$10,600 Stolen in Robbery Found; Thief Shows Way

Allentown, Ga.—A financially embarrassed father led officers early Saturday to a woodland cache holding $10,600 he grabbed from the Three-County Bank in a noon holdup Friday, Sheriff George Hatcher reported.

The Wilkinson County Sheriff said George W. Heath, 35, confessed the bank robbery after hours of questioning and led officers to the hiding spot on his former farm in adjacent Laurens county.

But acquaintances said he had been in financial straits and had repeatedly tried to borrow money, according to the sheriff. Officers were able to arrest Heath within hours after the holdup because, ironically, fragments of a recently paid-off loan note was found with a $250 pack of $3 bills he dropped beside a rural road along the bandit's getaway route, Hatcher said.

Havana.—Rural guardsmen killed nine rebels and wounded four others in a pitched battle near Cuba's highest mountain in an all-out drive to root out pockets of anti-government resistance, Army Chief of Staff Francisco Tabernilla said Saturday.

Ubero was the scene of another battle Tuesday in which rebels surprised the Army garrison, killing 11 men, wounding 19 and carting off another 25 as prisoners. The government said 15 rebels were killed.

The government mapped a new extermination campaign under the personal direction of President Fulgencio Batista to crush the rebel movements. Peasants were ordered evacuated from their homes in the Sierra Maestra mountain region preparatory to an aerial bombardment that was expected to saturate the area.

AN OLD QUESTION—Democratic Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts (above) expressed his belief in a Pittsburgh speech that a Roman Catholic could be President despite the belief of some politicians that one could not. He denied any ambition to seek the Democratic White House nomination in 1960.

A redwood tree—which may be taller than the Statue of Liberty, weigh more than 2,000,000 pounds, and contain enough wood to build several houses—grows from a seed little bigger than the head of a pin. Telephone makers use tons of coal each year. The substance is ground, sifted, washed, and roasted to form carbon granules necessary for the operation of telephone transmitters.

British Post Office Starts Robot-Run Official Lottery

London.—The post office cranked up Ernie Saturday for an atomic spin of the wheel of chance to choose the first winners in Britain's new lottery savings bond program. Ernie is a machine, and an expensive one at that, but it will take him more than a day and a half from the time Postmaster General Ernest Marples pressed an ivory switch to select 23,000 winners for nearly one million pounds ($2,800,000) in prizes. No interest. Britons bought the "premium bonds" that constitute today's draw on the understanding they would draw no ordinary interest but stood to win if Ernie and Lady Luck were good to them.
