In many states the mourning dove is legally declared to be a song bird and not subject to hunting, but only Montana in Region I did not allow dove hunting in 1956.

Center of Eye Being Examined

Cleveland — (U.P.) — Cleveland Indians pitcher Herb Score, guaranteed "at least peripheral side vision," may learn today whether the important center part of his right eye was damaged by a line drive last Tuesday.

"I hope to look into the area macula center eye today," Dr. Charles I. Thomas, Cleveland eye specialist, said.

"I saw the inner part of the eye next to the nose yesterday and it is uninjured," he said.

"We are sure of peripheral vision, but there is still some doubt until we see the center."
