

Cal, Texas Round Out NCAA Field

Omaha, Neb.—The eight-team field which will scrap for the national collegiate baseball championship in the double elimination tournament opening here Saturday was completed today with the addition of Texas and California.

The Longhorns, the only team to win the college world series twice, earned a chance Tuesday to try for their third title by smacking Arizona, 7-1, at Austin, Tex. California's Golden Bears qualified by rebounding from a first-game defeat in a doubleheader with Pepperdine by dumping the Waves, 10-3, in the showdown of the best of three series at Berkeley, Calif., Tuesday.

Texas will play Connecticut and Penn State will meet Florida State in the afternoon games of the opening round program Saturday. California will face Colorado State college and Iowa State will play Notre Dame.

Berkeley, Calif. — The University of California Bears won their way into the "world series" of collegiate baseball Tuesday by lambasting Pepperdine college, 10-3, in the deciding game of the district 8 NCAA playoff.

The California nine won the first game of the best-of-three series by a score of 4-2 Monday but Pepperdine forced the series to the limit by grabbing the first game of Tuesday's doubleheader by a 10-6 score.

The victory gave California the final open spot in the NCAA

Studs Clobber Yreka In Non-Loop Scuffle

For the second contest in succession the Medford Cheney Studs baseball club came up with some heavy hitting, fine pitching and tight fielding. And it earned them a top-sided 16 to 1 win over the Yreka, Calif., in a non-league game at the fairgrounds park here last night.

In the hitting department the Studs whacked 16 safeties off three Indian choppers with Ron Owings and Don Vannice getting three singles apiece and Larry Perkins and Jack Cooney each two. Vannice went the route on the hill for the Studs, holding Yreka to six hits and encountering serious trouble only in one inning. He chalked up 12 strikeouts and issued only one base on balls.

The lone run for the Californians came in the fifth inning on Cluck Barry's high fly homer over the left field barrier. Louie Fasoletti followed with an infield hit and Vannice gave a free pass to Bob Evans. But the Studs ended the threat with a double play on Carlton Allen's ground ball. Shortstop Owings to Second Baseman Perkins to First Baseman Cooney.

Nine Walks Help
Along with striking out Studs 10 times Indiana tossers also yielded nine walks and the Cheney nine used most of the passes in their run making.

Starting Pitcher Allen walked the first three Medford batters he faced, Cooney and Owings got hits and a wild pitch and ror helped out as the Studs got four runs. Another marker came in the third canto on safeties by Cooney and Gordon Owsley and a fielder's choice rap by Eldon Francis. For three runs in the fifth, the Studs drew two walks and Francis, Vannice and Perkins slapped singles.

Frank Rector, home from Portland university, got his chance to enter the Medford lineup when Umpire Leonard Warren ejected Leftfielder Charlie Michelson on a beef after Warren had called him out on a close play at third base. Rector in the sixth inning hit the first pitch to him for a triple into deep right field. The Studs also got a single by Owings in the frame. Two bases on balls, two errors, a fielder's option and a stolen base by Owings figured in the making of five runs.

Owings Triples
A single counter went up for the Studs in the seventh inning when Owings three-baggered and Dennis King doubled to back. A safety by Perkins, two bases on balls, a wild pitch, a fielder's choice and an error were factors in two eight inning scores.

Jim Kutzer hit two doubles for Yreka in four times up against Vannice. On the second swing Centerfielder John Kovenz, Shortstop Owings and Third Baseman Owsley hooked up on the relay and Kutzer was out. At trying to stretch his hit for a triple. Barry also hit two for four, bouncing a double over the fence.

Vannice got his hits in four official turns at bat and Owings his in five. Cooney had three turns and Perkins five.

The Studs go to Cave Junction on Sunday for a Rogue Valley league scrap.

Last night's game was the home opener for Medford. Only a few cars took advantage of the new drive-in facilities. Several cars left when it was found that a charge for admission was made.

Hurley Signs Patterson

Seattle—Promoter Jack Hurley today announced the signing of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson to make his second defense of the title at Seattle during the first week in September.

Hurley, who is flying back to Seattle today from New York, said the site, opponent and exact date will be announced in about 10 days.

He emphasized that the second defense is contingent upon young Patterson's keeping his title in his first defense against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson at the Polo Grounds July 29.

The veteran Seattle manager and promoter said "I hope to stage the fight at the University of Washington football stadium which seats 55,000 for a game and could accommodate 60,000 for a fight. It would be the first heavyweight championship bout ever staged in the Northwest, and would draw a tremendous crowd and gate."

Bobo Olson Eyes Pastrano Fight

Portland — Bobo Olson, the former middleweight champion who meets Joe Maxim in a comeback fight here June 18, hopes to land an outdoor fight here later with Willie Pastrano, the New Orleans heavyweight.

It all depends upon how Olson looks against Maxim. Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, said such a fight "would fill" Multnomah stadium.

Flaherty said that Olson had looked sharp in recent workouts. "All in all I rate him twice the fighter he was when he last met Sugar Ray Robinson." Olson will weigh about 180 pounds against Maxim.

NEGRAY TRANSFERRED
Los Angeles — Pitcher Ron Negray, farmed out to the Los Angeles Angels by the Brooklyn Dodgers early this season, packed his bags again today. He has been transferred to St. Paul of the American Association to make room on the Los Angeles roster for outfielder Tom Saffell.

BOYD, CASTELLANI SLATED in a 10-round middleweight bout at Chicago Stadium, June 26. The fight will be televised nationally.
