Red Poppies To Be Worn

Bright red flowers of memory will be worn here May 24 and 25 in salute to the nation's war dead as the city observes annual Poppy day.

The flowers, artificial poppies made by disabled war veterans, will be distributed on the streets throughout those days by volunteer workers of the American Legion auxiliary.

Contributions will be received by the auxiliary for support of its rehabilitation work for disabled veterans and its child welfare activities for needy children of veterans.

"We hope everyone in the city will wear a poppy tomorrow," said Mrs. Ross Minnee, president of Medford auxiliary unit, as preparations for the Poppy day observance were being completed. "A poppy on every lapel will show that this is a city which remembers with gratitude those who gave their lives defending our free country. Wearing a poppy is a personal salute to the memory of those who died for America."

Coins which are dropped into the contribution boxes of the Poppy day workers will go into the auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare funds to help support the work we are doing constantly for disabled veterans and children of veterans. We hope that while honoring the war dead, the people of our city will give generously to help war victims still within the reach of human aid.

"The flowers to be worn here have been made by veterans at the Camp White domiciliary and are crepe paper replicas of the wild European poppies which bloomed "between the crosses, row on row," in the World War battle cemeteries in France and Belgium.

High School Girls Give Tea and Show

Cave Junction — "The Old Lady in the Shoe" was the theme for the annual mother's tea and fashion show presented Monday afternoon by girls of the Illinois Valley High school.

Jackie Williams, in the title role, recited a clever poem which introduced "her children," members of the home economics classes as models for the clothes made during the year. Also shown were small children's wear, worn by brothers and sisters of the students. Sports, school and date clothes were displayed by nearly 70 young seamstresses to the near 150 mothers who attended.

A one-act play "Paul Wrecks the Car," was presented by members of the freshman class. Included in the cast were Joyce Larson, as Mary Jones; Sandra Slack, maid; Roberta Martin, Mrs. Jones; Patricia George, Jane; Myrna Kellogg, a woman; Mike Johnson, Paul Jones, Mike Hanby, Mr. Jones; Rudy Tibbs, junior Jones; and Durand Walker, Jack. Ruth Tibbs was stage director. Another attraction for the visiting mothers was the biology and science fair, arranged by students in the science room.

Tea was served from four tables, decorated with class colors. Centerpiece for the freshman table was a moss-bordered pond and bride, flanked by yellow flowers. Sophomores executed their lavender theme with bouquets of purple and white iris, while juniors made their table charming with bouquets of blue flowers. Seniors chose a pink and white color scheme and decorated their table with the numerals '57', together with a cap and diploma.

The high school gymnasium was bright with "Paint the Town Red," decorations held over from the Junior-Senior prom.

Cookies for the occasion were baked by members of the boys' home economics class: Pat Kellogg, Jerry Hill, Ernest Neil, Byron Pickle, Wesley Rossiter, William Shaw, Pat Simington, Eldo Swift and Lon Gritman.

While the girls enjoyed their afternoon, boys proved in another way that man's work is never done. In addition to baking for the distaff side, remaining males toiled outdoors on a school grounds clean-up detail. Classes were dismissed Monday at 2 p.m. to make way for the tea.
