New York — Three of France's top models including one from the house of Christian Dior are in town to work play and shop for — blue jeans.

French manufacturers make jeans all right "but only copies of American ones," explained Gisele Stern, the red-haired member of a tripartite which apparently likes originals, whether by Lanvin or Levi.

Gisele acted as spokesman for the three because her English is adequate, my French is inadequate and the other two — Lucky (pronounced Looney) Janichewski and Olivia Cazeaux, speak only French.

The three came to Manhattan for a "heart of fashion heart of Paris" fashion show co-sponsored by Sabena Airlines and Cone Mills, textile manufacturers. They are staying in for a few days to sightsee, take on any other modeling jobs they can find, and shop not only for blue jeans but for luggage, summer cottons and nylon lingerie.

"I need badly a millionaire to go along," said Lucky, with Gisele translating. The models explained they could bring very little money into the United States.

The three are shorties compared with American fashion models, who usually are five feet seven inches and taller. And all have minute waists — none measuring over 19 inches. Lucky added the pay rate is lower back home. The three decided they have not had time to reach any conclusions about American men, and only a few about American women.

"Here, every woman is wearing mink," said Gisele, "and big hats in the morning, like a garden party."

"American women's legs are very beautiful," said Olivia. "Formidable!" said Lucky.

Harder Work
The three said modeling in the United States is harder work than in Paris, "where we do nothing for ourselves, except put on our makeup."

Daughter Born To Margaret Truman

New York — Mrs. Margaret Truman Daniel, daughter of former President Truman, gave birth today to her first child — a 6-pound, 8-ounce boy.

Mrs. Daniel, the wife of E. Clifton Daniel, Jr., a member of the news staff of The New York Times, and her baby were reported "doing fine" at Doctors' hospital.

The couple was married April 21, 1956, in Independence, Mo., where Mrs. Daniel's parents live. They have resided in New York since their marriage.

Truman and his wife were to leave Kansas City this morning by train for New York.

Fashion says bare your back to the sun—and resort cottons go along with fashion. Claire McCardell anticipates summer beach excitements and designs the halter bareback with a button-down shirtwaist front and a wide belt. She uses the same top for a window-pane checked gingham beach dress and a companion playsuit with little girl bloomers.

On The Side

Have you written your Congressman lately? If you have knowledge of something you think your representative should know don't fail to write him. Did you know that the investigation of the Teapot Dome oil situation was started by a Wyoming citizen who wrote to his Senator about it?

Asking
Queries from clients. Q. Didn't Irvin Cobb on first viewing the Grand Canyon say it would be "a good place to throw old razor blades?" A. No sir. I don't know who made the crack about the razor blades but what Irvin Cobb exclaimed was "Golly what a gully!" Q. A new song is titled "I'm from Sioux Falls." It is about that place in South Dakota. Wasn't there a popular song about Sioux City, Ia.? A. About 10 years ago Dick Thomas wrote a hit song titled "Sioux City Sue."

Please Note
In 1932, 25 years ago, the 10 best box office film stars were: 1. Marie Dressler, 2. Janet Gaynor, 3. Jean Crawford, 4. Charles Farrell, 5. Greta Garbo, 6. Will Rogers, 7. Norma Shearer, 8. Wallace Beery, 9. Clark Gable, 10. Joe E. Brown. Eddie Cantor was 13th in the standing that year. Marlene Dietrich was 19th. Barbara Stanwyck was 22nd on the list.

Asides
Bartenders are agreed that women drinkers are sloppier than men. The female barflies spill more drinks. Besides they leave lipstick on the glasses and when they make up, they cover the bar with face powder. . . . Who originated the term "Blue Monday?" Are you blue on Monday? I never am. I like Monday. I usually feel blue on Sunday.

Bronco Billy
The first great Western film or "horse opera" star was "Bronco Billy" Anderson. He was originally a vaudeville actor and his real name was Max Aronson. Although he appeared in about 400 Western films, "Bronco Billy" feared horses and has a strong dislike for them. He never rode a horse until he became a film actor. He never rode one after he gave up acting.

Breakfast
Ice cream for breakfast is being suggested for the summer season. Only person I ever knew to have that dish regularly for his morning meal was "Bojangles" Robinson, the dancer. The favorite breakfast of "Bojangles" was three dishes of vanilla ice cream and a dozen hot biscuits.

Housework
As to the time it should take a woman to do her daily housework, a domestic efficiency expert says it should be figured on basis of half an hour for each room, plus one hour for each small child. Thus, if a woman has a six-room house and two small children, her housework should be done in five hours. If she has an eight room house and three small children, her housework should be completed in seven hours.

Sidelights
Pisces women have one track minds, no sense of humor and lack style sense. Or, so says a feminine subscriber of Chicago who was born under the sign of Libra. . . . Arthur Brisbane be-

The Family Council

Editors note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. T. M.—Ellen's beauty has gone to her head.

Ellen M.—I'm a hard-headed cooky.

Mrs. T. M.—Our daughter Ellen is 17 and a beauty. Wherever she goes everyone turns to look at her and admire her. Everyone says she should be a model or an actress.

We are afraid all this has gone to her head. She insists we buy her expensive clothes, which she knows very well we can't afford. She says she must be seen looking right at all times because a talent scout may be around. She won't look at any of the neighborhood boys, but recently started dating a much older man who owns a big business in our community.

Her dating this man has caused a lot of talk. I'm afraid of her getting into trouble or running off and marrying this man without even completing high school. She won't listen to her father or me. We don't know what to do with her.

Ellen M.—My parents take me for an idiot. They don't seem to realize that I'm a pretty hard-headed cooky and I know what I'm about.

I wouldn't dream of getting into trouble with this older man or of marrying him. The way I see it, I've got a big future ahead and I'm not getting myself tied up until I'm good and ready to.

This older man takes me out to swell places and that's where I want to be seen. He treats me like a lady, too, which is more than can be said of the jerks in the neighborhood. When I'm out with him, I feel like a movie queen already.

My parents keep harping about my finishing my education, but I don't need to know that stuff. They won't complain about the money they spent on my clothes either—when I support them in a Beverly Hills mansion.

The Council — Ellen's good looks and the admiration it excites have indeed "gone to her
