Variety of Dips, Dunks and Dippers Key to Success of Teen-Age Parties

We asked a group of teenagers busy planning graduation parties what they thought was the most important food to be served on such an occasion. The unanimous answer was, "Plenty of dips, dunks and a variety of things to dip with. A good punch and/or lots of bottled soft drinks, dependent on how formal the party is."

With this in mind we did a bit more research and would like to share some of the results with you.

Complimentary Dips, Dippers Create Flavor Combinations

Instead of relying exclusively on crackers and potato chips for dipping, these recipes were developed to feature dippers to complement each dip. True most of them take well to crackers and potato chips too, but the suggested dippers will add glamour and flavor interest your guests will long remember.

Cloud White Lemon Dip

Celery stalks cut in easily handled pieces, cherry tomatoes with blossom end left on, and cauliflowerettes are delightful with this Keep vegetables well chilled.

2 cups sour cream
3 tablespoons horseradish
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

1/4 cup finely chopped celery
Pinch of salt

Combine all ingredients and mix well.

Orange Avocado Dip

The dippers in this case are orange wedges. Slice unpeeled oranges into cartwheel shapes, cut each slice into wedge-shaped pieces and arrange on bed of crushed ice or on large platter with bowl of mix in center. The bite size wedges are just right for eating without dripping.

2 ripe avocados
1 tablespoon grated onion
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/3 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon fresh chili powder
Cayenne pepper to taste
4 slices bacon

Mash avocado and combine with onion, lemon juice, mayonnaise, salt, chili powder, cayenne pepper and bacon that has been fried crisp and crumbled. Pile into attractive bowl; surround with orange slices.

Artichoke Hollandaise Dip

Artichokes, easy to prepare, delicious to eat, will add variety to any party. To prepare artichokes for dipping, trim stems leaving one-half inch. Remove outside lower leaves. Cut off thorny leaf tips. The leaves to keep in shape. Boil 35 to 50 minutes or until heart is tender when pierced with a fork.

1/2 cup butter
6 egg yolks, beaten slightly
2/4 cup hot water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
Dash cayenne pepper

Melt butter in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Stir hot water into slightly beaten egg yolks. Gradually stir into melted butter. Cook until mixture begins to thicken. Remove from heat and add a few grains of cayenne pepper, salt and lemon juice gradually. If sauce starts to curdle, beat vigorously with rotary beater until smooth and creamy. Makes approximately two cups sauce.

Lemonated Sugar

A tasty sweet coating that is ideal for dipping luscious strawberries, tangy orange wedges, or other desired fruits. Mix four tablespoons coarsely granulated sugar. Mix thoroughly and let stand for oil to be absorbed by the sugar.

Graduation Party Punch
This fresh fruit punch is easy to make and will be enjoyed for its pungent refreshing flavor. Garnish prettily with fresh strawberries, lemon and/or orange wedges. Makes approximately enough to fill 50 punch cups.

2 cups (1 pound) sugar
8 cups water
4 cups fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons grated lemon peel
8 cups fresh orange juice
2 quarts sparkling water

Lemon, orange, strawberry garnish.

Make syrup by boiling sugar and water together for about five minutes. Cool. Add fruit juices and grated peel. Just before serving pour over ice in punch bowl and add the sparkling water. Garnish with fresh fruits.

Note: To carry out school colors or other color motif, make ice cubes colored appropriately with pure vegetable food coloring.

Famed Party Sandwich

When several people are party-planning, some one is sure to ask, "Does anyone know how to make one of those sandwich loaf things?" Now you'll know if you clip this out and have it handy. Figure a loaf for each 10 servings.

Trim crust from day-old loaf unsliced bread. Cut lengthwise into four even slices. Spread first slice with Ham Filling, second with Liver Filling, third with Tongue Filling. Place one on top of the other and top with remaining bread slice.

Ham Filling. Combine and mix thoroughly one small can ham spread, two tablespoons chopped stuffed olives, one-half teaspoon prepared mustard and one tablespoon mayonnaise.

Liver Filling. Combine one small can liver paste, one-half teaspoon minced onion one tablespoon mayonnaise and one chopped hard cooked egg.

Tongue Filling. Combine one small can tongue spread, two tablespoons chopped pickle and one tablespoon mayonnaise.

Sandwich Frosting. Cream four three-ounce packages of cream and/or sherbet. If you one-half cup light cream, blending until spreading consistency. Frost top and sides of loaf. Decorate in flower designs with green pepper, radish slices, pimiento and/or ripe olive slices.

School Parties

If it's a "school" party, see if you can find ice creams and/or sherbets in the school colors. Then at dessert-time set out a big bowl of generous scoops of ice cream and/or sherbet. If you have a freezer it is a good idea to scoop ice cream out early in the day and put on a wax paper covered tray and put in the freezer to harden. Then at service time you just scoot a spatula under each, a flick of the wrist, and you're through in practically no time. You'll need about 1 1/2 quarts for eight eaters. Arrange a lazy suzan or pass a tray of assorted toppings such as drained canned crushed pineapple, canned sundae toppings, chopped nuts, chocolate syrup, molasses, sweetened instant cocoa powder, maraschino cherries and their juice, or what ever else you can think of. Let the guests take over, each producing their own super sundae creation. This is always a success.

Hi-Fi Brownies Go With Platter Chatter

It's a party whenever two or more young people get together to listen to records, whether its for rock 'n roll or Rachmaninoff served up on the platter. As long as there are boys around any girls knows that its "real ready" to have a platter of substantial cookies to go the rounds. Like these brownies, for instance.

For moist chewy brownies,

bake about 25 minutes; for cake-like brownies, bake 30 minutes or so.

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/3 cup butter or other shortening
2/3 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup sugar
1 cup broken walnut meats
1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 350 degrees, moderate. Grease 8 x 8-inch pan. Melt chocolate and butter over hot water. Sift some flour onto waxed paper, measure the required two-third cup of it and add salt and baking powder; sift together. Beat eggs in bowl, add sugar gradually, beating well. Add chocolate mixture and blend. Add flour and stir thoroughly; stir in nuts and vanilla. Spread in pan and bake 25 to 30 minutes as indicated above. Let cool in pan; cut in squares.

Silver dollars are rare in most of the US but still are found in western states such as Nevada and Montana.

Graham Tells How Appointment Kept; Garden Searched

New York — Billy Graham told 18,000 persons how they could keep their "appointments with God and be saved" Wednesday night. Only three hours before police had combed Madison Square Garden for what they feared a bomb planted to explode during the sermon.

The audience was unaware that 25 policemen had searched the Garden for a possible bomb after a janitor found a note in the lobby that said in part "A lot of people will be killed."

Didn't Just Happen
Graham said that the woman at the well in Samaria (John 4:1) did not "just happen to be there and Christ did not just happen to pass through Samaria—He didn't have to go through Samaria because He was a Jew and the Jews and Samaritans hated one another.

"He went to Samaria to save that woman. It's the same here tonight. You didn't have to come here but you had a divine appointment with God. Every time I stand here I know someone is here by God's appointment."

Following the North Carolina Baptist minister's plea to his listeners to keep their "appointments with God," 622 persons recorded "decisions for Christ," bringing Graham's New York Crusade total in 22 days to 12,684. More than 392,500 persons have attended his sermons.

Small Device Could Quickly Alert People To Approaching Storm

Kansas City, Mo. — The South west's unprecedented string of tornadoes has spurred work on a tiny device which could alert 95 per cent of American homes in seconds and be used for civil defense as well as storm warnings.

Dr. Charles N. Kimball, head of the Midwest Research Institute which has been developing the device for 18 months, says it should be ready for the mass market in about two years.

Public Warned Of Exaggerated Vitamin Claims

Housewives and consumers in the Medford area should be warned to beware of exaggerated claims of house-to-house vitamin salesmen and "health food lecturers," according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Particularly, consumers should discount any suggestion that these food supplements can be relied on as treatments for conditions requiring medical attention, Kenneth E. Monfore, chief of the Seattle district of the administration, stated.

Not Against Sales

The Food and Drug Administration is not against the sale of vitamins, whether house-to-house or by other channels he said, but there is a real danger that the free-wheeling kind of salesmanship may persuade people to put off going to a doctor while they try some vitamin and mineral combination.

Too many of these agents are using a "scare technique" based on the false idea that our modern food supply cannot be relied on to furnish all the nutritional elements required by the human body, according to Monfore. The fact is that the American food supply is the most complete and nutritious in the world, and the American people have to go out of their way, nutritionally speaking, to avoid getting ample amounts of vitamins and minerals, he declared.

Law Violation

The courts have held that misleading promotion of food supplements, violated federal law. Oral statements, as well as printed matter, are covered. Two operators in this field have recently been convicted and sentenced to prison terms. Cases involving individual sales agents are under investigation in different parts of the country.

The Council

The Council: Bernice's reasonable argument that Ina needs a mother in her life at this time becomes cancelled out by her subsequent statements. In her she shows enough selfishness and lack of objectivity to disqualify her for the job.

She "accuses" Grant of wanting to get married again—something he has every right to do. It would be a very good idea for him to set up a new home with a wife and Ina. If he feels that Bernice would "get in his way" in his search for a new mate, he should most certainly get out of

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Grant K. — My daughter and I want a place of our own.

Bernice M. — He can't be a mother and father to her.

Grant K. — My wife recently died after having been an invalid for many years. When she first took sick, we went to live with my sister-in-law, Bernice, and her husband, Bernice took care of my wife and practically raised my daughter.

Well, now that my wife is gone, I've been feeling I'd like to have a place of my own with my daughter. Ina is now 17. She knows a thing or two about housekeeping and says she'd love to have our own place. It's not that we don't love Bernice and appreciate all that she's done for us, it's just that we'd like a change of environment.

Bernice was furious when I suggested the idea. She takes the whole thing as an insult and says it would not be "right" for Ina. Of course I don't want to do the wrong thing by my daughter, but I'm not sure Bernice knows what's best.

Bernice M. — I have been a mother to Ina and I don't want her taken away at the time she is likely to need me most. A girl of Ina's age needs an older woman with whom she can talk over her problems. Grant thinks he can be both a mother and father to the girl, but things don't work that way.

I know what's really in back of Grant's mind. He would like to get married again and doesn't want me around getting in his way. Then he would set up a new home with his wife and Ina. When I accused him of this, he just laughed and told me not to be ridiculous, but I know it's true. He's very selfish.

My husband and I have a little boy and we had always thought of Ina as our daughter. We don't want her taken away from us. We wouldn't mind if Grant left by himself, but Ina says she wants to be with her father.

her household.

If this is selfishness on Grant's part, it is certainly a more justifiable brand of the stuff than Bernice's. Because Bernice is afraid to have Ina taken from her, she would deprive Grant indefinitely of a wife and a home to call his own. She is also ready to separate this father and daughter, if she can, despite their expressed desire to remain together.

Bernice's desire to consider Ina a daughter is understandable, but she should realize that she risks losing all Ina's love and respect by overstepping her rights as an aunt.
